The Sphere and the Labyrinth: Avant-Garde and Architecture from Piranesi to the 1970s
Manfredo Tafuri

Translated by Pellegrino d'Acunzio and Robert Connolly

"Tafuri's work is probably the most innovative and exciting new form of European theory since French post-structuralism, and this book, which can be read either as a theoretical statement about the contradictions of the modernist avant-garde or as a series of dense and fresh historical monographs, is probably the best introduction to it for the non-specialist. Its exhibits range from an extraordinary juxtaposition of Piranesi with Eisenstein, through stunning chapters on Weimar and Soviet modernism to contemporary postmodern architecture, with extensive comments on recent Anglo-American projects. His diagnosis of the dilemmas of modernity and of late capitalism extends the Frankfurt School in new ways, and is bleak, implacable, and for that very reason, therapeutic, and painfully stimulating."

—Fredric Jameson

Architecture and Utopia: Design and Capitalist Development
Manfredo Tafuri

In this book Tafuri leads the reader beyond architectural form into a broader understanding of the relation of architecture to society and architects to the work force and the marketplace. He discusses the Garden City movement and the suburban developments it generated, the German-Russian architectural experiments of the 1920s, the place of the avant-garde in the plastic arts, and the uses and pitfalls of semiological approaches to architecture. Tafuri, Reconstructing Italy Stephanie Zeier Pilat, 2016-04-08 Reconstructing Italy traces the postwar transformation of the Italian nation through an analysis of the Ina Casa plan for working class housing established in 1949 to address the employment and housing crises Government sponsored housing programs undertaken after WWII have often been criticized as experiments that created more social problems than they solved The neighborhoods of Ina Casa stand out in contrast to their contemporaries both in terms of design and outcome Unlike modernist high rise housing projects of the period Ina Casa neighborhoods are picturesque and human scaled and incorporate local construction materials and methods resulting in a rich aesthetic diversity And unlike many other government forays into housing undertaken during this period the Ina Casa plan was on the whole successful the neighborhoods are still lively and cohesive communities today This book examines what made Ina Casa a success among so many failed housing experiments focusing on the tenuous balance struck between the legislation governing Ina Casa the architects who led the Ina Casa administration the theory of design that guided architects working on the plan and an analysis of the results the neighborhoods and homes constructed Drawing on the writings of the architects government documents and including brief passages from works of neorealist literature and descriptions of neorealist films by Pier Paolo Pasolini Italo Calvino and others this book presents a portrait of the postwar struggle to define a post Fascist Italy The Routledge Companion to Italian Fascist Architecture Kay Bea Jones, Stephanie Pilat, 2020-04-30 Today nearly a century after the National Fascist Party came to power in Italy questions about the built legacy of the regime provoke polemics among architects and scholars Mussolini s government constructed thousands of new buildings across the Italian Peninsula and islands and in colonial territories From hospitals post offices and stadia to housing summer camps Fascist Party Headquarters ceremonial spaces roads railways and bridges the physical traces of the regime have a presence in nearly every Italian town The Routledge Companion to Italian Fascist Architecture investigates what has become of the architectural and urban projects of Italian fascism how sites have been transformed or adapted and what constitutes the meaning of these buildings and cities today The essays include a rich array of new arguments by both senior and early career scholars from Italy and beyond They examine the reception of fascist architecture through studies of destruction and adaptation debates over reuse artistic interventions and even routine daily practices which may slowly alter collective understandings of such places Paolo Portoghesi sheds light on the subject from his internal perspective while Harald Bodenschatz situates Italy among period totalitarian authorities and their symbols across Europe Section editors frame synthesize and moderate essays that explore fascism s afterlife how the physical legacy of the regime has been altered and preserved and what it means now This critical history of interpretations of fascist era architecture and urban projects broadens our understanding of the relationships among politics identity memory and place This companion will be of interest

Goodman, 2011-03-16 A sharp and lively text that covers issues in depth but not to the point that they become inaccessible to beginning students An Introduction to Architectural Theory is the first narrative history of this period charting the veritable revolution in architectural thinking that has taken place as well as the implications of this intellectual upheaval The first comprehensive and critical history of architectural theory over the last fifty years surveys the intellectual history of architecture since 1968 including criticisms of high modernism the rise of postmodern and poststructural theory critical regionalism and tectonics Offers a comprehensive overview of the significant changes that architectural thinking has undergone in the past fifteen years Includes an analysis of where architecture stands and where it will likely move in the coming years

The Historiography of Modern Architecture Panayotis Tournikiotis, 2001-02-27 The history of modern architecture as constructed by historians and key texts Writing according to Panayotis Tournikiotis has always exerted a powerful influence on architecture Indeed the study of modern architecture cannot be separated from a fascination with the texts that have tried to explain the idea of a new architecture in a new society During the last forty years the question of the relationship of architecture to its history of buildings to books has been one of the most important themes in debates about the course of modern architecture Tournikiotis argues that the history of modern architecture tends to be written from the present

projecting back onto the past our current concerns so that the beginning of the story really functions as a representation of its end In this book the buildings are the quotations while the texts are the structure Tournikiotis focuses on a group of books by major historians of the twentieth century Nikolaus Pevsner Emil Kaufmann Sigfried Giedion Bruno Zevi Leonardo Benevolo Henry Russell Hitchcock Reyner Banham Peter Collins and Manfredo Tafuri In examining these writers thoughts he draws on concepts from critical theory relating architecture to broader historical models An Architect's Guide to Fame Paul Davies, Torsten Schmiedeknecht, Julie Cook, 2005 Behind the scenes look at how to become a star architect The Politics of Architectural Pedagogy in Iran Ali Javid, 2024-08-26 The Politics of Architectural Pedagogy in Iran explores the evolution of architectural pedagogy during two significant socio political upheavals in Iran The White Revolution 1963 and the Islamic Revolution 1979 It examines how these transformative periods influenced the field providing valuable insights into the intersection of architectural education and broader socio political shifts in Iran By examining the critical role of education in achieving geopolitical objectives during the Cold War this book explores architectural pedagogy as an agent for resistance and revolution It highlights how architectural pedagogy not only reflects radical ideologies but also actively engages in socio political transformation The book uncovers how architectural pedagogy became one of the mechanisms to accomplish revolutionary goals This is evident in initiatives like the Pedagogical Revolution during the White Revolution 1963 aimed at modernizing educational institutions and the Revolutionary Pedagogy during the Islamic Revolution 1979 which sought to serve the masses and the religious revolutionary society In this way the book adds a new geopolitical perspective to the contemporary discourse of radical pedagogies This book explores the intricate connections between architectural pedagogy and politics through a transdisciplinary approach It analyzes original multilingual documents including political agendas cultural agreements curricula teaching methods student works exhibitions and conferences It will be of interest to architectural historians and architecture students particularly those interested in Global South development modernism architectural pedagogy international relations and Middle Eastern studies Constructing Place Sarah Menin, 2004-02-24 This book is a cutting edge study examining the attitudes to both nature and the built environment of the designer the client and the society in which an intervention be it architecture landscape design or a piece of art is made The legacy of the Modernist view of nature and the environment is also addressed and the degree to which such ideas continue to impinge on contemporary interventions is assessed Modern Italy Denis Mack Smith, 1997 A new edition of the classic historical text on Italy The Delirious Museum Calum Storrie, 2007-10-24 The Delirious Museum is a remarkable illuminating work which presents an original view of the idea of the museum in the twenty first century re imagining the possibilities for museums and their displays and re examining the blurred boundaries between museums and the cities around them On his quest for the Delirious Museum Storrie takes a journey that begins in the Louvre and continues through Paris London Los Angeles and Las Vegas He encounters on his way the museum architecture of John Soane Carlo Scarpa and Daniel Libeskind the exhibitions of

El Lissitzky and of Frederick Kiesler and the work of artists as varied as Marcel Duchamp Andy Warhol Marcel Broodthaers Sophie Calle and Mark Dion

Architecture Depends Jeremy Till, 2013-02-08 Polemics and reflections on how to bridge the gap between what architecture actually is and what architects want it to be Architecture depends on what On people time politics ethics mess the real world Architecture Jeremy Till argues with conviction in this engaging sometimes pugnacious book cannot help itself it is dependent for its very existence on things outside itself Despite the claims of autonomy purity and control that architects like to make about their practice architecture is buffeted by uncertainty and contingency Circumstances invariably intervene to upset the architect's best laid plans at every stage in the process from design through construction to occupancy Architects however tend to deny this fearing contingency and preferring to pursue perfection With Architecture Depends architect and critic Jeremy Till offers a proposal for rescuing architects from themselves a way to bridge the gap between what architecture actually is and what architects want it to be Mixing anecdote design social theory and personal experience Till's writing is always accessible moving freely between high and low registers much like his suggestions for architecture itself

Le Corbusier's Venice Hospital Project Mahnaz Shah, 2017-05-15 While Le Corbusier's urban projects are generally considered confrontational in their relationship to the traditional urban fabric his proposal for the Venice hospital project remained an exercise in preserving the medieval fabric of the city of Venice through a systemic replication of its urban tissue This book offers a detailed study of Le Corbusier's Venice hospital project as a plausible built entity In addition it analyses it in the light of its supposed affinity with the medieval urban configuration of the city of Venice No formal attempt to date has been made to critically analyse the hospital project's design considerations in comparison to the medieval urban configuration of the city of Venice Using a range of methodologies including those from architectural theory and history using archival resources on site analysis and interviews with important resource persons this book is an interpretation of the conceptual basis for Le Corbusier's understanding of the structural formulation of the city of Venice as mentioned in The Radiant City 1935 In doing so it deciphers the diagrammatic analysis of the city structure found in this work into a set of coherent design modules that were applied in the hospital project and that could become a point of further investigation Architects and other architecturally interested laypeople with an interest in Venice will find the book a valuable addition to their knowledge For architectural historians the book makes an important link between modernism and the historically grown Venice

From Object to Experience Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2018-06-28 Harry Francis Mallgrave combines a history of ideas about architectural experience with the latest insights from the fields of neuroscience cognitive science and evolutionary biology to make a powerful argument about the nature and future of architectural design Today the sciences have granted us the tools to help us understand better than ever before the precise ways in which the built environment can affect the building user's individual experience Through an understanding of these tools architects should be able to become better designers prioritizing the experience of space the emotional and aesthetic responses and the sense of homeostatic well being of those who will occupy any designed environment In From Object to Experience Mallgrave goes further arguing that it should also be possible to build an effective new cultural ethos for architectural practice Drawing upon a range of humanistic and biological sources and emphasizing the far reaching implications of new neuroscientific discoveries and models this book brings up to date insights and theoretical clarity to a position that was once considered revolutionary but is fast becoming accepted in architecture

Architecture Theory since 1968 K. Michael Hays, 2000-02-28 An anthology of the pivotal theoretical texts that have defined architecture culture in the late twentieth century In the discussion of architecture there is a prevailing sentiment that since 1968 cultural production in its traditional sense can no longer be understood to rise spontaneously as a matter of social course but must now be constructed through ever more self conscious theoretical procedures The development of interpretive modes of various stripes post structuralist Marxian phenomenological psychoanalytic as well as others dissenting or eccentric has given scholars a range of tools for rethinking architecture in relation to other fields and for reasserting architecture's general importance in intellectual discourse This anthology presents forty seven of the primary texts of architecture theory introducing each with an explication of the concepts and categories necessary for its understanding and evaluation It also presents twelve documents of projects or events that had major theoretical repercussions for the period Several of the essays appear here in English for the first time Contributors Diana Agrest Stanford Anderson Archizoom George Baird Jennifer Bloomer Massimo Cacciari Jean Louis Cohen Beatriz Colomina Alan Colquhoun Maurice Culot Jacques Derrida Ignasi de Sol Morales Peter Eisenman Robin Evans Michel Foucault Kenneth Frampton Mario Gandelsonas Frank Gehry Jürgen Habermas John Hejduk Denis Hollier Bernard Huet Catherine Ingraham Fredric Jameson Charles A Jencks Jeffrey Kipnis Fred Koetter Rem Koolhaas Leon Krier Sanford Kwinter Henri Lefebvre Daniel Libeskind Mary McLeod Alberto Pérez Gómez Jos Quetglas Aldo Rossi Colin Rowe Massimo Scolari Denise Scott Brown Robert Segrest Jorge Silvetti Robert Somol Martin Steinmann Robert A M Stern James Stirling Manfredo Tafuri Georges Teyssot Bernard Tschumi Anthony Vidler Paul Virilio Mark Wigley

Something Completely Different Christophe Van Gerrewey, 2024-07-02 How architecture in Belgium from its very beginnings has epitomized modernity and singularity Since the foundation of the country in 1830 architecture in Belgium has been an expression of the key issues of modern Western societies In Something Completely Different Christophe Van Gerrewey uses this small European country as a case study to describe interpret and criticize more universal spatial problems and behaviors In seven wide ranging essays he looks at the activities of architects from the past two centuries to better understand political evolutions social gaps aesthetic considerations housing and planning transport and infrastructure order and chaos and culture and ecology The result is a literary text full of surprises and discoveries showing both the shortcomings and the merits of what architects do Written as a kind of anti guidebook Something Completely Different appropriates certain clichés about Belgium Baudelaire famously called Belgian monuments counterfeit of France eschews the pragmatism of most guidebooks in favor of meditative essayistic prose and finally cunningly reveals that all along the subject has not been Belgium at all but rather the nature of architecture 20/1 ,1990
