Histories of the Future Susan Harding, Daniel Rosenberg, 2005-07-21 An anthropologically based interdisciplinary collection on sites and projections of imagined futures from conspiracy theorists to technological dystopias A Brief History of the Future Jacques Attali, 2011-07 Prescient and convincing this book is a must read for anyone concerned about the future A Short History of the Future W. Warren Wagar, 1999-08 Narrated by a far future historian Peter Jensen leaves an account of the world from the 1990s to the opening of the 23rd century as a gift to his granddaughter A combination of fiction and scholarship this third edition of Wagar's speculative history of the future alternates between descriptions of world events and intimate glimpses of this historian's family into the first centuries of the new millennium

History Future Now Tristan Fischer, 2013-12-28 As a boy Tristan Fischer was fascinated by both history and science fiction Isaac Asimov's Foundation series which was based on The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire by Edward Gibbon written in 1776 was his favourite book series and showed that history is just part of a long continuum of time that includes both the present and the far future The better we understand the past the better we are able to anticipate future events History Future Now investigates some of the big questions that concern us today such as migration food security climate change middle class jobs the rise of China and instability in the Middle East through the lens of history and the future How do these issues compare to similar issues in the past and what impact will these issues have in the future History and Future David J. Staley, 2007-01-01 The book reexamines this long held belief and argues that the historical method is an excellent way to think about and represent the future At the same time the book asserts that futurists should not view the future as a scientist might aiming for predictions and certainties but rather should view the future in the same way that an historian views the past A History of the Future Christopher C. Hong, 1981 The University of London (history, Present Presources and Future Possiblilites) Sir Thomas Gregory Foster, 1922

Histories of the Future of the Book James Daniel Elam, 2008 Annual Report of the American Museum of Natural History for the Year American Museum of Natural History, 1910 Includes list of members The Nineteenth Century and After, 1927 Knowing Future Time In and Through Greek Historiography Alexandra Lianeri, 2016-03-07 From the early modern period Greek historiography has been studied in the context of Cicero's notion historia magistra vitae and considered to exclude conceptions of the future as different from the present and past Comparisons with the Roman Judeo Christian and modern historiography have sought to justify this perspective by drawing on a category of the future as a temporal mode that breaks with the present In this volume distinguished classicists and historians challenge this contention by raising the question of what the future was and meant in antiquity by offering fresh considerations of prognostic and anticipatory voices in Greek historiography from Herodotus to Appian and by tracing the roots of established views on historical time in the opposition between antiquity and modernity They look both at contemporary scholarly argument and the writings of Greek historians in order to explore the relation of time especially the future to an idea of the historical that is formulated in the plural and is always in motion By reflecting on the prognostic of historical time the volume will be of interest not only to classical scholars but to all who are interested in the history and theory of historical time Encyclopedia of Gay Histories and Cultures George Haggerty,2013-11-05 First Published in 2000 A rich heritage that needs to be documented Beginning in 1869 when the study of homosexuality can be said to have begun with the establishment of sexology this encyclopedia offers accounts of the most important international developments in an area that now occupies a critical place in many fields of academic endeavors It covers a long history and a dynamic and ever changing present while opening up the academic profession to new scholarship and new ways of thinking A groundbreaking new approach While gays and lesbians have shared many aspects of life their histories and cultures developed in profoundly different ways To reflect this crucial fact the encyclopedia has been prepared in two separate volumes assuring that both histories receive full unbiased attention and that a broad range of human experience is covered Written for and by a widerange of people Intended as a reference for students and scholars in all fields as well as for the general public the encyclopedia is written in user friendly language At the same time it maintains a high level of scholarship that incorporates both passion and objectivity It is written by some of the most famous names in the field as well as new scholars whose research continues to advance gender studies into the future History of the Church in the 18th & 19th centuries, tr. by J.F. Hurst Karl Rudolph Hagenbach,1870 A Scientific Demonstration of the Future Life Thomson Jay Hudson,1897 The History of the Future Max Singer,2011-07-16 The History of the Future presents a set of ideas about where we are in history It focuses on the great majority of people in each society and shows that life in the modern world will be almost completely different from all previous human experience The present time is best understood as a period of transition during which one country after another is following along parallel paths from traditional to modern The process of becoming modern is so powerful that it will have similar effects on all countries Therefore one can predict the future of countries still undergoing this change by looking at the history of countries which have already completed their transition Singer asserts that a war system has long existed in which the central concern of nations has been to protect their security by military forces and alliances He makes the dramatic claim that because of the inherent nature of modern countries there will be no war system in any region populated solely by modern countries as illustrated by the current situation in Western Europe even though human character will not have improved However despite the fact that poverty tyranny and war will be largely eliminated the modern world may be worse for people than the traditional worldbecause most of the things that shaped human character will be obsolete The Future Knowledge Compendium Peter Ellyard,2023-03-03 THRIVING IN THE 21ST CENTURY Humans have a unique capability to both understand their situation in the world and to envision and act to realise their aspirations in the emerging world And most of us would welcome knowing how we can become ever more skilful at both understanding and shaping the future of our emerging world so that we can thrive in it The 21st century is very different from the 20th century Globalisation the greatest economic prosperity uplifting machine humanity has ever invented and mass education are combining to sweep humanity into an emerging interdependent global village It is creating a global educated middle class that will number 5 billion in 2030 In this emerging world a world where our future prosperity will be increasingly based on metaphysical wealth on what we know 20th century nation first competitive win lose mindsets and agendas can no longer work These now yesteryear mindsets will instead undermine our best endeavours including making our future ever more climate and pandemic safe Humanity is now beginning to learn that it now has no option but to adopt planet first collaborative win win values and mindsets if it wishes to shape our emerging global village so that it can become liveable for all ever more prosperous harmonious inclusive sustainable healthy and secure Meeting these challenges successfully will require that humanity innovates for itself a new future knowledge curriculum so that it can economically thrive in a sustainable and humane manner Peter Ellyard has asked the question what would be the contents of such a curriculum In The Future Knowledge Compendium A Curriculum for Thriving in the 21st Century he has sought to answer this question

History ,1928 The History and Politics of Free Movement within the European Union Saila Heinikoski,2020-11-26 The right to free movement is the one privilege that EU citizens value the most in the Union but one that has also created much political controversy in recent years as the debates preceding the 2016 Brexit referendum aptly illustrate This book examines how European politicians have justified and criticized free movement from the commencement of the first Commission of the EU 25 in November 2004 to the Brexit referendum in June 2016 The analysis takes into account the discourses of Heads of State Governments and Ministers of the Interior or Home Secretaries of six major European states the UK Germany France Italy Spain and Romania In addition to these national leaders the speeches of European Commissioners responsible for free movement matters are also considered The book introduces a new conceptual framework for analysing practical reasoning in political discourses and applies it in the analysis of national free movement debates contextualised in respective migration histories In addition to results related to political discourses the study unearths wider problems related to free movement including the diversified and variegated approaches towards different groups of movers as well as the exclusive attitudes apparent in both discourses and policies The History and Politics of Free Movement within the European Union is of interest to anyone studying national and European politics and ideologies contemporary history migration policies and political argumentation

Preservation and Protest Ryan Patrick McLaughlin,2014-11-01 Preservation and Protest proposes a novel taxonomy of four paradigms of nonhuman theological ethics by exploring the intersection of tensions between value terms and teleological terms McLaughlin systematically develops the paradigm of cosmocentric transfiguration arguing that the entire cosmos shares in the eschatological hope of a harmonious participation in God's triune life With this paradigm McLaughlin offers an alternative to anthropocentric and conservationist paradigms within the Christian tradition an alternative that affirms both scientific claims about natural history and the theological hope for eschatological redemption
