Fenella Phizackerley:

Fenella Phizackerley Margaret Forster, 1970-01-01      My Life in Houses Margaret Forster, 2014-11-06 I was born on 25th May 1938 in the front bedroom of a house in Orton Road a house on the outer edges of Raffles a council estate I was a lucky girl So begins Margaret Forster's journey through the houses she's lived in from that sparkling new council house to her beloved London home of today This is not a book about bricks and mortar though This is a book about what houses are to us the effect they have on the way we live our lives and the changing nature of our homes from blacking grates and outside privies to cities dominated by bedsits and lodgings to the houses of today converted back into single dwellings Finally it is a gently insistent personal inquiry into the meaning of home      Rebel Writers: The Accidental Feminists Celia Brayfield, 2021-07-22 Make this your next inspirational read Trust us it's Oprah's Book Club worthy Vice In London in 1958 a play by a 19 year old redefined women's writing in Britain It also began a movement that would change women's lives forever The play was A Taste of Honey and the author Shelagh Delaney was the first in a succession of young women who wrote about their lives with an honesty that dazzled the world They rebelled against sexism inequality and prejudice and in doing so challenged the existing definitions of what writing and writers should be Bypassing the London cultural elite their work reached audiences of millions around the world paved the way for profound social changes and laid the foundations of second wave feminism After Delaney came Edna O'Brien Lynne Reid Banks Charlotte Bingham Nell Dunn Virginia Ironside and Margaret Forster an extraordinarily disparate group who were united in their determination to shake the traditional concepts of womanhood in novels films television essays and journalism They were as angry as the Angry Young Men but were also more constructive and proposed new ways to live and love in the future They did not intend to become a literary movement but they did inspire other writers to follow Not since the Brontës have a group of young women been so determined to tell the truth about what it is like to be a girl In this biographical study the acclaimed author Celia Brayfield tells their story for the first time      Rich Desserts and Captain's Thin Margaret Forster, 2013-09-30 In 1831 John Dodgson Carr son of a Quaker grocer set off to walk from his home in Kendal to Carlisle determined to launch a great enterprise Within 15 years Carr's of Carlisle had become one of the largest baking businesses in the world and is a by word for biscuits to this day Following his trail to Carlisle where she herself was born and grew up Margaret Forster brings 19th century daily life into vivid focus and charts the rise and rise of a middle class family like the Carrs ambitious innovative yet sternly religious This is history as it was lived by the men and women both above and below stairs from the shop floor to the comfortable bourgeois homes of the paternalistic Carrs We see the conflict between religion and profit the family feuds and the changing face of a city through this compelling historical narrative told with Margaret Forster's characteristic blend of scholarship readability and marvellous attention to the texture of everyday life      Good Wives Margaret Forster, 2012-07-31 What is a good wife The bestselling author of Hidden Lives explores four marriages including her own in different times and societies to find the answer In 1848 Mary Moffatt became the wife of the missionary and explorer David Livingstone and her obedience and devotion eventually killed her In 1960 Margaret Forster married her school sweetheart Hunter Davies in a London Registry Office and interpreted the role very differently Between these two marriages is a huge gulf in which the notion of marriage changed immeasurably Forster traces the shift in emphasis from submission to partnership first through the marriage of one unconventional American Fanny Osbourne to Robert Louis Stevenson in the late nineteenth century and then through that of Jennie Lee to Aneurin Bevan in the 1930s Why does a woman still want to be a wife in the twenty first century What is the value of marriage today Why do couples still marry in church These are some of the questions Forster asks as she weaves the personal experience of forty years through the stories of three wives who have long fascinated her

British Working Class women authors (born before 1962) a list Stefan Szczelkun ,2025-06-07 A collection of Wikipedia articles edited reformatted and with additions In chronological order References and sections on non literary activity are sometimes omitted hopefully not to the point of misrepresenting the author which might include feminist or political activism To my surprise the biographical material on Wikipedia was sometimes mesmerising although it was uneven Where there were gaps I have tried to fill them from other sources Refer back to the wikipedia articles for more context and references in some cases and if you have a verified source of information please update the Wikipedia article Wikipedia is published under a creative commons licence So this compilation also carries a creative commons licence Introduction Looking through Sarah Richardson s Writing on the Line 1996 I was struck by how many of the working class women writers were from North America and how many more were poets Howard Slater had made a list of British working class male novelists and I selected British woman writers from Writing on the Line and found that most of them now have Wikipedia pages I first made a list of links Wanting to take this further I first looked to focus on novels and short story writers but this category started to break up as many writers wrote in many idioms producing fact fiction poetry plays screenwriting and journalism I decided on an arbitrary cut off point of writers born before 1962 When I first made the list I was thinking how few working class women novelists had been published in this period But then the lists of books by each author started to stack up and there s plenty to read and much that I missed even really hearing about Of course it focuses on the most successful others who produced a community published autobiography or self published novel did not get a Wikipedia page and they should really be included every life counts Others only published an autobiography perhaps in the last years of life but were extraordinary writers and people We could also discuss the genre snobbery in literary circles that puts crime young peoples literature romantic and fantasy fiction and perhaps historical based narratives in a lower category than the novel The International Who's Who of Women 2002 Elizabeth Sleeman,2001 Over 5 500 detailed biographies of the most eminent talented and distinguished women in the world today Elizabeth Barrett Browning Margaret Forster,2012-09-30 This biography of Elizabeth Barrett Browning written with reference to Browning correspondence only recently available argues that the poet was a strong and determined woman largely responsible for her own incarceration in Wimpole Street The author traces her life from her early childhood and adolescence and explores her marriage She draws a picture of early Victorian family life and aims to show that Elizabeth was a considerable and dedicated poet self willed witty and courageous Forster has also edited the companion volume Selected Poems of Elizabeth Barrett Browning and is author of several other biographies British and Irish Novelists Since 1960 Merritt Moseley, 2003 Essays on British and Irish novelists discusses the combination of desperation and avant gardism bestsellers masterpieces competing technologies hyper fiction the future of the novel recent changes in British publishing and the increase in writings by celebrity authors A Dictionary of Writers and their Works Christopher Riches, Michael Cox, 2015-01-29 Over 3 200 entries An essential guide to authors and their works that focuses on the general canon of British literature from the fifteenth century to the present There is also some coverage of non fiction such as biographies memoirs and science as well as inclusion of major American and Commonwealth writers This online exclusive new edition adds 60 000 new words including over 50 new entries dealing with authors who have risen to prominence in the last five years as well as fully updating the entries that currently exist Each entry provides details of a writer s nationality and birth death dates followed by a listing of their titles arranged chronologically by date of publication Writing and Reality Andrew Hassam, 1993 Studies use of diary format by contemporary British novelists to challenge cultural value The Publishers Weekly , 1972 Marital Rites Margaret Forster, 1982 Women and Literature Sense and Sensibility Collective, 1973 Cumulated Fiction Index , 1975 Catalog of Copyright Entries.
