Valued Environments John R. Gold, Jacquelin Burgess, 2019-03-21 First published in 1982 People care about places Inhabitants demand more participation in the changes proposed for their local environments activists urge greater protection of countryside and natural environments decision makers feel threatened by the antagonism aroused by their powers and plans The essays in this book have been drawn together to discover what lies behind these expressions of concern and discontent Valued environments are places for which people feel commitment and affection places which support a sense of personal identity and well being The authors explore the character and constituents of valued environments asking how our experiences of environments may be enhanced What is the impact of environmental change How can the future be accommodated in both rural and urban environments without destroying their essential qualities The reader will find substantive evidence from case studies of environments valued by inhabitants and outsiders which answer these questions Examples are taken from wilderness areas fenland market towns and large cities commercial streets and residential neighbourhoods environments of the past and those imagined in science fiction The essays are united in their focus on the meaning of places and landscapes The subtle but highly significant role of valued environments is examined thoroughly in the book It will be of interest to all who care deeply about their surroundings reflecting perhaps some of their own experiences as well as conveying information about the environmental experiences of others Students of geography environmental planning and conservation should also find the book directly relevant to their interests in man environment relationships

Edwards,1980-12-11 Eugene John G Smith,2016-08-15 In life is anybody what they seem After a harrowing tour of duty as an RAF conscript Eugene returns to Britain from war ravaged Burma He is unexpectedly excluded from the family butchery business and so he sets out on his return to climb the business ladder embracing and exploiting the innovations and opportunities that present themselves out of the privations of post war Britain For all his rapid advancement in both work and play Eugene is forever mourning the loss of his first love a beautiful lithe young Burmese nurse named Chit Having nurtured him back to life with her tenderness their relationship was brutally shattered when he was dragged away from her under arrest for fraternising with a local Eugene is forced to make a life changing decision marry Chit face court martial and a possible death sentence or return to the UK Not knowing whether he ll ever see his first love again Eugene is driven to succeed but family tragedies ensue his older brother commits suicide and his brother in law is killed in a coal mining accident Eugene finds himself thriving at a time when the rest are going to wrack and ruin But greed and self interest take their toll and disintegration looms Eugene is a riveting account of triumph turmoil and ultimately tragedy This novel will appeal to readers of historical novels the forbidden love of a Burmese girl is woven throughout a historical narrative that details post war Britain and the lives of the young men sent to the Far East making for an intriguing and fast paced read

The Bibliography of Regional Fiction in Britain and Ireland, 1800-2000 Keith D. M. Snell,2017-03-02 Pioneering and interdisciplinary in nature this bibliography constitutes a comprehensive list of regional fiction for every county of Ireland

Scotland Wales and England over the past two centuries In addition other regions of a usually topographical or urban nature have been used such as Birmingham and the Black Country London The Fens the Brecklands the Highlands the Hebrides or the Welsh border Each entry lists the author title and date of first publication The geographical coverage is encompassing and complete from the Channel Islands to the Shetlands An original introduction discusses such matters as definition bibliographical method popular readerships trends in output and the scholarly literature on regional fiction Ellie Peter Hawkins,2016-08-26 Chris hadn't had much success with ladies until he met Ellie someone older than him but still beautiful and young looking From the start Ellie found herself deeply in love with Chris He believed he felt the same way about her Their time together taught him much about pleasing females how to talk to them and give them physical pleasure They experienced full sex together but he never felt the completion of the act In attempts to ensure he stayed with her she gave him gifts although without telling him she had As time passed the need to keep Chris with her became too strong and the gifts became more and more extreme until Chris realized what she had done He knew that there was more to Ellie than he'd imagined Finally Chris knew that they must separate He came to the conclusion that there was only one way he could manage to get safely away from her But would he be able to put into effect his plan of escape From Punt to Plough Rex Sly,2003-09-18 The counties of Lincolnshire Cambridgeshire Norfolk and Suffolk and Peterborough City Council all lay claim to parts of the Fens Since Roman times mankind by his ingenuity hard work and determination has increased the land mass in this area by one third of the size It is the largest plain in the British Isles covering an area of nearly three quarters of a million acres and is unique to the UK The fen people know the area as marsh land reclaimed from the sea and fen land drained from flooding rivers running from the uplands The Fens are unique in having more miles of navigable waterways than anywhere else in the UK Mammoth drainage schemes during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries undertaken primarily by Dutch engineers such as Sir Cornelius Vermuyden and Sir Philibert Vernatti changed the landscape forever but it could be said that the Fens were not truly drained until the twentieth century with improvements being carried out even to this day Rex Sly's book draws on his many years of research and his knowledge of and love for this unique area of England shine through on every page Borderland Ronald Blythe,2007-09-01 Canterbury Press is proud to have acquired these backlist Ronald Blythe titles consisting of illustrated collections of the author's regular weekly column on the back page of the Church Times where with a poet's eye he observes the comings and goings of the rural world he sees from his ancient farmhouse in the South of England Each volume was critically acclaimed on publication Imperial Mud James Boyce,2020-07-02 WINNER OF THE HISTORY AND TRADITION CATEGORY EAST ANGLIAN BOOK AWARDS 2020 LONGLISTED FOR THE RSL ONDAATJE PRIZE 2021 A real page turner a warning about what happens when the rich and powerful dress up their avarice as progress a lesson we could do with learning today Dixe Wills BBC Countryfile magazine FROM A MULTI AWARD WINNING HISTORIAN AN ARRESTING NEW HISTORY OF THE BATTLE FOR THE FENS Between the English Civil Wars and the mid Victorian period the proud indigenous population of the Fens of eastern England fought to preserve their homeland against an expanding empire After centuries of resistance their culture and community were destroyed along with their wetland home England's last lowland wilderness But this was no simple triumph of technology over nature it was the consequence of a newly centralised and militarised state which enriched the few while impoverishing the many In this colourful and evocative history James Boyce brings to life not only colonial masters such as Oliver Cromwell and the Dukes of Bedford but also the defiant Fennish them selves and their dangerous and often bloody resistance to the enclosing landowners We learn of the eels so plentiful they became a kind of medieval currency the games of Fen football that were often a cover for sabotage of the drainage works and the destruction of a bountiful ecosystem that had sustained the Fennish for thousands of years and which meant that they did not have to submit in order to survive Masterfully argued and imbued with a keen sense of place Imperial Mud reimagines not just the history of the Fens but the history and identity of the English people

Churchill's Socialism Siân Adiseshiah, 2020-06-12 Although now celebrated as a world leading playwright Caryl Churchill has received little attention for her socialism which has been frequently overlooked in favour of emphasising gendered identities and postmodernist themes Churchill's Socialism examines eight of Churchill's plays with reference to socialist theories and political movements This well researched and dynamic new book reframes Churchill's work positioning her plays within socialist discourses and producing persuasive political readings of her drama that reflect much more of the political challenge that the plays pose It additionally explores her uneasy relationship with postmodernism which presents itself particularly in Churchill's later plays The book contains a very helpful chapter on socialist contexts which outlines some of the key events debates and movements during the late 1960s up until the early 2000s This chapter also offers an incisive critique of the easy acceptance by some socialists of a postmodernist rejection of grand narratives and political agency An in depth examination of the rarely explored interconnections of utopianism and theatre forms another chapter where all eight of Churchill's plays Light Shining in Buckinghamshire Vinegar Tom Top Girls Fen Serious Money Mad Forest The Skriker and Far Away are introduced The plays are then discussed in pairs in a further four chapters with reference to communist historiography the class gender intersection the end of history thesis ecocritical challenges and postmodernism

Mapping Multi-Genre Literary Frameworks for Trans* Studies Jesse Jack, 2024-11-25 Mapping Multi Genre Literary Frameworks for Trans Studies Without Permanence examines the socio political contexts that have necessitated new twenty first century methods in transgender trans counter storytelling Jesse Jack articulates the role that counter narration serves in representing the empirical needs and realities of gender transing communities and in modeling negotiations between compliance and resistance being out and going stealth As the author contends gender transing communities in the West have been particularly constrained by exceptionalisms of permanence through which individuals who access permanent changes to gender markers on documents of origin e.g birth certificates and embodiment e.g gender affirming care are portrayed throughout the media state surveillance protocols and medical rubrics as authentic compliant and non threatening in contradistinction to more ambiguously gendered frequently racialized and sexualized persons Permanence becomes the exception to the rule that ambiguity presents a threat Jack argues that exceptional permanence emerged through several mutually reinforcing areas of study anthropology and the archive the genre of the trans autobiography sexology migration and surveillance and transgender exclusionary feminisms Through literary criticism this book examines emergent trans counterstories that construct new intertextual and cross genre literary forms designed to recognize ambiguity and mitigate the multifaceted demands and origins of permanence

Pariah R S Bristowe, 2016-04-06 A trail of death mutilation and terror leads to a search for the priceless ancient treasure of the Fen Tigers Following the death of his brother Francis Boyle Eddie reluctantly succeeds to the apparently worthless title of tenth Marquess of Exwick a country estate in Suffolk As a partner in a successful Norfolk estate agency Eddie enjoys a relaxed lifestyle however his inheritance draws him into a nightmarish pursuit of what appears to be an unknown goal After an intriguing phone call from a clergyman in Cambridgeshire Eddie arrives in the village of Herne Fen He soon encounters worrying behaviour from the locals but before Boyle learns any more about this village the vicar disappears Eddie is soon drawn into the police investigation led by DCI Jan Reed Slowly it becomes clear that the investigating team must tie in a number of historical references including clues from journals and expert academic views What begins as a routine search for a missing person soon becomes a murder hunt with the case linking to current deaths and much earlier murders A tale of intrigue mystery and murder Pariah has all the components of a quintessentially British mystery novel and will appeal to fans of authors such as Ian Rankin and Robert Harris

Environment Jules Pretty, 2006-06-23 This four volume set explores the locations where the environment matters most such as where people are poor where environments are under threat such as on frontiers where there are few natural resources remaining and where industrialization is rampant It will also explore these concerns at different system levels from local community to regional national and global It will also explore costs of damage to the very resources on which economies rely and the values of environmental goods and services and the controversies surrounding such valuations It is organized around environment people interactions livelihoods poverty income economic growth environment environment interactions do people matter and people people interactions collective action challenges institutions

History After Hobsbawm John Arnold, Matthew Hilton, Jan Rüger, 2018 What does it mean and what might it yet come to mean to write history in the twenty first century History After Hobsbawm brings together leading historians from across the globe to ask what being an historian should mean in their particular fields of study Taking their cue from one of the previous century s greatest historians Eric Hobsbawm and his interests across many periods and places the essays approach their subjects with an underlying sense of what role an historian might seek to play and attempt to help twenty first century society understand how we got here They present new work in their sub fields but also point to how their specialisms are developing how they might further grow in the future and how different areas of focus might speak to the larger challenges of history both for the discipline itself and for its relationship to other fields of academic inquiry Like Hobsbawm the authors in this collection know that history matters They speak to both the past and the present and in so doing introduce some of the most exciting new lines of research in a broad array of subjects from the medieval period to the present

A Pride of Tigers Sybil Marshall, 2001-04-01 Sybil Marshall was born in 1913 in one of the lowest and most isolated of the black fens in what was then Huntingdonshire. All her antecedents except one can be traced to within a few miles of Ramsey back at least to the beginning of the 18th century. Sybil can claim to be a genuine fen tiger, one of the few still left. She writes about her clannish, warm, hospitable, gifted and laughter-loving family, her kin and the friends and neighbors who shared a life style dictated by the environment and the isolation. Work, dress, food, fashions, customs, everything from a mouth watering recipe for onion dumplings to the advent of the wireless is recorded.

Paddling Britain Lizzie Carr, 2024-10-04 This new thoroughly updated second edition of Bradt's Paddling Britain remains the definitive guide to stand up paddleboarding, kayaking and canoeing, increasingly popular waterborne activities that explore British coastlines and inland waterways. Written by Lizzie Carr, aka Lizzie Outside, Britain's best known paddleboarder, it showcases Britain's 50 best places to enjoy recreational paddling, from Cornwall to Norfolk, Cumbria and the Cairngorms. Stand up paddleboarding (SUP) in particular is sweeping across Britain, giving people the opportunity to explore waterways ranging from city rivers to remote and untouched areas that would otherwise be left inaccessible. Whether you're looking for a nice day out, a weekend adventure or a more daring paddleboarding challenge, Bradt's Paddling Britain will inspire and inform. The waters of England, Wales and Scotland are all featured, from rivers and canals to coastal strips and island circuits. Described in loving detail and with gentle humour, each location contains practical information about how to find these distinctive spots and what to expect on your journey. With Bradt's Paddling Britain, you can paddle between two of the Scilly Isles in under 10 minutes or kayak across the UK's highest and longest aqueduct. Alternatively, you can paddle along Pembrokeshire's idyllic coast, visit the Lake District's sole inhabited island which opens just five days a year or paddle in self-indulgent tranquillity through the hustle and bustle of London. Alongside detailed routes for each location, plus tips on wildlife and secret spots, Paddling Britain advises on where to stay and eat, getting there and when to go. It also provides the low down on everything you need to know for successful and enjoyable stand up paddleboarding, from safety tips to kit, weather watching to paddling responsibly. The author, Lizzie Carr, says this book responds to the countless questions she receives from paddleboarders looking to explore new places and get new experiences from their SUP. Whether people want to take their families for a weekend adventure or enjoy a camping getaway with friends, Paddling Britain aims to answer these questions and inspire people to get outside and explore the UK water scene, both coastal and inland.
