Irish Source Records:

Basic Guide to Irish Records for Family History Brian Mitchell, 2009-03 A primary aim of this book is to dispel the widely held notion that most records of genealogical interest in Ireland were destroyed during the shelling of the Four Courts in Dublin on 28 June 1922 in which many important historical documents were lost Genealogy Caroline Peacock, 2003 Here is the third edition of this best selling book completely revised and updated We've checked all the website reviews in the previous edition re-written some reviews deleted some reviews and added in new ones Sources in British Political History 1900-1951 Chris Cook, Philip Jones, Josephine Sinclair, Jeffrey Weeks, 1975-05-01 Sources for Early Modern Irish History, 1534-1641 Robert Dudley Edwards, Mary O'Dowd, 1985 The Tudor revival of government and administration in Ireland dramatically increased the quantity of written sources concerning Ireland This book attempts to survey this documentary material It analyses of the written sources for early modern Irish history for the period 1534-1641 It discusses the different types of sources available and also provides descriptions of transcripts copies and summaries of manuscript material which has been destroyed This is very valuable because much of the original documentation for this period was destroyed when the Public Record Office in Dublin was burnt at the beginning of the civil war in 1922 The final chapter in the book includes an assessment of the historiography of early modern Irish history In the light of the need for historians to understand the administrative machinery which produced the documents they use the book also includes an account of the civil and ecclesiastical administration of early modern Ireland Sources in British Political History 1900-1951 C. Cook, P. Jones, J. Sinclair, Jeffrey Weeks, 1977-04-20 From 1970 to 1977 a major project to uncover source material for students of contemporary British history and politics was undertaken at the British Library of Political and Economic Science Financed by the Social Science Research Council and under the direction of Dr Chris Cook this project has attempted a unique and systematic operation to locate and then to make readily available those archives that provide the indispensable source material for the contemporary historian This volume the fifth in the series provides a guide to the papers of propagandists who were influential in British public life Included in this volume are the papers of such persons as newspaper editors leading economists social reformers socialist thinkers trade unionists industrialists and a variety of theologians and philanthropists In all this volume not only completes the findings of the project but opens up the archive sources of a hitherto neglected area of research into contemporary social and political history Tracing Your Irish Family History on the Internet Chris Paton, 2013-10-19 A thorough and informative guide with as many references to websites for Northern Irish genealogy as for the Republic of Ireland Who Do You Think You Are Magazine Ireland has experienced considerably more tragedy when it comes to the preservation of resources for family historians than its close neighbor Britain Many of the nation's primary records were lost during the civil war in 1922 and through other equally tragic means But in this new book Chris Paton the Northern Irish born author of the bestselling Tracing Your Family History on the Internet shows that not only has a great deal of information survived it is also increasingly being made available online Thanks to the pioneering efforts of the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland the National Archives of Ireland organizations such as FindmyPast Ireland Ancestry co uk and RootsIreland and the massive volunteer genealogical community more and more of Ireland s historical resources are accessible from afar As well as exploring the various categories of records that the family historian can turn to Chris Paton illustrates their use with fascinating case studies He fully explores the online records available from both the north and the south from the earliest times to the present day Many overseas collections are also included and he looks at social networking in an Irish context where many exciting projects are currently underway His book is an essential introduction and source of reference for anyone who is keen to trace their Irish roots Chris Paton has produced this much needed book for researchers tracing Irish roots pulling together all the current online resources and expert advice into one handy guide Family Tree Magazine Ancestry magazine ,2001-03 Ancestry magazine focuses on genealogy for today s family historian with tips for using Ancestry com advice from family history experts and success stories from genealogists across the globe Regular features include Found by Megan Smolenyak reader submitted heritage recipes Howard Wolinsky s tech driven NextGen feature articles a timeline how to tips for Family Tree Maker and insider insight to new tools and records at Ancestry com Ancestry magazine is published 6 times yearly by Ancestry Inc parent company of Ancestry com

The Presbyterians of Ulster, 1680-1730 Robert Whan, 2013. A comprehensive survey and analysis of the Presbyterian community in its important formative period. The Presbyterian community in Ulster was created by waves of immigration massively reinforced in the 1690s as Scots fled successive poor harvests and famine and by 1700 Presbyterians formed the largest Protestant community in the north of Ireland. This book is a comprehensive survey and analysis of the Presbyterian community in this important formative period. It shows how the Presbyterians formed a highly organised self-confident community which exercised a rigorous discipline over its members and had a well-developed intellectual life. It considers the various social groups within the community demonstrating how the always small aristocratic and gentry component dwindled and was virtually extinct by the 1730s, the Presbyterians deriving their strength from the middling sorts: clergy, doctors, lawyers, merchants, traders, and in particular successful farmers and those active in the rapidly growing linen trades and among the laborious poor. It discusses how Presbyterians were part of the economically dynamic element of Irish society, how they took the lead in the emigration movement to the American colonies and how they maintained links with Scotland and related to other communities in Ireland and elsewhere. Later in the eighteenth century the Presbyterian community went on to form the backbone of the Republican separatist movement.

ROBERT WHAN obtained his Ph.D. in History from Queen's University Belfast.

The History of Ireland Geoffrey Keating, One of Few Surviving Works. This is one of the finest surviving works on Irish history. It was originally written in 17th-century Gaelic by Dr. Keating. This edition was fully translated into modern English by John O'Mahoney, including voluminous footnotes which could be made into a book unto themselves. This is the entire 3-volume IGF set and the rare translation by O'Mahoney published by the Irish Genealogical Foundation. Seathrún Céitinn, the author, is better known in English as Geoffrey Keating. He served as a historian, poet, and clergyman in 17th-century Ireland. This book is the History of Ireland or Foras Feasa ar Irinn or Foundation of Knowledge on Ireland, which was originally written in the Gaelic language in the 17th century during the reign of Charles I of England.

The Annals of Ireland by the Four Masters Michael O'Cleary, 2004. A Primary Source. This birth register is a primary genealogy source for finding the location and relative number of Irish families in 19th-century Ireland. Most families remain centered in the same areas in Ireland. This is an enlarged print-out of the birth index of Ireland. It lists every surname found and the county it was found in. Larger print makes it easier to read than the original. We have added a map of the counties and provinces along with commentary. Research aid published by the Irish Genealogical Foundation. One of the very few sources we have to locate surnames for the genealogy researcher in 19th-century Ireland. This work serves as an Irish census records substitute for locating traditional family names in Ireland. If you do not know where to start looking for death, marriage, and land records, this family surname locator could help find your county of origin.
