Harnessing Indigenous Epistemologies for Sustainable Progress Ngulube, Patrick, 2025-02-19 Seeking cognitive fairness in academic institutions requires an emphasis on indigenous knowledge and epistemic freedom that is more pluralistic and inclusive which is supported by the incorporation of Indigenous viewpoints and wisdom A more just and equitable learning environment that benefits all academics and students can be achieved by elevating epistemic freedom in the academy and making it a place where cognitive diversity is acknowledged Indigenous knowledge systems provide distinctive perspectives on sustainable living community health and environmental stewardship To ensure that Indigenous history continues to be a vibrant and living legacy that inspires and enriches the globe it is important to promote it in a way that both honors the past and influences modern practices Harnessing Indigenous Epistemologies for Sustainable Progress challenges the dominance of Western epistemologies by incorporating Indigenous viewpoints and wisdom into academia fostering a more pluralistic and inclusive approach to knowledge development and transmission Covering topics including digital preservation global higher education and ecological kinships this book is an excellent resource for policymakers educators sociologists scholars researchers academicians professionals and more Innovations in Transformative

Learning Beth Fisher-Yoshida, Kathy Dee Geller, Steven A. Schapiro, 2009 This book addresses the disparity between transformative learning theory as espoused and practiced in the classrooms of the academy and its application beyond It articulates new models of transformative education that integrate transformative learning theory with other models of change and development The three editors and eleven contributors draw on both theory and practice to illustrate how transformative learning has been introduced to a variety of settings and cultures and synergistically integrated with theories of communication participatory action research and communities of inquiry and practice Organized around the themes of creating space for learning looking through the lenses of culture diversity and difference and animating awareness through the expressive and performative arts this collection will broaden awareness and aid scholars students and practitioners in using transformative learning as an approach to adult learning and social and organizational change in a range of settings
