

LANGUAGE VERSUS LITERATURE

Language is an abstract system of symbols and meanings governed by grammatical rules.

Language is both spoken and written.

---

Language was the first to come into being.

---

Language studies rules and structure; it is more technical than literature.

Literature refers to written works, especially those considered to be of superior or lasting artistic value.

Literature mostly studies written work.

---

Literature cannot exist without language.

Literature studies the work and styles of different authors; it is a more aesthetic subject.

Bermudez, Arthur N. Applebee, Sheridan Blau, Rebekah Caplan, Peter Elbow, Susan Hynds, James Marshall, 2005-04-13      Language, Literature and the Learner Ronald Carter, John Mcrae, 2014-09-25 Language Literature and the Learner is an edited volume evolving from three international seminars devoted to the teaching of literature in a second or foreign language The seminars explicitly addressed the interface between language and literature teaching to investigate the ways in which literature can be used as a resource for language growth at secondary intermediate and upper intermediate level This book presents the reader with a practical classroom based guide to how the teaching of language and literature until recently seen as two distinct subjects within the English curriculum can be used as mutually supportive resources within the classroom Through essays and case studies it reports on the most recent developments in classroom practice and methodology and suggests ways in which the curriculum could be reshaped to take advantage of this integrated approach The text will be essential reading for students undertaking PGCE TESOL MA UCLES CTEFLA RSA and Teachers Diploma courses worldwide Students of applied linguistics those on stylistics courses and undergraduates studying English language will welcome it as accessible supplementary reading

The Language of Literature , 2006      Language, Literature and Critical Practice David Birch, 2005-08-18 Using a wide ranging variety of texts the author reviews and evaluates a broad range of approaches to textual commentary introducing the reader to the fundamental distinction between actual and virtual worlds in critical practice      Literature in Language Education Geoff Hall, 2015-07-06 A state of the art critical review of research into literature in language education of interest to teachers of English and modern foreign languages Includes prompts and principles for those who wish to improve their own practice or to engage in projects or research in this area      Language, Literature, and Life Robert Anderson Hall, 1978      Studying Language through Literature Emilia Di Martino, Bruna Di Sabato, 2014-11-10 Studying Language through Literature invites readers to reconsider the opportunity represented by literary texts for language related purposes Despite the close relationship between literature and language in educational contexts literature is frequently associated with teaching practices which have been judged to be unsuccessful Subsequently texts of the non literary type are preferred on the basis that they are authentic and closer to real language The everlasting relationship between language and literature is here reassessed starting from two assumptions literature is the expression of an emphasized perception of reality be it private collective or pertaining to a certain temporal spatial context and literary language is language in its utmost form Following an outline of the philosophy that governs the book each chapter presents specific insights on the use of the various different literary genres namely fiction poetry and drama The opportunities offered by translation in the foreign language classroom constitute a recurrent theme throughout the book although Chapter 5 is entirely devoted to translation criticism The closing pages put forward a few reflections on assessment While offering some food for thought in order to reassess the role of literature in the language class this book puts together ideas considerations and suggestions from which the reader is free to pick mix and adjust exploiting them to her his greatest benefit

The Language of Literature, 2004 The Language Literature provides a framework for analysing language It explores how writers use literary language to create literary texts and helps students use language successfully in their own writing Key features Covers key skills and topics in Language, Literature and Education in Multicultural Societies Kenneth Harrow, Kizitus Mpoche, 2009-10-02 This book presents a vivid overview of linguistic literary and educational issues in a multicultural context from various perspectives These range from large scale surveys to specific analyses on aspects of language literature and education Contributions are very original and based on a common denominator Multiculturalism Despite the numerical dominance of contributions from Cameroon one of the most multilingual countries in the world this book brings together views from specialists in the different domains from several parts of the world Africa Europe and the United States of America These contributions exhibit not theoretical issues that underpin current academic debates in linguistic and literary research but also empirical and interesting data that can further be exploited to other ends Critical views on literature and postcolonialism the fears of language death with the advent of globalisation and the spread of English language the educational significance or influence of the internet the wealth of Cameroon African literature and the education of the Cameroonian African child and theoretical issues in language and literary education are themes handled here in an accessible manner to readers without previous knowledge of language science literature and education

Africa and Its Diaspora Languages, Literature, and Culture Oluseye Adesola, Akintunde Oyetade, Laide Sheba, 2019-11-26 The text celebrates the academic achievements of Professor Olasope Oyelaran It brings together over 20 papers by an international group of scholars on African diaspora languages literatures and culture representing four generations all of whom have been influenced by Oyelaran's work in one way or another Edited by three African scholars in the USA UK and Nigeria the volume presents current research on topics in applied and socio linguistics phonology morphology syntax oral and written literature and Yoruba language and culture in African diasporas in Brazil Cuba and Trinidad The constellation of topics presented here will enlarge the reader's understanding of a number of issues in the field of African and African diaspora languages literatures and cultures today As such the book makes an important contribution to the expanding work on the linguistic and cultural interface of Africa and its Brazilian Cuban and Trinidadian diasporas A dissertation on the languages, literature, and manners of eastern nations John Richardson, 1778

Sub-Saharan Political Cultures of Deceit in Language, Literature, and the Media, Volume I Esther Mavengano, Isaac Mhute, 2023-11-18 This two volume set charts a cross disciplinary discursive terrain that proffers rich insights about deceit in contemporary postcolonial Sub Saharan African politics In an attempt to produce a nuanced and multi faceted academic dialoguing platform the two volumes have a particular focus on the aspects of treachery fear of difference oppositional politics and discourses semiotics of mis self representation The major aim of the proposed volumes is to contribute toward the often problematised conversations about the unfolding post colonial Sub Saharan world which is topical in decolonial and Pan African studies The volumes seek to place political thinking and postcolonial political systems under the scholarly gaze with the view to highlight and enhance the participation of African cross disciplinary scholarship in the postcolonial political processes of the continent Most significantly it is through such probing of the limitations of our own disciplinary perspectives which can help us appreciate the complexity of the postcolonial Sub Saharan African politics The first volume uses Zimbabwe as a case study while the second volume broadens to examine postcolonial politics in Sub Saharan Africa more broadly

Annual Bibliography of English Language Literature , Literature and the New Interdisciplinarity Roger D. Sell, Peter Verdonk, 1994 In recent years there has been an increasing realization that language and literature are so to speak socioculturally consubstantial Accordingly literary scholars and linguists now often define their interests in sociohistorical terms and the lang lit divide is giving way to shared concerns which are interdisciplinary between the three poles poetics linguistics society To illustrate and consolidate this new interdisciplinarity the editors of this volume have collected a number of articles specially written by an international team of scholars including figures of the highest international distinction Key interdisciplinary terms such as contextualization addressivity and convention are subjected to critical scrutiny and applied to particular texts Some of the most widely canvassed theories of communication and literature particularly Sperber and Wilson's relevance theory and Bakhtin's sociolinguistic poetics are carefully assessed and extended to new areas And there are contextualizing approaches to phenomena such as genre historical genre modulation irony metaphor Modernist impersonality unreliable narration informal style and literary gossip The book's argument is carefully structured An extensive introduction outlines the general background of ideas and the thirteen articles are grouped into four main sections linked together by a clear line of questioning and discussion which is made explicit in sectional introductions The book is addressed to established scholars postgraduate students and advanced undergraduates who are interested in linguistics literary theory literary criticism and sociocultural history and searching for ways of bringing these branches of learning into synergetic relation with each other
