EuroWordNet: A multilingual database with lexical semantic networks Piek Vossen,2013-11-11 This book describes the main objective of EuroWordNet which is the building of a multilingual database with lexical semantic networks or wordnets for several European languages Each wordnet in the database represents a language specific structure due to the unique lexicalization of concepts in languages The concepts are inter linked via a separate Inter Lingual Index where equivalent concepts across languages should share the same index item The flexible multilingual design of the database makes it possible to compare the lexicalizations and semantic structures revealing answers to fundamental linguistic and philosophical questions which could never be answered before How consistent are lexical semantic networks across languages what are the language specific differences of these networks is there a language universal ontology how much information can be shared across languages First attempts to answer these questions are given in the form of a set of shared or common Base Concepts that has been derived from the separate wordnets and their classification by a language neutral top ontology These Base Concepts play a fundamental role in several wordnets Nevertheless the database may also serve many practical needs with respect to cross language information retrieval machine translation tools language generation tools and language learning tools which are discussed in the final chapter The book offers an excellent introduction to the EuroWordNet project for scholars in the field and raises many issues that set the directions for further research in semantics and knowledge engineering Special Issue EuroWordNet Piek Vossen,1998 The Swedish FrameNet++ Dana Dannélls,Lars Borin,Karin Friberg Heppin,2021-11-26 Large computational lexicons are central NLP resources Swedish FrameNet aims to be a versatile full scale lexical resource for NLP containing many kinds of linguistic information Although focused on Swedish this ongoing effort which includes building a new Swedish framenet and recycling existing lexicons has offered valuable insights into general aspects of lexical resource building for NLP which are discussed in this book computational and linguistic problems of lexical semantics and lexical typology the nature of lexical items words and multiword expressions achieving interoperability among heterogeneous lexical content NLP methods for extending and interlinking existing lexicons and deploying the new resource in practical NLP applications This book is targeted at everyone with an interest in lexicography computational lexicography lexical typology lexical semantics linguistics computational linguistics and related fields We believe it should be of particular interest to those who are or have been involved in language resource creation development and evaluation Computational Linguistics and Intelligent Text Processing Alexander Gelbukh,2006-01-21 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th International Conference on Computational Linguistics and Intelligent Text Processing held in February 2006 The 43 revised full papers and 16 revised short papers presented together with three invited papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 176 submissions The papers are structured into two parts and organized in topical sections on computational linguistics research Introduction to
