Asian Translation Traditions Eva Tsoi Hung Hung, Judy Wakabayashi, 2014-07-16 Translation Studies one of the fastest developing fields in the humanities since the early 1980s has so far been Euro centric both in its theoretical explorations and in its historical grounding One of the major reasons for this is the unavailability of reliable data and systematic analysis of translation activities in non European cultures While a number of scholars in the Western tradition of translation studies have become increasingly aware of this bias and its problems practically indicates that the burden of addressing such deficiencies and imbalances should be on the shoulders of scholars who are conversant with the non Western translation traditions and capable of engaging in much needed basic research This book brings together eleven scholars with expertise in different Asian translation traditions who highlight language and cultural environments as well as perceptions and modes of operation often different from those in the Western tradition Their contributions enhance our understanding of the various elements that influence the transfer of knowledge across cultures and provide invaluable data for the study of translation as a force for cultural development and cultural planning Contributors include Eva Hung Judy Wakabayashi Lawrence Wong Yoshihiro Osawa Teresa Hyun Keith Taylor Rita Kothari Doris Jedamski Raniela Barbaza and Bill Cummings

Nominalization in Asian Languages Foong Ha Yap, Karen Grunow-Hårsta, Janick Wrona, 2011-06-29 Research on nominalization a process that gives rise to referring expressions has always played a central role in linguistic investigations Over the years there has also been growing evidence that nominalization constructions often extend to non referential domains They participate in noun modifying expressions e g genitive and relative clauses subordinate clauses and topic constructions finite structures with the nominalizers reanalyzed as TAM markers and stance constructions with evaluative attitudinal evidential and epistemic overtones This volume brings together historical and crosslinguistic evidence from more than 20 different languages representing six different language families spanning the Asian continent and the Pacific and Indian oceans to elucidate the strategies and grammaticalization pathways that give rise to both referential and non referential uses of nominalization constructions This collection highlights the diversity of strategies and at the same time the robust cyclical nature of change within and across languages The combined diachronic and typological analyses in this volume are particularly valuable for linguistic research on diachronic morphosyntax and linguistic universals and are also an important supplementary cross referencing tool for linguistic investigations of versatile and ubiquitous morphemes in under documented languages

Language Ideologies and L2 Speaker Legitimacy Jae DiBello Takeuchi, 2023-03-27 This book examines dilemmas faced by second language L2 Japanese speakers as a result of persistent challenges to their legitimacy as speakers of Japanese Based on an ethnographic interview study with L2 Japanese speakers and their L1 Japanese speaking friends co workers and significant others the book examines ideologies linked to three core speech styles of Japanese keigo or polite language gendered language and regional dialects to show how such ideologies impact L2 Japanese speakers The author demonstrates that speaker legitimacy is often tenuous for L2 speakers and argues that despite increasing numbers of Japanese speaking foreign residents in Japan native speaker bias remains a persistent issue for L2 Japanese speakers living and working in Japan This book extends the discussion of native speaker bias beyond educational contexts and in the process reveals tensions between how L2 speakers aspire to speak and how L1 speakers expect them to speak

The Syntax of Yes and No Anders Holmberg, 2016 This book is a cross linguistic study of the syntax of yes no questions and their answers drawing on data from a wide range of languages with particular focus on English Finnish Swedish Thai and Chinese There are broadly two types of answer to yes no questions those that employ particles such as yes and no as found in English and those that echo a part of the question usually the finite verb with or without negation as found in Finnish The latter are uncontroversially derived by ellipsis while the former have been claimed to be clause substitutes Anders Holmberg argues instead that even answers that employ particles are complete sentences derived by ellipsis from full sentential expressions and that the two types share essential syntactic properties The book also examines the related cross linguistic and intralinguistic variation observed in answers to negative questions such as does he not drink coffee whereby yes in one language appears to correspond to no in another The book illustrates how a seemingly trivial phenomenon can have the most wide ranging consequences for theories of language and will be of interest not only to theoretical linguists but also to students and scholars of typological and descriptive linguistics
