From Tradition to Commentary Steven D. Fraade, 1991-01-01 This book examines Torah and its interpretation both as a recurring theme in the early rabbinic commentary and as the very practice of the commentary It studies the phenomenon of ancient rabbinic scriptural commentary in relation to the perspectives of literary and historical criticisms and their complex intersection The author discusses extensively the nature of ancient commentary comparing and contrasting it with the antecedents in the pesharim of the Dead Sea Scrolls and the allegorical commentaries of Philo of Alexandria He develops a model for a dynamic understanding of the literary structure and sociohistorical function of early rabbinic commentary and then applies this model to the Sifre to the oldest extant running commentary to Deuteronomy and one of the oldest rabbinic collections of exegesis Fraade examines the commentary's representation of revelation and its reception at Mt Sinai with particular attention to its fractured refiguration and interrelation of Scripture tradition and history He discusses the commentary's discursive empowering of the class of sages in their collective self understanding as Israel's authorized teachers leaders legislators and judges The author also probes the tension between Torah and nature as witnesses to Israel's covenant with God

Wilson, 2018-05-25 The consensus view asserts Augustine developed his later doctrines ca 396 CE while writing Ad Simplicianum as a result of studying scripture His early De libero arbitrio argued for traditional free choice refuting Manichaean determinism but his anti Pelagian writings rejected any human ability to believe without God giving faith Kenneth M Wilson's study is the first work applying the comprehensive methodology of reading systematically and chronologically through Augustine's entire extant corpus works sermons and letters 386-430 CE and examining his doctrinal development The author explores Augustine's later theology within the prior philosophical religious context of free choice versus deterministic arguments This analysis demonstrates Augustine persisted in traditional views until 412 CE and his theological transition was primarily due to his prior Stoic Neoplatonic and Manichaean influences Tradition and the Rule of Faith in the Early Church Alexander Y. Textual Reasonings Peter Ochs,Nancy Levene,2003 This is a print on demand book and is therefore non returnable Textual reasoning is the name that a group of contemporary Jewish thinkers has given to its overlapping practices of Jewish philosophy and theology This volume represents the most public expression to date of the shared work over a period of twelve years of this society of textual reasoners Although the movement of textual reasoning is diverse and multiform it is characterized at bottom by the pursuit of the claim that there are significant affinities between Jewish forms of reading and reasoning and postmodern thought These affinities are presently being pursued by scholars throughout Jewish studies in fields such as the Bible Talmud Midrash medieval philosophy Kabbalah and the Jewish phenomenology of Rosenzweig and Levinas among others As the essays in this book amply convey their work has stimulated a lively and creative reengagement with the philosophical dimensions of Jewish texts and even more with the textual dimensions of Jewish reasoning In large part this new energy has come from conceiving of the postmodern as a place where some of the most distinctive features of Jewish reasoning can be elucidated as well as challenged A fine addition to the Radical Traditions series Textual reasonings provides a superb review of contemporary Jewish thought Contributors Eugene B Borowitz Tikva Frymer Kensy George Lindbeck Zachary Braiterman Robert Gibbs Shaul Magid Virginia Burrus David Weiss Halivni Jacob Meskin Aryeh Cohen Daniel W Hardy Peter Ochs Michael Fishbane Martin Kavka Randi Rashover David F Ford Steven Kepnes Michael Zank Steven D Fraade Nancy Levene Laurie Zoloth

Persistent Forms Ilya Kliger, Boris Maslov, 2015-12-14 Since the mid 1980s attempts to think history and literature together have produced much exciting work in the humanities Indeed some form of historicism can be said to inform most of the current scholarship in literary studies including work in poetics yet much of this scholarship remains undertheorized Envisioning a revitalized and more expansive historicism this volume builds on the tradition of Historical Poetics pioneered by Alexander Veselovsky 1838 1906 and developed in various fruitful directions by the Russian Formalists Mikhail Bakhtin and Olga Freidenberg The volume includes previously untranslated texts of some of the major scholars in this critical tradition as well as original contributions which place that tradition in dialogue with other thinkers who have approached literature in a globally comparatist and evolutionary historical spirit The contributors seek to challenge and complement a historicism that stresses proximate sociopolitical contexts through an engagement with the longue durée of literary forms and institutions In particular Historical Poetics aims to uncover deep historical stratifications and asynchronicities in which formal solutions may display elective affinities with other chronologically distant solutions to analogous social and political problems By recovering the traditional nexus of philology and history Persistent Forms seeks to reinvigorate poetics as a theoretical discipline that would respond to such critical and intellectual developments as Marxism New Historicism the study of world literature practices of distant reading and a renewed attention to ritual oral poetics and genre Crisis, Call, and Leadership in the Abrahamic Traditions P. Ochs, W. Johnson, 2009-11-09 Sixteen Muslim Jewish and Christian scholars sought to answer one question Do our three scriptures unite or divide us Each essay examines scriptural sources as read in the classical and medieval traditions addressing issues including how each tradition addresses the other within its tradition and without and the challenges of modernity
