Donovan, 2007-12-28 Legal Anthropology An Introduction offers an initial overview of the challenging debates surrounding the cross cultural analysis of legal systems Equal parts review and criticism James M Donovan outlines the historical landmarks in the development of the discipline identifying both strengths and weaknesses of each stage and contribution Legal Anthropology suggests that future progress can be made by looking at the perceived fairness of social regulation rather than sanction or dispute resolution as the distinguishing feature of law

Lives of Circumcised and Veiled Women Debangana Chatterjee, 2023-08-11 The book unravels the politics of representation and the process of exoticising women s bodies through the prism of external gaze and knowledge production It brings out the intricacies of representational discourses around cultural practices of female circumcision FC female genital cutting FGC and Islamic veiling Focusing on crucial international legal texts and national legislation the book gives an overview of the cultural nuances in FC FGC and juxtaposes it with the Indian variation khafz The author studies the international veiling narratives that conjure up a fractured discourse containing aspects of colonialism Islamophobia and Islamic fashion and maps them with the regional variations of Islamic purdah in India The volume explores the cultural practice of khafz and purdah through narratives in India portraying how representational factors from international discourses reflect on the Indian context and vice versa Amid the world of binaries and polarised opinions the book offers a nuanced analysis of the space in between characterised by narratives from women By situating women s narratives in relation to family community state and international politics the book explores the global Indian interplay of discourses on FC FGC and Islamic veiling This volume will be of interest to scholars students and readers of gender studies feminism cultural and religious studies sociology South Asian studies and International Relations

Health and Cultural Values Vitalis Pemunta Ngambouk, 2011-01-18 This book provides a nuanced analysis of the transformations that the ritual cutting of Female Circumcision FC recently underwent within the changing medical and institutional context of the HIV AIDS pandemic among Ejagham tribes in Southwest Cameroon Based on local level ethnography it captures the multivocal perspectives and agency of participants thereby putting to question the uncritical feminist stance that Third World Women lack agency and are chattel As the highest rite of patriarchy the quintessential icon of gendered personhood and femininity FC remains salient even when it is no longer the criterion for membership into the Moninkim secret society especially within the new medical and institutional context of the HIV AIDS pandemic because it is intertwined with the whole cultural political economy of the Ejaghams. The commercialization of this feminine institution charged with feminine personhood through its spectacular performances enacting matrimonial relations within and beyond the Ejagham locale is evidence of its continuous centrality in the life world of participants. By focusing on health alone anti HIV AIDS and anti FC interventions by both the state and civil society actors miss the point. FC is increasingly becoming a human social gender rights and development issue calling for a multi pronged development approach. The threat of the HIV AIDS pandemic led to ferocious intergenerational debates over moral values about female inordinate sexuality and to the double appropriation of the concept of human security. Conservatives maintain that FC tempers women's sexuality and is therefore a useful mechanism to keep women in matrimonial service, a moral check on inordinate sexuality and a native antidote against the scourge of the pandemic. Anti FC advocates point to the bloodletting entailed by the ritual procedures as fuelling the spread of the pandemic through the spread of diseases with HIV AIDS inclusive among participants. A third group of cultural insiders opt for the cautious appropriation of modernity while simultaneously maintaining tradition, medicalisation of the ritual procedures. By reducing the complexity and nuances of the ritual cutting to health alone, anti FC activism has instead produced a backlash marked by simultaneous contestation and practice. Paradoxically the anti FC campaigns have resulted in the privatization of FC on increasingly younger girls. However the recent waiving of the ritual cutting as a precondition for membership into the Moninkim cult because of the ageing of the initial initiates the health risk of the HIV AIDS pandemic and anti FC advocacy campaigns by local NGOs shows that change is underway. Simultaneously inter tribal marriages with members of non circumcising tribes and romantic love relationships beyond the purview of the traditional patriarchal orbit have led younger lovers increasingly to seek mutually satisfying love relationships for which FC a virtuous cut becomes an obstacle.

Child Abuse, Child Exploitation, and Criminal Justice Responses Daniel G. Murphy, April G. Rasmussen, 2020-01-08 There are few things in our society that provoke such raw emotions as that of child abuse. Most people justifiably so are outraged when they hear of allegations of abuse and their anger is intensified as they learn of what seems to be an inappropriate criminal justice response. However the debate on child abuse usually happens through visceral emotions rather than facts. Taking emotions out of a child abuse debate is much easier said than done but it is of utmost importance to identify the facts. When the reader has a better understanding of the scope of child abuse they can become more objective but still maintain their passion about ways to protect this vulnerable and targeted population. Child Abuse, Child Exploitation and Criminal Justice Responses is unique in that it offers the reader contributing facts based not only through scholarly research but practical experience working in the field. From this wonderful collaboration of criminal investigator and forensic nurse, thus providing much personal insight and demonstrating how these two areas of expertise can join forces to achieve the objective of working as a team to facilitate safeguarding children The authors also presents the research on this complex yet worthy topic by identifying the unique challenges of investigating these offenses while ultimately bringing the perpetrators to justice and presenting the research from various perspectives of child abuse including both national and international issues and responses

Female Genital Cutting Terry Teague Meyer, 2015-07-15 This urgently important unflinching yet sensitive examination raises awareness about female genital cutting and provides essential information to help end its practice According to a 2014 World Health Organization WHO fact sheet more than 125 million girls and women alive today have been subjected to some form of genital cutting in twenty nine countries in Africa and the Middle East Census figures 2000 show that 228 000 women and girls in the United States have suffered from such procedures or are at future risk This indispensable volume is packed with resources to support women s physical psychological and emotional health and healing

The Right to Health in International Law John Tobin, 2012-01-12 The link between health and human rights has been recognised for many years but the increasing visibility of the right to health in international law has been a distinct feature of the last decade It has been embraced by actors within civil society academics health professionals lawyers and courts in several jurisdictions as a tool to address health inequalities at the local and global level in matters ranging from access to medicines and the availability of affordable health care to sexual and reproductive health But it has equally been the subject of derision and scorn by human rights sceptics who have described it as lacking foundation nebulous and incapable of implementation This book seeks to offer a comprehensive discussion of the status and meaning of the right to health in international law It traces the history of this right to reveal its nexus with public health and the long standing recognition that a State has a responsibility to attend to the health needs of its population It also offers a theoretical account of its conceptual foundations which challenges the position held by many philosophers that health is undeserving of the status of a human right By developing an interpretative methodology the book provides a persuasive account of the meaning of the right to health and the obligations it imposes on States This process reveals an understanding of the right to health that while challenging remains practical and capable of guiding States that are genuinely committed to addressing the health needs of their population

The International Struggle for New Human Rights Clifford Bob, 2009 Why are certain global problems recognized as human rights issues while others are not This book highlights campaigns to persuade the human rights movement to move beyond traditional concerns and embrace pressing new ones Its analytic framework and case studies reveal critical strategies and conflicts involved in the struggle for new rights

Nordic Health Law in a European Context Elisabeth Rynning, Mette Hartlev, 2011-12-21 This anthology aims to provide Nordic perspectives on the young and evolving field of health law or biomedical law by reflecting on issues that have been explored within the activities of the Nordic Network for Research in Biomedical Law In the emergence of this fairly new legal discipline it has become very clear that the Nordic region forms a part of Europe that has been strongly influenced by both hard and soft law initiatives from the European Union and the Council of Europe but also that Nordic identity culture and collaboration clearly remain an important factor in the legal development of this particular region The book is divided thematically into three sections The first deals with foundational and general issues of health law the second with patients rights and the third with issues related to advancements in biomedical science Part One includes two chapters on the relationship between health law and human rights together with discussions on specific Nordic approaches to the organisation and regulation of health services to constitutional protection of the right to health and to the legal discipline of health law as such One chapter provides an overview of the mission and tasks of the Nordic Committee on Bioethics The section on patient s rights deals with the development or absence of special legislation on the status of patients but also with issues of coercive care and of cultural accommodation in health services as well as the implications that assessments and decisions made in health care services may have for the patient s right to other entitlements e g sickness benefits In the third section on biomedical science one author explores the concept of human dignity while another discusses the challenges facing European integration of biomedical research regulation Specific topics such as different approaches to biobank regulation and genetic privacy in family relations are also addressed and in the final chapter the legal status of deceased fetuses While the volume provides Nordic perspectives on health law the issues discussed are general The book should therefore be of great interest not only to readers wanting a better understanding of the Nordic situation but also to anyone with an interest in the challenging health law issues facing society in our time The authors are members of the Nordic Network for Research in Biomedical Law

Conflict and Peacebuilding in the African Great Lakes Region Kenneth Omeje, Tricia Redeker Hepner, 2013-06-19 Driven by genocide civil war political instabilities ethnic and pastoral hostilities the African Great Lakes Region primarily Uganda Rwanda Democratic Republic of the Congo and Burundi has been overwhelmingly defined by conflict Kenneth Omeje Tricia Redeker Hepner and an international group of scholars many from the Great Lakes region focus on the interlocking conflicts and efforts toward peace in this multidisciplinary volume These essays present a range of debates and perspectives on the history and politics of conflict highlighting the complex internal and external sources of both persistent tension and creative peacebuilding Taken together the essays illustrate that no single perspective or approach can adequately capture the dynamics of conflict or offer successful strategies for sustainable peace in the region      The Persistent Power of Human Rights Thomas Risse,Thomas Risse-Kappen,Steve C. Ropp,Stephen C. Ropp,Kathryn Sikkink,2013-03-07 This book offers a unique combination of quantitative and qualitative research arguing for the persistent power of human rights norms      Female Genital Mutilation Charlotte Proudman,2022 The first qualitative study into the impact the criminalisation of female genital mutilation has had on diaspora and stakeholder attitudes towards FGM in the UK It contains survivors testimonies and explores key themes that emerged from the well publicised criminal trials in the UK and the barriers that prevent the law from working effectively
