Agriculture and EU Environmental Law Mr Brian Jack, 2013-02-28 This book critically examines the development and current structure of European Union agricultural environmental measures at a substantive level Examining the measures in an integrated manner showing how they interrelate linking different aspects of European Union agricultural law and policy this volume examines the legislation adopted at European Union level as well as the impact of particular national measures to implement that legislation Where appropriate comparisons are drawn between the manner in which European Union legislation has been implemented among various Member States Critically assessing European Union and national measures in the light of other policy pressures such as the influence of world trade agreements and the political pressures exerted by the agricultural sector within the national legal systems of individual Member States this volume is a valuable resource for academics researching and practitioners working in the areas of European Union environmental and agricultural law

Transport, Environment and Health World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe, 2000 This book brings together the scientific evidence on the main effects of transport on human health and the environment It sets the conceptual framework for future analyses of the health burden and health gains from transport policies It outlines how these health concerns have been reflected in policy tools such as impact assessment regulation and economic analysis and identifies the areas where action is most needed Discussions of the environment and health effects of transport need to be communicated in a way that is relevant for policy makers and easily understood by nonscientists That is the aim of this book which summarizes the results of extensive reviews of the issues prepared by groups of prominent international experts It is also planned to release the reviews themselves to give a more detailed account of the scientific evidence Foreword The Environment and Sustainable Development in the New Central Europe Zbigniew Bochniarz, Gary B. Cohen, 2006 The experiences of these countries in wrestling with issues of sustainability may serve also as examples for both developed and developing countries worldwide Jacket Environmental Security in South-Eastern Europe Massimiliano Montini, Slavko Bogdanovic, 2011-01-07 Authored by international experts from academia international organizations governments and NGOs this book highlights the main environmental security issues in the South East European SEE countries with a particular focus on climate change and water management The common goal of the authors was to provide a reliable evaluation of whether existing legal regimes and correct implementation of applicable international treaties may contribute to reducing environmental security risks in the region In depth analyses and assessment of major challenges in compliance serve as a firm ground which such evaluation is based on This volume is recommended for public officials legal practitioners and consultants Its interest may also extend beyond the SEE countries serving as a case study of a broader and paradigmatic relevance of the analysis and management of environmental and security issues in a trans boundary context

Environmental Policy and Politics in the European Union Tom Delreux, Sander Happaerts, 2016-04-22 This brand new textbook provides a concise and informative overview of environmental policy and politics in the European Union It includes a thorough analysis of the traditional areas of environmental concern such as pollution and natural resources as well as newer environmental issues including GMOs and climate change Throughout this clear and readable introduction the authors emphasize the interdependence between EU environmental policy and changes at the global level focusing in particular on the EU's role in global environmental governance The authors didactic approach means this text will be invaluable to undergraduate and postgraduate students of environmental politics policies and governance in the EU as well as MA programmes with a global focus including international relations and EU studies Agri-environmental Management in Europe: Sustainable Challenges and Solutions - From Policy Interventions to Practical Farm Management Kathy Lewis, John Tzilivakis, Douglas Warner, Andy Green, 2018-04-04 Modern agriculture faces many challenges most crucially food security and the need for sustainable farming systems Decisions and actions in the agricultural sector come from government and stakeholder policies and on farm decision making This comprehensive monograph provides a perspective on the current state of agri environmental management in Europe from both a policy and practical perspective Some of the issues in agriculture discussed are climate change and air pollution biodiversity water use and quality pesticides pathogens flooding and drought energy resources land use soil composition nutrients livestock cropping habitat management and cultural considerations

These important issues form the framework of the book with each issue discussed in the context of its history and asking the questions why is it an issue what is the current scientific understanding regarding it and how has policy shaped it The book takes an integrated approach by not just examining these issues separately but examining the whole system in which these problems are manifested At the end technologies and solutions which are currently being developed and could be used in the future are discussed and the horizon scanned for future environmental challenges

Agri environmental Management in Europe is an authoritative source for both undergraduate and post graduate studies that consider the agri environmental challenges society faces 5m Books Environmental Health Perspectives, 1996

Biodiversity in the Marine Environment Philippe Gouletquer, Philippe Gros, Gilles Boeuf, Jacques Weber, 2014-02-18 The oceans cover over 70% of our planet They are host to a biodiversity of tremendous wealth Its preservation is now a global priority featuring in several international conventions and a confirmed objective of European policies and national strategies Understanding the dynamics and the uses of the marine biodiversity is a genuine scientific challenge Fourteen international experts have got together and identified five priority research themes to address the problem based on analysing the state of knowledge

Economic Development and Environmental Gain Keith Clement, 2000 First Published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Sustainable Development, Energy and the City Voula P. Mega, 2006-03-20 Advancing towards sustainable development will be impossible without the active participation of informed and aware citizens and decision makers This publication will provide the unspecialised decision makers citizens students and policy makers of the future with significant information about a dynamic sector energy and a space city that are critical for sustainability Cities and the energy field are now on the verge of dramatic changes Urban energy systems are capital intensive and have long lives Immediate change is difficult and innovation is crucial for inefficient patterns to be transformed into more intelligent systems Strongly entrenched ideas start to vacillate and new investments challenge the inertia of old infrastructures New concepts values and technological breakthroughs emerge linked to policy and market initiatives public expectations and scientific developments

Europe and the British Geographical Imagination, 1760-1830 Paul Stock, 2019 Europe and the British Geographical Imagination 1760 1830 explores what literate

Britons of the period understood about Europe focussing on key themes which shaped ideas about the continent including religion the natural environment race the state borders commerce empire and ideas about the past progress and historical change

The Coordination of the European Union Andrew Jordan, Adriaan Schout, 2006-11-09 Having realised that its traditional mode of coordinating essentially issuing regulation no longer commands sufficient political support the European Union EU has turned to what are increasingly referred to as new modes of governance which rely upon different actors working together in relatively non hierarchical networks This book provides the first extended account of how effective they are at addressing wicked policy problems which simultaneously demand greater levels of horizontal and vertical coordination Taking as an example the thirty year struggle to integrate environmental thinking into all areas and levels of EU policy making it offers a stark reminder that networked governance is not and is unlikely ever to be a panacea In doing so it strips away some of the rhetorical claims made about the novelty and appeal of new modes to reveal a much more sober and realistic appraisal of their coordinating potential

The Evolution of National Water Regimes in Europe Stefan Kuks, Ingrid Kissling-Näf, 2013-06-05 All over the world countries struggle with water stress Problems vary from water scarcity and a degrading water quality to floods and a rising sea level due to climate change The European Union adopted a Water Framework Directive to improve the sustainability of water management in its member states Water management should be coordinated at the level of river basins as a whole Interests of various user groups should be better represented River basin visions should take into account the impact of all human activities on the status of the resource Water legislation needs streamlining and more focus on its implementation The European Union advocates regulating water prices by charging the costs of water services on the basis of full cost recovery and the polluter pays principle This book examines the development of water management in the Netherlands Belgium France Spain Italy and Switzerland It is based on the European research project EUWARENESS The authors apply a theoretical framework for the analysis of institutional regimes water governance and property rights The evolution of national water resource regimes is described over a period of almost 200 years 1800 2000 The long term perspective enables the reader to see the conditions under which regime transformation and paradigm change are made possible The book also includes a critical analysis of policy making by the European Union and a comparative review and analysis of regime development in the six countries involved This book is followed by another volume published with Kluwer Academic Publishers on Integrated Governance and Water Basin Management edited by Hans Bressers and Stefan Kuks
