Language Planning From Practice To Theory:

Language Planning from Practice to Theory Robert B. Kaplan, Richard B. Baldauf, 1997-01-01 Language Planning from Practice to Theory examines and reviews the field of language policy and planning In the first section of the book language policy and planning definitions current practices goals and ways of thinking are discussed as a foundation for understanding current practice in the discipline The central elements of language policy and planning practice are then described from two perspectives In the second section the methodology for collecting language planning data is outlined and the key cross societal issues of language in education planning literacy and economics in language planning are discussed In the third section case studies related to language and power bilingualism and status and specific purpose issues in language planning are covered The final two chapters draw together the critical issues and problems which have arisen from current practice and which must be considered in building a theory of the discipline A reference appendix to language planning in national situations is included The book provides the only up to date overview and review of the field of language policy and planning and challenges language planners to think more critically about their discipline Since language will be planned there is a need to consider how it will be done

Language Planning and Policy Anthony Liddicoat, Richard B. Baldauf, 2008 Language problems potentially exist at all levels of human activity including the local contexts of communities institutions This volume explores the ways in which language planning works as a local activity in a wide variety of contexts around the world deals with a wide range of language planning issues Language Planning and Policy in Asia: Japan, Nepal, Taiwan and Chinese characters Robert B. Kaplan, Richard B. Baldauf, 2008 This volume covers the language situation in Japan Nepal and Taiwan as well as the modernisation of Chinese Characters in China explaining the linguistic diversity the historical and political contexts and the current language situation including language in education planning the role of the media the role of religion and the roles of non indigenous languages Two of the authors are indigenous and the other two have been participants in the language planning context Paradigm Shift in Language Planning and Policy Ettien Koffi, 2012-01-27 The book proposes a paradigm shift in language planning and language policy in Africa For the past fifty years the dominant model has been the hegemonic model whereby a language of wider communication LWC is imposed on minority languages It is now time for a paradigm shift in favor of a more egalitarian model in which all the languages spoken in the same country irrespective of their size are planned The paradigm shift concerns four critical areas status planning cost benefit planning acquisition planning and corpus planning Such a shift is justified for the following reasons First the hegemonic model has a dismal track record of success in Africa and elsewhere Second the hegemonic model exacerbates linguistic conflicts in many countries Consequently policy makers shun it for fear of jeopardizing the fragile social fabric in their respective countries Last a shift away from the hegemonic model is recommended because it is too costly to implement The democratic model is undergirded by the Strategic Game Theory proposed by David Laitin It forecasts a 3 1 language outcome for most African countries This outcome supports the three language formula now called for by the United Nations Development Program UNDP Honoring Richard Ruiz and his Work on Language Planning and Bilingual Education Nancy H. Hornberger, 2016-11-21 Richard Ruiz has inspired generations of scholars in language planning and multilingual education with his unique orientations to language as a problem a right and a resource This volume attests to the far reaching impact of his thinking and teaching bringing together a selection of his published and unpublished writings on language planning orientations bilingual and language minority education language threat and endangerment voice and empowerment and even language fun accompanied by contributions from colleagues and former students reflecting and expanding on Ruiz ground breaking work This book will be of great interest to both undergraduate and postgraduate students in language planning and multilingual education Indigenous and minority education as well as to junior and senior researchers in those fields Language Planning and Policy Ashraf Abdelhay, Sifre Makoni, Cristine Severo, 2020-02-13 Language policy is heterogeneous and varies according to its object levels of intervention purpose participants and institutions involved underlying language ideologies local contexts power relations and historical contexts This volume offers unique cross cultural perspectives on language planning and policy in diverse African and Middle Eastern contexts including South Africa Bahrain Sudan Saudi Arabia Morocco Zambia and Algeria The African diaspora is also considered as is the case of Brazil By bringing together diverse contexts in Africa and the Middle East this volume encourages a dialogue in the burgeoning scholarship on language policies in different regions of Africa and the Middle East in order to inspect the intersection between language policy discourses and their social political and educational functions Language Planning in Africa Nkonko

Kamwangamalu, Richard Baldauf Jr., Robert Kaplan, 2016-04-08 This volume focuses on language planning in the Cameroon Sudan and Zimbabwe explaining the linguistic diversity historical and political contexts current language situation including language in education planning the role of the media the role of religion and the roles of non indigenous languages The authors are indigenous to the situations described and draw on their experience and extensive fieldwork there The extended case studies contained in this volume draw together the literature on each of the polities to present an overview of the existing research available while also providing new research based information The purpose of this volume is to provide an up to date overview of the language situation in each polity based on a series of key questions in the hope that this might facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities where similar issues may arise This book comprises case studies originally published in the journal Current Issues in Language Planning Language Planning in the Asia Pacific Robert Kaplan, Richard Baldauf, 2013-12-16 This volume covers the language situation in Hong Kong Timor Leste and Sri Lanka explaining the linguistic diversity the historical and political contexts and the current language situation including language in education planning the role of the media the role of religion and the roles of non indigenous languages Two of the authors are indigenous to the situations described while the other has undertaken extensive field work and consulting there The three monographs contained in this volume draw together the literature on each of the polities to present an overview of the research available about each of them while providing new research based information The purpose of the volume is to provide an up to date overview of the language situation in each polity based on a series of key questions in the hope that this might facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities where similar issues may arise This book was published as special issues of Current Issues in Language Planning Language Planning in Primary Schools in Asia Richard Baldauf, Robert Kaplan, Nkonko

Kamwangamalu, Pauline Bryant, 2013-09-13 In foreign language education decisions must be taken on what languages to teach who will teach them in which schools i e all only urban only rural in which grades the number of hours a week and the cost involved This book explores the answers to these questions across a number of Asian polities It illustrates why some of the efforts undertaken are successful and why some are not why despite significant investments of time and resources some students do not seem to acquire the languages being taught and why some teachers responsible for instruction in the designated foreign languages have problems achieving fluency in the designated language or have other language teaching difficulties. It suggests some strategies various polities might attempt to achieve their stated language learning objectives. This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning Language Planning for Medium of Instruction in Asia M. Hamid, Hoa Nguyen, Richard Baldauf, 2015-10-16. This volume investigates the policy and practice of medium of instruction at different levels of education in Asian polities including Bangladesh, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, the Maldives, Nepal, Timor Leste, and Vietnam. The chapters provide an informed understanding of the context, process, actors, goals, and outcomes of medium of instruction policies from a language policy and planning perspective. The volume has an emphasis on the exploration of medium of instruction in action, which brings into focus the perspectives of micro-policy enactors including teachers, students, and parents in the local context, generating crucial empirical insights. This critical analysis of the goals, outcomes, and experiences of this trend in global language in education will be of interest to language and education students, researchers, practicing teachers, executives in academia, and language studies, and to education policymaking authorities in Asia and other parts of the world. The volume updates existing research on medium of instruction and takes the field forward in a fast-changing world as English medium instruction policies are globalised. This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning Language Planning in Nepal, Taiwan, and Sweden Richard B. Baldauf, Robert B. Kaplan, 2000. This volume covers the language situation in Nepal, Taiwan, and Sweden, explaining the minority language situation, the linguistic diversity, the historical and political contexts, and the current language situation, including language in education, planning, the role of the media, the role of religion, and the roles of non-indigenous languages, especially English. The authors have had long-term involvement in the language planning context. Language Planning and Policy in the Pacific Richard B. Baldauf, Robert B. Kaplan, 2006. This volume covers the language situation in Fiji, The Philippines, and Vanuatu, explaining the linguistic diversity, the historical and political contexts, and the current language situation, including language in education, planning, the role of the media, the role of religion, and the roles of non-indigenous languages. The authors are indigenous and/or have been participants in the language planning context. Directions in Applied Linguistics Paul Bruthiaux, 2005. The essays and research papers in this collection explore current issues in Language Education, English for Academic Purposes, Contrastive Discourse Analysis, and Language Policy and Planning, and outline promising directions for theory and practice in applied linguistics. The collection also honours the life-long contribution of Robert B. Kaplan to the field. Fachsprachen Lothar Hoffmann, Hartwig Kalverkämper, Herbert Ernst Wiegand, 1998. Die Stärken der Fachsprachenforschung lagen bisher in der sorgfältigen quantitativen und qualitativen Analyse umfangreicher Materialkorpora sowie in den zahlreichen Versuchen, neue linguistische Theorien und Methoden auf ihren spezifischen Untersuchungsgegenstand anzuwenden. Kritik ist daran geblieben.
