Irreducible Needs Of Children:

The Irreducible Needs Of Children T. Berry Brazelton, Stanley I. Greenspan, 2009-02-23 What do babies and young children really need This impassioned dialogue cuts through all the theories platitudes and controversies that surround parenting advice to define what every child must have in the first years of life The authors both famed advocates for children lay out the seven irreducible needs of any child in any society and confront such thorny questions as How much time do children need one on one with a parent What is the effect of shifting caregivers of custody arrangements Why are we knowingly letting children fail in school Nothing is off limits even such an issue as whether every child needs or deserves to be a wanted child This short hard hitting book the fruit of decades of experience and caring sounds a wake up call for parents teachers judges social workers policy makers anyone who cares about the welfare of children Overcoming ADHD Stanley I. Greenspan, Jacob Greenspan, 2009-07-29 A professor of psychiatry behavioral science and pediatrics shares his guide to managing your child s ADHD without medication This wise and informative guide applies Stanley Greenspan s much admired developmental approach to a very common disorder In his distinctive and original view ADHD is not a single problem but rather a set of common symptoms that arise from several different sensory motor and self regulation problems As in his highly successful earlier books and in his practice Greenspan emphasizes the role of emotion seeking the root of the condition and rebuilding the foundations of healthy development Overcoming ADHD steers away from the pitfalls of labeling or of simply stamping out symptoms with medication and demonstrates Greenspan s abiding belief in the growth and individual potential of each child Childism Elisabeth Young-Bruehl, 2012-01-10 The author exposes American society s prejudice against its children from corporal punishment and an uncaring foster care system to the pressure placed on children to support one parent or another in a divorce and the harm it causes them Knowing the Children We Teach Danette Littleton, Meryl Sole, 2023-03-14 Knowing The Children We Teach places children at the center of music learning and teaching What we understand about children determines how we teach them the music learning environments we provide and decisions we make about music content and skills Unexpressed but no less meaningful is the interdependent relationship between music teacher and children Recent trends in music education emphasize what children should know about music more than what music educators need to know about children This book offers insight into the innate traits of children such as goodness kindness needs spirituality playfulness and wonder Each essay is supported through research and features data from music teacher participants When we engage children musically we have opportunities to nurture children s hearts minds and spirits as well as our own Defining and Classifying Children in Need Nick Axford, 2017-03-02 Need is a popular but controversial concept in social policy Needs led has become a mantra in children s services in recent years yet theorists still argue about the meaning and value of the concept of need There are lots of needs assessment at the individual child and population levels but case files vary enormously in quality and reports of need analyses frequently gather dust on shelves

How then should we define and measure children's needs and how should this influence the design of services This edited collection answers these questions in order to help policy makers managers practitioners and researchers with identifying and serving children in need It offers a critical appraisal of the state of play regarding the theory of need the needs that children have methods for assessing children's needs at the individual and group levels and approaches to designing services to meet identified needs

Consumed: How Markets Corrupt Children, Infantilize Adults, and Swallow Citizens

Whole Benjamin R. Barber, 2008-03-17 Powerful and disturbing No one who cares about the future of our public life can afford to ignore this book Jackson Lears A powerful sequel to Benjamin R Barber's best selling Jihad vs McWorld Consumed offers a vivid portrait of a global economy that overproduces goods and targets children as consumers in a market where there are never enough shoppers and where the primary goal is no longer to manufacture goods but needs Disturbing provocative and compelling this book examines phenomena as seemingly disparate as adolescent fashion trends for adults megachurches declining voter participation the privatization of the public sphere branding and the rise of online shopping to show how the freedoms of the free market have undermined the freedoms of the deliberative adult citizen Barber brings together extensive empirical research with an original theoretical framework for understanding our contemporary predicament

Summary of The Myth of Normal QuickChapters, 2025-08-08 Book Summary The Myth of Normal Trauma Illness Healing In A Toxic Culture By Gabor Mat M D In The Myth of Normal Dr Gabor Mat challenges our conventional ideas about health illness and what it means to be normal in today's world Drawing on decades of clinical experience and groundbreaking research Mat explores how trauma and stress often hidden beneath the surface are deeply woven into the fabric of modern life contributing to a wide range of physical and mental health issues This summary unpacks Mat's central argument that much of what we consider normal in our culture is actually unhealthy and that true healing requires us to look beyond symptoms to address the root causes of suffering Through compelling stories and practical insights Mat offers a compassionate roadmap for understanding the connections between mind body and society and for finding genuine healing in a world that often overlooks the impact of trauma Note This summary is an independent resource designed to highlight the main ideas and key takeaways from The Myth of Normal It is not affiliated with or endorsed by Dr Gabor Mat or the original publisher

Children and Childhood: Practices and Perspectives

Chandni Basu, Vicky Anderson-Patton, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013

Concerns about children and childhood have emerged as part of public debate and discourse in the second half of the twentieth century. Theoretical discourse surrounding childhood has been complimented by various development initiatives taken in different parts of the world and research has emerged as an important component of this focus which would carry forward the intellectual and other engagements concerning children and childhood. This volume brings together diverse theoretical and practical deliberations on children and childhood from various parts of the world. It explores conceptual understandings of childhood extending from historical perspectives to extreme expressions of negativity like childism. An historical perspective illuminates the image and imagination of the child in various art forms. The constructed connotation of childhood is portrayed through its cultural comparisons. The close connection of childhood and institutions is explored through the projection and presence of children in schools and legal structures. What Children Need Jane

Waldfoegel, 2010-03-15. What do children need to grow and develop? And how can their needs be met when parents work? Emphasizing the importance of parental choice, quality of care, and work opportunities, economist Jane Waldfogel guides readers through the maze of social science research evidence to offer comprehensive answers and a vision for change. Drawing on the evidence, Waldfogel proposes a bold new plan to better meet the needs of children in working families from birth through adolescence while respecting the core values of choice, quality, and work. Allow parents more flexibility to take time off work for family responsibilities. Break the link between employment and essential family benefits. Give mothers and fathers more options to stay home in the first year of life. Improve quality of care from infancy through the preschool years. Increase access to high quality out of school programs for school aged children and teenagers. Making Peace with Motherhood... and Creating a Better You Heidi Bratton, 2002. A Christian based approach to the issues facing modern mothers.

At A Loss For Words Betty Bardige, 2011-02-07. Drawing on the latest research on development among toddlers and preschoolers, At a Loss for Words lays out the importance of getting parents, policy makers, and child care providers to recognize the role of early literacy skills in reducing the achievement gap that begins before three years of age. Readers are guided through home and classroom settings that promote language, contrasting them with the merely mediocre child care settings in which more and more young children spend increasing amounts of time. Too many of our young children are not receiving the level of input and practice that will enable them to acquire language skills, the key to success in school and life. Bardige explains how to build better community support systems for children and better public education in order to ensure that toddlers learn the power of language from their families and teachers. Another Parenting Perspective Smruti
