Ornithologies of Desire Travis V. Mason, 2013-09-03 Ornithologies of Desire develops ecocritical reading strategies that engage scientific texts field guides and observation Focusing on poetry about birds and birdwatching this book argues that attending to specific details about the physical world when reading environmentally conscious poetry invites a critical humility in the face of environmental crises and evolutionary history The poetry and poetics of Don McKay provide Ornithologies of Desire with its primary subject matter which is predicated on attention to ornithological knowledge and avian metaphors This focus on birds enables a consideration of more broadly ecological relations and concerns since an awareness of birds in their habitats insists on awareness of plants insects mammals rocks and all else that constitutes place The book's chapters are organized according to apparatus that is science as ecocritical tool flight and song Reading McKay's work alongside ecology and ornithology through flight and birdsong both challenges assumptions regarding humans place in the earth system and celebrates the sheer virtuosity of lyric poetry rich with associative as well as scientific details The resulting chapters interchapter and concordance of birds that appear in McKay's poetry encourage amateurs and specialists birdwatchers and poetry readers to reconsider birds in English literature on the page and in the field Catalogue of the

Hendryx, Andrew B., Co, 1904 Strike/Slip Don McKay, 2013-08-20 In this extraordinary collection from one of our most celebrated poets Don McKay walks the strike slip fault between poetry and landscape sticks its strange nose into the cold silence of geologic time meditates on marble quartz and gneiss and attends to the songs of ravens and thrushes and to the clamour of the industrialized bush Behind these poems lies the urge to engage the tectonics of planetary dwelling with the rickety contraption of language and to register the stress sheer and strain but also the astonishment engendered by that necessary failure Lightning Ball Bait Don McKay, 1980 Paradoxides Don McKay, 2013-08-20 Multi award winning poet Don McKay returns with a startling collection of new poems his first since his Griffin Poetry Prize winning book Strike Slip Don McKay is known among other things as Canada's foremost poet of the natural world Readers have come to expect a playful extravagance in his poetry Most recently he has opened himself to the mysteries of geologic wonder Who needs ghosts when matter nonchalantly haunts us he writes In his new book perhaps his most stunning yet it's fossils and deep time that provide the awe The landscape of Newfoundland has taken his linguistic virtuosity even further sharpened his wit and given him a lyric energy that sometimes feels as if he's lifting the planet into song Camber Don McKay, 2014-10-14 The poetry of Don McKay is renowned for its piquant wit lyric emotion and pitch perfect vernacular music His work has received national acclaim and the recognition of many awards including the Governor General's Award for Poetry which he has won twice and most recently from the prestigious and internationally known Griffin Poetry Prize for which his most recent book was a finalist Camber is the lilt in the physics of flight the anti gravitational alchemy of both wings and poetry It is also at the heart of the poetry of Don McKay Spanning three decades and drawing on all of McKay's major collections this selection distills the essence of his craft and provides an overview of and an ideal introduction to the work to date of one of Canada's most celebrated poets

Canadian Primal Mark Dickinson, 2021-02-18 Over the past few decades a group of writers we might call the Thinking and Singing poets have stood at the forefront of poetry in Canada These five poets Dennis Lee Don McKay Robert Bringhurst Jan Zwicky and Tim Lilburn are major voices in an era of ecological devastation and spiritual unease Their diverse questioning work suggests new ways to confront some of the most pressing issues of our time In vibrant prose Mark Dickinson explores the relationship between the lives of these poets and their writing examining their intersecting careers and friendships and the ways they learned from and challenged one another Canadian Primal uses an unconventional approach blending biography with literary analysis and drawing from meetings and correspondence with each poet over many years to trace the people and events that inspired the creation of important texts Dickinson tracks how each of the writers arrived at poetry as a way of being and at the heart of their poetics he finds both a musical intelligence and the crucial importance of the land Canadian Primal is literary biography reconceived as an adventure of the mind body and spirit Ebullient intelligent and eminently readable it reminds us that we can live on the earth in a different way true to the defining experiences of our lives surrounded by meaning and presence beyond our imagining
