Lanterns That Lit Our World 2:

The Life and Times of a Merchant Sailor Jason M. Burns, 2012-12-06 Historical archaeologists are in a unique position to analyze both historical documents and archaeological data in order to generate hypotheses and draw conclusions. In this work, the data not only provided the history of the ship Catharine but also the economic, social, and political environments in which the ship was built and employed. This work focuses not only on the shipwreck and the wrecking event but on the history and archaeology of a single ship. With this expanded view, the research also delves into International shipbuilding. The struggle for dominance in the ship trade in the 19th century. This book will be of interest to underwater historical and cultural archaeologists, social historians, cultural heritage managers, and archaeologists working in the southeastern United States.
