Feminization Of Famine

Malcolm Sen

Feminization Of Famine:

The Feminization of Famine Margaret Kelleher, 1997 Contemporary media depictions of famine disaster display a striking prevalence female images The Feminization of Famine is a unique study of the tradition of female representations in famine literature from nineteenth century accounts of the Irish famine to the present day It examines the many novels and short stories written about the Irish famine over the last 150 years from the novels of William Carleton Anthony Trollope and Maria Edgeworth through to the writings of Liam O Flaherty and John Banville These literary works are read in the context of a rich variety of other sources including contemporary eyewitness accounts of the Great Irish Famine women s memoirs and journalistic writings and famine historiography The recurring motifs used to depict famine are highlighted the prevalence of images of mother and child the scrutiny of women s starved bodies efforts to express the inexpressible The author investigates the effect of famine representations and their crucial role in shaping viewers and readers interpretations of the famine The Feminization of Famine provides a significant critique of how famine has been represented and suggests important parallels with the current presentation of emergency and disaster

Holodomor and Gorta Mór Christian Noack, Lindsay Janssen, Vincent Comerford, 2014-10-01 Ireland s Great Famine or an Gorta Mór 1845 51 and Ukraine s Holodomor 1932 33 occupy central places in the national historiographies of their respective countries Acknowledging that questions of collective memory have become a central issue in cultural studies this volume inquires into the role of historical experiences of hunger and deprivation within the emerging national identities and national historical narratives of Ireland and Ukraine In the Irish case a solid body of research has been compiled over the last 150 years while Ukraine s Holodomor by contrast was something of an open secret that historians could only seriously research after the demise of communist rule This volume is the first attempt to draw these approaches together and to allow for a comparative study of how the historical experiences of famine were translated into narratives that supported political claims for independent national statehood in Ireland and Ukraine Juxtaposing studies on the Irish and Ukrainian cases written by eminent historians political scientists and literary and film scholars the essays in this interdisciplinary volume analyse how national historical narratives were constructed and disseminated whether or not they changed with circumstances or were challenged by competing visions both academic and non academic In doing so the essays discuss themes such as representation commemoration and mediation and the influence of these processes on the shaping of cultural memory

Emblems of Adversity Rached Khalifa, 2020-06-01 The essays collected in Emblems of Adversity Essays on the Aesthetics of Politics in W B Yeats and Others hinge on the question of political articulation in Yeats s poetry Politics and history are paramount to our understanding of the Yeatsian poetic text They are inextricable from the poet s aesthetic philosophy Yet politics manifests itself in a complex and complicated form in his work It articulates itself both consciously and unconsciously It is at once latent and manifest appropriated and yet rejected unambiguously announced in the title but immediately muffled in the corpus Additionally political articulation in Yeats s poetry is multifarious insofar as the biographical the national and the historical are not only politicized but most often envisioned apocalyptically as emblems of adversity To put it differently ageing Irish politics and modernity are synonymous with a Time transmogrifying ancestral houses into ruins a Time half dead at the top Self Ireland and history are intermeshed in Yeats s symbolism They are inseparable from his worldview His rage against ageing most often culminates in raging about the age both modernity and

Irish current reality These essays trace Yeats's aestheticization of politics right from the beginning of his poetic career from his early pastoral innocence to the later modernist experience Some of them examine Yeats comparatively with other modernists Irish Times David Lloyd, 2008 Three Famines Thomas Keneally, 2011-08-30 Famine may be triggered by nature but its outcome arises from politics and ideology In Three Famines award winning author Thomas Keneally uncovers the troubling truth that sustained widespread hunger is historically the outcome of government neglect and individual venality Through the lens of three of the most disastrous famines in modern history the potato famine in Ireland the famine in Bengal in 1943 and the string of famines that plagued Ethiopia in the 1970s and 1980s Keneally shows how ideology mindsets of governments racial preconceptions and administrative incompetence were ultimately more lethal than the initiating blights or crop failures In this compelling narrative Keneally recounts the histories of these events while vividly evoking the terrible cost of famine at the level of the individual who starves and the nation that withers Ireland in Proximity David Alderson, Fiona Becket, Scott Brewster, Virginia Crossman, 2002-01-22 Ireland in Proximity surveys and develops the expanding field of Irish Studies reviewing existing debates within the discipline and providing new avenues for exploration Drawing on a variety of disciplinary and theoretical approaches this impressive collection of essays makes an innovative contribution to three areas of current and often contentious debate within Irish Studies This accessible volume illustrates the diversity of thinking on Irish history culture and identity By invoking theoretical perspectives including psychoanalysis cultural theories of space postcoloniality and theories of gender and sexual difference the collection offers fresh perspectives on established subjects and brings new and under represented areas of critical concern to the fore Chapter subjects include sexuality and gender identities the historiographical issues surrounding the Famine the Irish diaspora theories of space in relation to Ulster and beyond Contributors include David Alderson Aidan Arrowsmith Caitriona Beaumont Fiona Becket Scott Brewster Dan Baron Cohen Mary Corcoran Virginia Crossman Richard Kirkland David Lloyd Patrick McNally Elisabeth Mahoney Willy Maley Shaun Richards ibhear Walshe The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish Fiction Liam Harte, 2020-10-15 The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish Fiction presents authoritative essays by thirty five leading scholars of Irish fiction They provide in depth assessments of the breadth and achievement of novelists and short story writers whose collective contribution to the evolution and modification of these unique art forms has been far out of proportion to Ireland's small size The volume brings a variety of critical perspectives to bear on the development of modern Irish fiction situating authors texts and genres in their social intellectual and literary historical contexts The Handbook's coverage encompasses an expansive range of topics including the recalcitrant atavisms of Irish Gothic fiction nineteenth century Irish women's fiction and its influence on emergent modernism and cultural nationalism the diverse modes of irony fabulism and social realism that characterize the fiction of the Irish Literary Revival the fearless aesthetic radicalism of James Joyce the jolting narratological experiments of Samuel Beckett Flann O'Brien and Mairéad Ní Cadhain the fate of the

Anglophone Indian Women Writers, 1870-1920 Ellen

Brinks, 2016-04-15 The result of extensive archival recovery work Ellen Brinks's study fills a significant gap in our understanding of women's literary history of the South Asian subcontinent under colonialism and of Indian women's contributions and responses to developing cultural and political nationalism As Brinks shows the invisibility of Anglophone Indian women writers cannot be explained simply as a matter of colonial marginalization or as a function of dominant theoretical approaches that reduce Indian women to the status of figures or tropes The received narrative that British imperialism in India was perpetuated with little cultural contact between the colonizers and the colonized population is complicated by writers such as Toru Dutt Krupabai Satthianadhan Pandita Ramabai Cornelia Sorabji and Sarojini Naidu All five women found large audiences for their literary works in India and in Great Britain and all five were also deeply rooted in and connected to both South Asian and Western cultures Their works created new zones of cultural contact and exchange that challenge postcolonial theory's tendencies towards abstract notions of the colonized women as passive and of English as a de facto instrument of cultural domination Brinks's close readings of these texts suggest new ways of reading a range of issues central to postcolonial studies the relationship of colonized women to the metropolitan literary culture Indian and English women's separate and joint engagements in reformist and nationalist struggles the translatability of culture the articulation strategies and complex negotiations of self identification of Anglophone Indian women writers and the significance and place of cultural difference

China Networks Jens Damm, Mechthild Leutner, 2009 Networks ranging from village level to transnational level have always played a crucial role in Chinese society The contributors to this volume aim to trace the interaction between various networks which have existed from the 19th century to the present day The articles deal with theoretical concepts historical examples such as non state responses to the North China Famine 1876-1879 the role of missionaries in the modernization of China and disaster management including recent inter ethnic business competition in Hong Kong Han settlers in Xinjiang temple festivals in Macau and urban migrants social networks in today's China By drawing on new material and theoretical frameworks these studies shed fresh light on the ways in which various forms of networks have shaped Chinese society while at the same time questioning traditional and rigid perspectives of Chinese society based solely on networks and guanxi

Cultural Politics of Hygiene in India, 1890-1940 Srirupa Prasad, 2015-09-08 This book examines genealogies of contagion in between contagion as microbe and contagion as affect It analyzes how and why hygiene became authoritative and succeeded in becoming a part of the broader social and cultural vocabulary within the colonialist anti colonial as well as modernist discourses

Ireland, Sweden, and the Great European Migration, 1815-1914 Donald Harman Akenson, 2011-08-23 This book is the product of Donald Akenson's decades of research and writing on Irish social history and its relationship to the Irish diaspora it is also the product of a lifetime of trying to figure out where Swedish America actually came from and why These two matters Akenson shows are intimately related Ireland and Sweden each provide a tight case study of a larger phenomenon one that for better or worse shaped the modern world the Great European Diaspora of the true nineteenth century Akenson's book parts company with the great bulk of recent emigration research by employing sharp transnational comparisons and by situating the two case studies in the larger context of the Great European Migration and of what determines the physics of a diaspora no small matter as the concept of diaspora has become central to twenty first century transnational studies He argues against the increasing refusal of mainstream historians to use empirical databases that the history community still has a lot to learn from economic historians and simultaneously that despite the self confidence of their proponents narrow economically based explanations of the Great European Migration leave out many of the most important aspects of the whole complex transaction Akenson believes that culture and economic matters both count and that leaving either one on the margins of explanation yields no valid explanation at all
