Language contact the linguistic and social outcomes of two or more languages coming into contact with each other has been pervasive in human history However where histories of language contact are comparable experiences of migrant populations have been only similar not identical Given this how does language contact work With contributions from an international team of scholars this Handbook the first in a two volume set delves into this question from multiple perspectives and provides state of the art research on population movement and language contact and change It begins with an overview of how language contact as a research area has evolved since the late 19th century The chapters then cover various processes and theoretical issues associated with population movement and language contact worldwide It is essential reading for anybody interested in the dynamics of social interactions in diverse contact settings and how the changing ecologies influence the linguistic outcomes Global and local perspectives on language contact Katrin Pfadenhauer, Sofia Rüdiger, Valentina Serreli, 2024-01-30 This edited volume pays tribute to traditional and innovative language contact research bringing together contributors with expertise on different languages examining general phenomena of language contact and specific linguistic features which arise in language contact scenarios A particular focus lies on contact between languages of unbalanced political and symbolic power language contact and group identity and the linguistic and societal implications of language contact settings especially considering contemporary global migration streams Drawing on various methodological approaches among others corpus and contrastive linguistics linguistic landscapes sociolinguistic interviews and ethnographic fieldwork the contributions describe phenomena of language contact between and with Romance languages Semitic languages and English es Language Contact. Volume 2 Jeroen Darquennes, Joseph C. Salmons, Wim Vandenbussche, 2025-04-21 Targeting a full range of students and scholars this volume provides a total of 50 chapters illustrating the linguistic dynamics and the dynamics of inter individual and societal language contact as well as the dynamics of multidisciplinary language contact studies Fueled by a wealth of data from a rich variety of contact situations its geographically balanced case studies are governed by the triangulation between a focus on language structure and change a sincere drive of sociopolitical and academic agency and the confrontation with an everyday reality that can be unkind to and ignorant of those two factors The volume clearly demonstrates the social relevance of our trade in a time burdened with ecolinguistic challenges Contact Languages Sarah G. Thomason, 1997-03-06 This book contributes to a more balanced view of the most dramatic results of language contact by presenting linguistic and historical sketches of lesser known contact languages The twelve case studies offer eloquent testimony against the still common view that all contact languages are pidgins and creoles with maximally simple and essentially identical grammars They show that some contact languages are neither pidgins nor creoles and that even pidgins and creoles can display considerable structural diversity and structural complexity they also show that two language contact situations can give rise to pidgins especially when access to a target language is withheld by its speakers The chapters are arranged according to language type three focus on pidgins Hiri Motu by Tom Dutton Pidgin Delaware by Ives Goddard and Ndyuka Trio Pidgin by George L Huttar and Frank J Velantie two on creoles Kituba by Salikoko S Mufwene and Sango by Helma Pasch one on a set of pidgins and creoles Arabic based contact languages by Jonathan Owens one on the question of early pidginization and or creolization in Swahili by Derek Nurse and five on bilingual mixed languages Michif by Peter Bakker and Robert A Papen Media Lengua and Callahuaya both by Pieter Muysken and Mednyj Aleut and Ma a both by Sarah Thomason The authors collective goal is to help offset the traditional emphasis within contact language studies on pidgins and creoles that arose as an immediate result of contact with Europeans starting in the Age of Exploration The accumulation of case studies on a wide diversity of languages is needed to create a body of knowledge substantial enough to support robust generalizations about the nature and development of all types of contact language

Language Contact Sarah Grey Thomason,2001 The ideal introduction to language contact for students at all levels It has been accessibly written by a leading expert in the field Contact Languages John Holm,Susanne Michaelis,2009 Language Contact and Culture Contact Alberto A.
