Leviticus as Discourse is an inquiry into textual interpretation as an activity of self orientation It explores how readers orient themselves to texts they do not understand why they do it and what happens in the process Drawing on the work of Paul Ricoeur George Steiner and a range of voices across disciplines and faiths Part I develops a hermeneutic of discourse in which difficulty features prominently as both challenge and opportunity Part II tests this hermeneutic of difficult discourse through three exegetical probes of the function of discourse as it is portrayed in Leviticus In light of this theoretical and exegetical work the book concludes by suggesting that the extent of a text s difficulty may be precisely the extent of its potential to enlarge and enrich our ways of seeing the world and our place within it Anchored in robust scholarship and close reading of the biblical text Leviticus as Discourse demonstrates the practical value of developing transferable interpretive skills to offer a fresh take on the relevance of Leviticus for contemporary readers The Big Idea Companion for Preaching and Teaching Matthew D. Preaching and Paul's Letter to the Romans Ronald J. Allen, 2025-07-10 Ronald J Allen argues that the apostle Paul wrote his letter to the Romans to address specifically the gentiles in the congregation in Rome Allen suggests that this was because the gentiles exhibited arrogant behavior towards Jewish members of the community thereby undermining a primary facet of the early church to witness to the community of love and mutual support that God seeks for all Allen shows readers how Paul points the gentiles to the faithfulness of God who invites them to recognize and live according to the grace of God shown to them through Jesus Christ In this pastorally engaged work Allen not only provides historical commentary on Romans but also helps preachers and scholars make connections between arrogance and its destructiveness in communities today as well as inviting congregations to participate in the grace that makes possible a loving and mutually respectful community
