History And Power:

History and Power in the Study of Law June Starr, Jane F. Collier, 2018-03-15 Building on earlier work in the anthropology of law and taking a critical stance toward it June Starr and Jane F Collier ask Should social anthropologists continue to isolate the legal as a separate field of study To answer this question they confront critics of legal anthropology who suggest that the subfield is dying and advocate a reintegration of legal anthropology into a renewed general anthropology Chapters by anthropologists sociologists and law professors using anthropological rather than legal methodologies provide original analyses of particular legal developments Some contributors adopt an interpretative approach focusing on law as a system of meaning others adopt a materialistic approach analyzing the economic and political forces that historically shaped relations between social groups Contributors include Said Armir Arjomand Anton Blok Bernard Cohn George Collier Carol Greenhouse Sally Falk Moore Laura Nader June Nash Lawrence Rosen June Starr and Joan Vincent The Sources of Social Power:

Sheehan, 1996 The balance of power is one of the most fundamental concepts behind international politics and provides a structure for explaining some of the essential principles behind international relations Yet despite its widespread importance it remains an enigma and is surrounded by controversy The Balance of Power traces the evolution of the theory from the eighteenth century to the present day It incorporates classical analysis and recent research to give a detailed account of the concept in practice and the operation of the international system while challenging traditional views of the balance of power Its exploration of the way the balance of power operated in key historical periods shows how the generally accepted development of the concept is based on a misunderstanding of the historical reality

The History and Power of Writing Henri-Jean Martin, 1994-05-16 Cultural history on a grand scale this immensely readable book the summation of decades of study by one of the world's great scholars of the book is the story of writing from its very beginnings to its recent transformations through technology Traversing four millennia Martin offers a chronicle of writing as a cultural system a means of communication and a history of technologies He shows how the written word originated how it spread and how it figured in the evolution of civilization Using as his center the role of printing in making the written way of thinking dominant Martin examines the interactions of individuals and cultures to produce new forms of writing in the many senses of authorship language rendition and script Martin looks at how much the development of writing owed to practical necessity and how much to religious and social systems of symbols He describes the precursors to writing and reveals their place in early civilization as mnemonic devices in service of the spoken word The tenacity of the oral tradition plays a surprisingly important part in this story Martin notes and even as late as the eighteenth century educated individuals were trained in classical rhetoric and preferred to rely on the arts of memory Finally Martin discusses the changes to writing wrought by the electronic revolution offering invaluable insights into the influence these new technologies have had on children born into the computer age History of the United States Wilbur Fisk Gordy,1922 The Constitutional History of England Frederic William Maitland,1920 On Power Bertrand de Jouvenel,1962 A Short History of Power Simon Heffer,2011 From Macaulay in the 19th century to Fukuyama in the late 20th historians have often been lulled into thinking that things can only get better Such belief in progress argues leading political commentator Simon Heffer may be typical of times of plenty but it ignores a less palatable truth that since the beginnings of recorded history the major events in international relations can be attributed to a single cause the desire by rulers to assert or protect their power Taking a panoramic view from the days of Thucydides up to the present Heffer offers a fourfold analysis of the motive forces behind the pursuit of power land wealth God and minds If we understand these forces he contends we can more clearly understand why history is destined to repeat itself Studies in History, Economics, and Public Law ,1907 The history of Napoleon Bonaparte John Stevens Cabot Abbott,1874 American History and Government James Albert Woodburn,Thomas Francis Moran,1906 The National Magazine; A Monthly Journal of American History ,1888
