FDR's Moviemaker Pare Lorentz,1992 The films of Pare Lorentz are acknowledged masterpieces of world cinema They are groundbreaking documentary records of our country in the hard years of the Depression William M Drennen Jr In the depths of the Great Depression the U S Government produced a series of films about the pressing problems facing the nation drought flood poverty and slums Starting with a minuscule initial budget of 6 000 Lorentz a young film critic from New York who had never made a motion picture was hired to head the project The first fruit of his labor The Plow That Broke the Plains was a moving and dramatic account of the Dust Bowl that met with immediate and critical acclaim Lorentz followed up his first film with The River a history of the Mississippi River Basin and the effect of the Tennessee Valley Authority on the area Both films demonstrated the potential of the documentary as a powerful impetus to social change prompting widespread discussion not only of the problems they presented but also of the documentary form itself This book combines the autobiographical history of a creative communicator and pioneer documentary filmmaker with the full scripts of The Plow That Broke the Plains The River Ecce Homo and The Fight for Life American Disaster Movies of the 1970s Scott Freer,2023-10-19 American Disaster Movies of the 1970s is the first scholarly book dedicated to the disaster cycle that dominated American cinema and television in the 1970s Through examining films such as Airport 1970 The Poseidon Adventure 1972 Two Minute Warning 1976 and The Swarm 1978 alongside their historical contexts and American contemporaneous trends the disaster cycle is treated as a time bound phenomenon This book further contextualises the cycle by drawing on the longer cultural history of modernist reactions to modern anxieties including the widespread dependence on technology and corporate power Each chapter considers cinematic precursors such as the ark movie and contemporaneous trends such as New Hollywood vigilante and blaxploitation films as well as the immediate American context the end of the civil rights and countercultural era the Watergate crisis and the defeat in Vietnam As Scott Freer argues the disaster movie is a modern demotic form of tragedy that satisfies a taste for the macabre It is also an aesthetic means for processing painful truths and many of the dramatized themes anticipate present day monstrosities of modernity farm workers as victims the simple pawns of larger forces In her balanced and intriguing study Loftis reveals that the workers were not victims but rather the strong and resourceful creators of their own histories      Obscene in the Extreme Rick Wartzman,2010-10-19 Few books have caused as big a stir as John Steinbeck s The Grapes of Wrath when it was published in April 1939 By May it was the nation s number one bestseller but in Kern County California the Joads newfound home the book was burned publicly and banned from library shelves Obscene in the Extreme tells the remarkable story behind this fit of censorship When W B Bill Camp a giant cotton and potato grower presided over its burning in downtown Bakersfield he declared We are angry not because we were attacked but because we were attacked by a book obscene in the extreme sense of the word But Gretchen Knief the Kern County librarian bravely fought back If that book is banned today what book will be banned tomorrow Obscene in the Extreme serves as a window into an extraordinary time of upheaval in America a time when as Steinbeck put it there seemed to be a revolution going on      Orange Empire Doug Sackman,2005-02-07 This innovative history of California opens up new vistas on the interrelationship among culture nature and society by focusing on the state s signature export the orange From the 1870s onward California oranges were packaged in crates bearing colorful images of an Edenic landscape This book demystifies those lush images revealing the orange as a manufactured product of the state s orange industry Orange Empire brings together for the first time the full story of the orange industry how growers scientists and workers transformed the natural and social landscape of California turning it into a factory for the production of millions of oranges That industry put up billboards in cities across the nation and placed enticing pictures of sun kissed fruits into nearly every American s home It convinced Americans that oranges could be consumed as embodiments of pure nature and talismans of good health But as this book shows the tables were turned during the Great Depression when Upton Sinclair Carey McWilliams Dorothea Lange and John Steinbeck made the Orange Empire into a symbol of what was wrong with America s relationship to nature      The Work of Dance Mark Franko,2002-06-10 Explores the complex relationship between dance work and labor in the 1930s In this insightful new book Mark Franko explores the many genres of theatrical dancing during the radical decade of the 1930s and their relationship to labor movements including Fordist and unionist organizational structures the administrative structures of the Federal Dance and Theatre Project the International Ladies Garment Workers Union and the Communist Party Franko shows how the structures of labor organization were reproduced and acted out but also profoundly reasoned through in corporeal terms by choreography and performance of the proletarian mass dance the chorus line of the Ziegfeld Follies and the reflexive backstage musical film Martha Graham s modern dance the revolutionary dance movement of the proletarian avant garde African American ethnic opera ballet and Lincoln Kirstein s American ballet The contributions of many important personalities of American theatrical visual and literary culture are included in this study Franko s focus extends from the direct impact of performances on audiences to the reviewing reporting and photography of print journalism      American examines documentary in print photography television and film from the 1930s through the 1980s using the lens of recent feminist film theory as well as scholarship on race class and gender emerging from the new interdisciplinary approach of American cultural studies Paula Rabinowitz discusses the ways in which these four media shaped truth claims and political agency over the decades in the 1930s about poverty labor and popular culture during the depression in the 1960s about the Vietnam War racism work and counterculture and in the 1980s about feminist and gay critiques of gender history narrative and cinema A great deal of documentary expression has been influenced by developments in cultural anthropology as committed artists brought their cameras and typewriters into the field not only to report but also to change the world Yet recently the projects of both anthropology and documentary have come under scrutiny Rabinowitz argues that the gendering of vision that occurs when narratives confirm to conventional genres profoundly affects the relation of documentarian to subject She goes on to define this gendering of vision in documentary as an ethnographic process Ultimately this polemical study challenges the construction of the spectator in psychoanalytic film theory and articulates a new model for theorizing power relations in culture and history
