French Cinema A Students Guide:

French Cinema Phil Powrie, Keith Reader, 2002 The study of French cinema has greatly expanded in recent years as it is increasingly taught alongside literature in modern language departments This book written by two leading scholars of French film offers students an introduction to the history and theory of French cinema French Cinema Phil Powrie, Keith Reader, 2002-12-27 Written by two leading scholars of French film this study is an introduction to the history and theory of French cinema and an examination of the concepts and techniques involved in the study of film It features a model essay sample film analyses an appendix of statistics filmography bibliography and glossary of terms La Règle du Jeu Keith Reader, 2009-02-28 Of Jean Renoir s La Règle du jeu 1939 Richard Roud noted if France were destroyed tomorrow and nothing remained but this film the whole country and its civilisation could be reconstructed from it An extravagant claim but one that in the view of Keith Reader is justified In this original up to date scrupulously documented book on one of the great films of world cinema Reader focuses on La Règle du jeu in the context of both the time in which it was made and the currents of intertextuality by which it is traversed He examines sequences from the film itself its themes reception and critical approaches and readings He also explores its extraordinary subversive charge and its dynamic effect on subsequent generations of filmmakers including Alain Resnais and Robert Altman This is the essential companion to La Règle du jeu demonstrating as it does why this film remains so central to French cinema and to the history of French and indeed European culture The A to Z of French Cinema Dayna Oscherwitz, MaryEllen Higgins, 2009-09-02 It can be argued that cinema was created in France by Louis Lumière in 1895 with the invention of the cinematographe the first true motion picture camera and projector While there were other cameras and devices invented earlier that were capable of projecting intermittent motion of images the cinematographe was the first device capable of recording and externally projecting images in such a way as to convey motion Early films such as Lumière s La Sortie de l usine a minute long film of workers leaving the Lumière factory captured the imagination of the nation and quickly inspired the likes of Georges Méliès Alice Guy and Charles Pathé Through the years French cinema has been responsible for producing some of the world s best directors Jean Renoir Jean Luc Godard François Truffaut and Louis Malle and actors Charles Boyer Catherine Deneuve Gérard Depardieu and Audrey Tautou The A to Z of French Cinema covers the history of French film from the silent era to the present in a concise and up to date volume detailing the development of French cinema and major theoretical and cultural issues related to it This is done through a chronology an introduction photographs a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on many of the major actors directors films movements producers and studios associated with French cinema Going beyond mere biographical information entries also discuss the impact and significance of each individual film movement or studio included This detailed scholarly analysis of the development of film in France is useful to both the novice and the expert alike The French Cinema Book Michael Temple, Michael Witt, 2018-01-18 This thoroughly revised and expanded edition of a key

textbook offers an innovative and accessible account of the richness and diversity of French film history and culture from the 1890s to the present day The contributors who include leading historians and film scholars provide an indispensable introduction to key topics and debates in French film history Each chronological section addresses seven key themes people business technology forms representations spectators and debates providing an essential overview of the cinema industry the people who worked in it including technicians and actors as well as directors and the culture of cinema going in France from the beginnings of cinema to the contemporary period

Taking a text led approach with the emphasis on more recent popular films Studying French Cinema is directed at non specialists such as students of French Film Studies and the general reader with an interest in post war French cinema Each of the chapters focuses on one or more key films from the ground breaking films of the nouvelle vague Les 400 coups 1959 to contemporary documentary Etre et avoir 2002 and puts them into their relevant contexts Depending on the individual film these include explorations of childhood adolescence and coming of age Les 400 coups L Argent de poche auteur ideology and individual style the films of Jean Luc Godard and Agnes Varda the representation of recent French history Lacombe Lucien and Au revoir les enfants transnational production practices Le Pacte des loups and popular cinema comedy and gender issues e g Le Diner de cons Each film is embedded in its cultural and political context Together the historical discussions provide an overview of post war French history to the present Useful suggestions are made as to studies of related films both those discussed within the book and outside

The Cinema of France Phil Powrie, 2006 An in depth look at some of the best and most influential French films of all time The Cinema of France contains 24 essays each on an individual film The book features works from the silent period and poetic realism through the stylistic developments of the New Wave and up to more contemporary challenging films from directors such as Abel Gance Jean Renoir Marcel Carn Fran ois Truffaut Jean Luc Godard Alain Resnais Agn s Varda and Luc Besson Set in chronological order The Cinema of France provides an illuminating history of this essential national cinema and includes in depth studies of films such as Un Chien Andalou 1929 Les Vacances de Monsieur Hulot 1953 Le Samoura 1967 Shoah 1985 Jean de Florette 1986 Les Visiteurs 1993 and La Haine 1995

Unraveling French Cinema T. Jefferson Kline, 2011-09-22 Unraveling French Cinema provides a much needed introduction to the complexities of French film for students cineastes and the movie loving public Looks at the differences between French and American national cinema Explores how French directors shape their films around two potentially divergent goals the narration of a story and an elaboration of some theory about film itself Demystifies the difficulty of French cinema allowing the American movie goer to enjoy films that are too often perplexing at a first viewing Offers extended analyses of classic New Wave and contemporary French films including L Atalante Adele H The Rules of the Game and Cache

The Cinema of Eric Rohmer Jacob Leigh, 2012-05-03 Since the death of the French film director Eric Rohmer in 2010 interest in his work has reignited Known as the last of the established directors in the French New Wave Rohmer took complete control over all his films acting as his own producer throughout his career and writing the scripts He also made his mark by taking the lead in casting and location scouting as French seaside resorts with beautiful young people are some of the elements present in most of his films Combining history and criticism Jacob Leigh pens the first chronological survey of this understudied filmmaker in order to give readers clear insights into how Rohmer's films came about and what he intended them to be The book provides in depth analysis of the themes and ideas of Rohmer's twenty three feature films and illustrates the complexity of their cinematic style Leigh's study is the perfect introduction to the work of this great filmmaker for both students and the general reader

Henri-Georges Clouzot Christopher Lloyd, 2013-07-19 Despite his controversial reputation and international notoriety as a film maker no full length study of Clouzot has ever been published in English This book offers a significant revaluation of Clouzot's achievement situating his career in the wider context of French cinema and society and providing detailed and clear analysis of his major films Le Corbeau Quai des Orfèvres Le Salaire de la peur Les Diaboliques Le Mystère Picasso Clouzot's films combine meticulous technical control with sardonic social commentary and the ability to engage and entertain a broad public Although his films are characterised by an all controlling perfectionism allied to documentary veracity and a disturbing bleakness of vision Clouzot is well aware that his is an art of illusion His fondness for anatomising social pretence the deception violence and cruelty practised by individuals and institutions drew him repeatedly to the thriller as a convenient and compelling model for plots and characters but his source texts and the usual conventions of the genre receive distinctly unconventional treatment

Queering Contemporary French Popular Cinema Darren Waldron, 2009 Queering Contemporary French Popular Cinema combines close film analysis with a small scale qualitative investigation of audience responses to examine images of queerness in contemporary French popular cinema and their reception Through its blending of the textual and the empirical this book provides a unique insight into the ways in which sexuality and gender are represented on the cinema screen as well as the spectator reactions they elicit Since the mid 1990s depictions of lesbians gay men and queer forms of sexual desire and identity have shifted to the mainstream of French cinematographic representation as evidenced by the box office success of a series of highly commercial comic films including Gazon maudit Josiane Balasko 1995 Pdale douce Gabriel Aghion 1996 Le Placard Francis Ver 2000 and Chouchou Merzak Allouache 2003 Alongside this commercial strand a series of small budget alternative comedies and other genre films have also challenged heteronormative conceptualizations of sexuality and gender Films such as Sitcom François Ozon 1998 L'Homme est une femme comme les autres Jean Jacques Zilbermann 1997 Pourquoi pas moi Stéphane Giusti 1999 Dr le de Flix Olivier Ducastel and Jacques Martineau 2000 and Les Chansons d'amour Christophe Honor 2007 portray desire as fluid and or gender as unfixed With their use of parody and their blending of comedy with the musical melodrama romance or road movie these and other similar films have resonated with a burgeoning viewing public tired of having to seek queerness in connotation of appropriating marginal characters in ostensibly straight narratives and of tragedy and trauma as the principal modes of representation and spectator address La Reine Margot (Patrice Chéreau, 1994) Julianne Pidduck, 2005 Julianne Pidduck's Cine File does justice to this film examining it as part of an influential recent cycle of French historical super productions including Cyrano de Bergerac and Germinal and exploring its social and political contexts in particular how La Reine Margot's depiction of Renaissance religious intolerance offers a haunting allegory for twentieth century French and European experience Jacket Alejandro Amenábar Barry Jordan, 2019-01-04 Since the release of his first feature in 1996 Alejandro Amenábar has become the golden boy of Spanish filmmaking a bankable star director whose brand virtually guarantees quality big audiences and domestic box office success He has directed three of the highest grossing movies in Spanish film history and has enjoyed enormous international and critical acclaim including an Oscar for Best Foreign Film for Mar Adentro The Sea Inside 2004 This book is the first full length study in English of Amenábar's shorts and feature films It provides detailed analysis of his engagement with popular film genres as the basis for an auteur cinema and incorporates a reappraisal of his auteurism as fundamentally decentred and shared An essential resource for students scholars and fans of Amenábar the book will also appeal to a wider readership including professionals in the film media and culture industries as well as those who have a general interest in the best of Spanish European and world cinema

Agnes Varda Between Film, Photography, and Art Rebecca J. DeRoo, 2018 Based on interviews with Agnès Varda and unparalleled access to her archives this extensively researched book demonstrates how Varda draws upon the histories of art photography and film to complicate the overt narratives in her works and to advance contemporary cultural politics
