The Fin de Siècle Sally Ledger, Roger Luckhurst, 2000 The fin de siècle period roughly the years 1880 to 1900 was characterized by great cultural and political ambivalence an anxiety for things lost and a longing for the new It also included an outpouring of intellectual responses to the conflicting times from such eminent writers as T H Huxley Emma Goldman William James H G Wells George Bernard Shaw and Oscar Wilde In this important anthology Ledger and Luckhurst make available to students scholars and general readers a large body of non literary texts which richly configure the variegated cultural history of the fin de siècle years That history is here shown to inaugurate many enduring critical and cultural concerns with sections on Degeneration Outcast London The Metropolis The New Woman Literary Debates The New Imperialism Socialism Anarchism

Scientific Naturalism Psychology Psychical Research Sexology Anthropology and Racial Science Each section begins with an Introduction and closes with Editorial Notes that carefully situate individual texts within a wider cultural landscape

Cultural Politics at the Fin de Siècle Sally Ledger, Scott McCracken, 1995-02-02 Cultural Politics at the Fin de Siècle scrutinises ways in which current conflicts of race class and gender have their origins in the cultural politics of the last fin de siècle whose influence stretched from the 1890s when economic depression signalled the end of Britain's role as the workshop of the world to 1914 when world war accelerated imperial decline This collaborative venture by new and established scholars includes discussion of the New Woman the reconstruction of masculinities and of feminism and empire The imperialist theme is pursued in essays on Yeats and Ireland Gilbert and Sullivan and the figure of the vampire The rise of socialism and psychoanalysis and the relationship between nascent modernism and late twentieth century postmodernism are also addressed in this radical account

Fictions of Loss in the Victorian Fin de Siècle Stephen Arata, 1996 It has been widely recognised that British culture in the 1880s and 1890s was marked by a sense of irretrievable decline Fictions of Loss in the Victorian Fin de Siècle explores the ways in which that perception of loss was cast into narrative into archetypal stories which sought to account for the culture's troubles and perhaps assuage its anxieties Stephen Arata pays close attention to fin de siècle representation of three forms of decline national biological and aesthetic and reveals how late Victorian degeneration theory was used to explain such decline By examining a wide range of writers from Kipling to Wilde from Symonds to Conan Doyle and Stoker Arata shows how the nation's twin obsessions with decadence and imperialism became intertwined in the thought of the period His account offers new insights for students and scholars of the fin de siècle

The Fin-de-siècle Poem Joseph Bristow, 2005 Featuring innovative research by emergent and established scholars The Fin de Siècle Poem throws new light on the remarkable diversity of poetry produced at the close of the nineteenth century in England Opening with a detailed preface that shows why literary historians have frequently underrated fin de siècle poetry the collection explains how a strikingly rich body of lyrical and narrative poems anticipated many of the developments traditionally attributed to Modernism Each chapter in turn provides insights into the ways in which late nineteenth century poets represented their experiences of the city their attitudes toward sexuality their responses to empire and their interest in religious belief The eleven essays presented by editor Joseph Bristow pay renewed attention to the achievements of such legendary writers as Oscar Wilde John Davidson Ernest Dowson Lionel Johnson and W B Yeats whose careers have always been associated with the 1890s This book also explores the lesser known but equally significant advances made by notable women poets including Michael Field Amy Levy

Charlotte Mew Alice Meynell A Mary F Robinson and Graham R Tomson The Fin de Siecle Poem brings together innovative research on poetry that has been typecast as the attenuated Victorianism that was rejected by Modernism The contributors underscore the remarkable innovations made in English poetry of the 1880s and 1890s and show how woman poets stood shoulder to shoulder with their better known male contemporaries Joseph Bristow is professor of English at the University of California Los Angeles where he edits the journal Nineteenth Century Literature His recent books include The Cambridge Companion to Victorian Poetry Oscar Wilde Contextual Conditions and the variorum edition of Oscar Wilde s The Picture of Dorian Gray

impersonality and asceticism considers the poetics of personification in his writings about Greek myth and religion in the divine logos of early Christianity and in the theory of Platonic Universals and explores his fascination with metempsychosis the many persons through whom the individual soul transmigrates Cheeke also explores the networks in which Pater was interpreted and misinterpreted by different persons and personalities such as Oscar Wilde Arthur Symons and W B Yeats Their mis readings of Pater and rebellions against his work from Decadent antinomian and mystical perspectives reveal the ways in which Pater s writing had always been in a critical dialogue with its own thinking as well as a prescient one in relation to his reception The philosophical question of what is a person a crucial one for the nineteenth century and with an increasing urgency in our own times is illuminated throughout this work Edinburgh Companion to Fin de Siecle
