educational levels and their potential to provide a more efficient and equitable decision making structure TEJ Managing Finance and Resources in Education Marianne Coleman, Lesley Anderson, 2000-04-14 The book provides an excellent wide and stimulating set of readings and would be useful to anyone taking forward Unit 3 or the Accelerated Route of SQH SQH Newsletter This is a useful addition to the literature on finance and resource management in education Those whose work involves managing resources and finance in schools and colleges will find this a useful or even indispensable addition to their bookshelves whether they are heads principals or middle managers Mentoring and Tutoring This book will provide readers with knowledge and understanding of the theory and practice of managing finance resources and stakeholders in schools and colleges Written specifically for those studying for an academic qualification at Masters level in educational management it provides self study material and links to other key texts in the field The authors deal with the links between finance resources and stakeholders in the context of school and college self management Examples are drawn from international settings as well as from the United Kingdom Building on an examination of theoretical perspectives practical considerations and applications are examined in a format which encourages the reader to explore the context of their own educational institution This book is a core text for the University of Leicester MBA in Educational Management Cross-national Studies of the Quality of Education Kenneth Norman Ross, Ilona Jürgens Genevois, 2006 This book is based on papers presented and discussions held during the Policy Forum on Cross national Studies of the Quality of Education Planning their Design and Managing their Impact held in Paris in 2004 It contains an overview of terminology concepts and definitions related to cross national studies on the quality of education It also examines three key educational policy research design questions what will be measured who will be measured and what are the financial and logistical costs Rounding off the volume are case studies that illustrate how ministries of education and international organisations disseminate the results of cross national studies of the quality of education Performance Improvement Quarterly , 1999 From Data to Action David W. Chapman, Lars Mählck, 1993 The result of a project which involved a synthesis of the lessons learned from recent experience and research in collecting analyzing and using quantitative information in decision making at various levels of the educational system in the context of developing countries Improving Educational Quality David W. Chapman, Carol A. Carrier, 1990-03-20 The challenge facing the education system in many countries of meeting demands for higher quality public education within increasingly severe national economic and fiscal constraints is the subject of this collection of essays by eleven outstanding educational practitioners The book examines national level strategy for improving the quality of education It identifies and analyzes key interventions to improve educational quality Strategies for selecting among these interventions are discussed and the major issues encountered in implementing the interventions are analyzed A major argument of the book is that a systems approach offers the most effective and efficient intervention for improving education quality but only when sufficient attention is paid to the motivation knowledge and behavior of the individuals within those systems on whose actions success of any intervention ultimately depends Part I Improving Educational Quality contains five chapters and provides a general framework for formulating interventions to improve educational quality Included here are discussions of investments that lead to student achievement the use of efficiency as a criterion to judge the effects of education investments ways instructional systems models enhance efficiency and educational quality and the role played by donors The nine chapters that compose Part II Issues in Implementing Quality Improvement Programs discuss a series of issues more specifically concerned with program implementation These are organized in three categories 1 the teacher s role in quality improvement 2 monitoring evaluation and data management and 3 instructional delivery While the volume is written to assist instructional designers program planners administrators evaluators and supervisory personnel it has wide application as a text for graduate students preparing for these types of positions

Education Policy-planning Process Wadi Haddad,1995 This booklet provides an introduction to the educational policy making process for both experienced and new planners Policy is defined as decisions designed to guide future decisions or to initiate and guide the implementation of previous decisions Case studies of Burkina Faso Jordan Peru and Thailand show how educational policy has played out in real world situations In each case the framework shows its value in explaining why certain policies were developed and implemented in this manner EH

Implementing Quality Primary Education for Countries in Transition William K. Cummings,1995 From Planning to Action International Institute for Educational Planning,1997 This book results from a project jointly conducted by the International Institute for Educational Planning IIEP France and the Advancing Basic Education and Literacy ABEL Project USA It examines strategies that have been widely advocated to enable central and regional education ministries to influence education practice at the school level particularly in ways that result in improved educational quality and efficiency This is accomplished through a series of case studies of national efforts to implement those strategies These case studies identify the types of cross impacts unintended consequences both positive and negative and practical problems of implementation that provide the basis for assessing the potential of these strategies to actually influence classroom practice The book further examines what kinds of information planners administrators and teachers need and how the communication of information should be organized to successfully undertake these actions Information and communication have emerged as the new currency of development The conclusions to the book propose training aimed at education leaders planners and administrators particularly in developing country settings who are searching for ways of ensuring that government initiatives can make a meaningful difference at the school and classroom levels
