Fishman, Ofelia García, Oxford University Press, 2010 This volume presents a comprehensive introduction to the connection between language and ethnicity Multilingualism, Cultural Identity, and Education in Morocco Moha Ennaji, 2005-12-05 In this book I attempt to show how colonial and postcolonial political forces have endeavoured to reconstruct the national identity of Morocco on the basis of cultural representations and ideological constructions closely related to nationalist and ethnolinguistic trends I discuss how the issue of language is at the centre of the current cultural and political debates in Morocco The present book is an investigation of the ramifications of multilingualism for language choice patterns and attitudes among Moroccans More importantly the book assesses the roles played by linguistic and cultural factors in the development and evolution of Moroccan society It also focuses on the impact of multilingualism on cultural authenticity and national identity Having been involved in research on language and culture for many years I am particularly interested in linguistic and cultural assimilation or alienation and under what conditions it takes place especially today that more and more Moroccans speak French and are influenced by Western social behaviour more than ever before In the process I provide the reader with an updated description of the different facets of language use language maintenance and shift and language attitudes focusing on the linguistic situation whose analysis is often blurred by emotional reactions ideological discourses political biases simplistic assessments and ethnolinguistic identities

Language and Identity in the Arab World Fathiya Al Rashdi, Sandhya Rao Mehta, 2022-09-05 Language and Identity in the Arab World explores the inextricable link between language and identity referring particularly to the Arab world Spanning Indonesia to the United States the Arab world is here imagined as a continually changing one with the Arab diaspora asserting its linguistic identity across the world Crucial questions on transforming linguistic landscapes the role and implications of migration and the impact of technology on language use are explored by established and emerging scholars in the field of applied and socio linguistics The book asks such crucial questions as how language contact affects or transforms identity how language reflects changing identities among migrant communities and how language choices contribute to identity construction in social media As well as appreciating the breadth and scope of the Arab world this anthology focuses on the transformative role of language within indigenous and migrant communities as they negotiate between their heritage languages and those spoken by the wider society Investigating the ways in which identity continues to be imagined and re constructed in and among Arab communities this book is indispensable to students teachers and anyone who is interested in language contact linguistic landscapes and minority language retention as well as the intersections of language and technology
