Etchings of the Heart Giovanna Sclafani, 2012-10-03 Giovanna is a free lance writer and a published author of her new book Etchings of the Heart and dreams and visions of love This book is a result of six years of purging her soul through writing that gave way to a wondrous spiritual awakening after a series of events beginning with the death of her father and a downward spiraling of her personal life that enabled her to see that everything in life happens for a reason When you reach rock bottom there is nowhere to go but up says Giovanna Her book delves into the mysteries of life including dj vu and psychic visions and dreams The intertwining of modern poetry with mythical characters and legends makes it ethereal and enthralling Her fantastic view of love is reminiscent of the great love poets of old We need a revival of great love poetry again says Giovanna I guess I am a hopeless romantic with my moon being in Venus I believe that our sun and moon signs play a significant role in our lives This book is a unique book of poetry as it is a quintessential array of poetry from the heart thus came the title Etchings of the heart Giovanna said my friends in my poetry group on writers caf and Marys Bridge all agreed that my poems came straight from my heart and I have to agree There are all kinds of love that I write about There is love of family friends romantic love pets nature and God In all love there is beauty to be found I also write about the paradox of love which consists of Love vs hate or Agony and ecstasy both sides of a fiery sword In her poem Never was a day Giovanna writes for never was a day when there was sunshine without rain and for love to exist without pain

Holy Matter Sara Ritchey, 2014-04-01 A magnificent proliferation of new Christ centered devotional practices including affective meditation imitative suffering crusade Eucharistic cults and miracles passion drama and liturgical performance reveals profound changes in the Western Christian temperament of the twelfth century and beyond This change has often been attributed by scholars to an increasing emphasis on God s embodiment in the incarnation and crucifixion of Christ In Holy Matter Sara Ritchey offers a fresh narrative explaining theological and devotional change by journeying beyond the human body to ask how religious men and women understood the effects of God's incarnation on the natural material world She finds a remarkable willingness on the part of medieval Christians to embrace the material world its trees flowers vines its worms and wolves as a locus for divine encounter Early signs that perceptions of the material world were shifting can be seen in reformed communities of religious women in the twelfth century Rhineland Here Ritchey finds that in response to the constraints of gendered regulations and spiritual ideals women created new identities as virgins who like the mother of Christ impelled the world's re-creation their notion of the world's re-creation held that God created the world a second time when Christ was born In this second act of creation God was seen to be present in the physical world thus making matter holy Ritchey then traces the diffusion of this new religious doctrine beyond the Rhineland showing the profound impact it had on both women and men in professed religious life especially Franciscans in Italy and Carthusians in England Drawing on a wide range of sources including art liturgy prayer poetry meditative guides and treatises of spiritual instruction Holy Matter reveals an important transformation in late medieval devotional practice a shift from metaphor to material from gazing on images of a God made visible in the splendor of natural beauty to looking at the natural world itself and finding there God's presence and promise of salvation

The Bernward Gospels Jennifer P. Kingsley, 2016-05-12 Few works of art better illustrate the splendor of eleventh century painting than the manuscript often referred to as the precious gospels of Bishop Bernward of Hildesheim with its peculiar combination of sophistication and naiveté its dramatically gesturing figures and the saturated colors of its densely ornamented surfaces In The Bernward Gospels Jennifer Kingsley offers the first interpretive study of the pictorial program of this famed manuscript and considers how the gospel book conditioned contemporary and future viewers to remember the bishop The codex constructs a complex image of a minister caring for his diocese not only through a life of service but also by means of his exceptional artistic patronage of a bishop exercising the sacerdotal authority of his office and of a man fundamentally preoccupied with his own salvation and desire to unite with God through both his sight and touch Kingsley insightfully demonstrates how this prominent member of the early medieval episcopate presented his role to the saints and to the communities called upon to remember him

To Keep The Ship A. Bertram Chandler, 2016-01-28 John Grimes falls into the clutches of terrorists Its going to take all his efforts to keep his precious golden ship Especially as it is infected with mini Susies who were sharp toothed hungry and ready to eat him alive

Merchant Vessels of the United States, 1989 Irish Poets and Modern Greece Joanna Kruckowska, 2017-09-21 This book explores the perception of modern Greek landscape and poetry in the writings of Seamus Heaney and Derek Mahon Delving into travel writing ecocriticism translation and allusion it offers a fresh comparative link between Greek modernity and Irish poetry that counterbalances the preeminence of Greek antiquity in existing criticism The first section devoted to travel and landscape examines Mahon's modern perception of the Aegean inspired by his travels to the Cyclades between 1974 and 1997 as well as Heaney's philhellenic relationship with mainland Greece between 1995 and 2004. The second section offers a close analysis of their C. P. Cavafy translations and compares George Seferis' original texts with their creative rendition in the writings of the Irish poets. The book will appeal to readers of poetry as well as those interested in the interactions between Ireland and Greece, two countries at the extreme points of Europe in times of crisis. California "where Sets the Sun", 1876-1904 Eliza A. Otis, 1905. Writings in poetry and prose. The Cistercian Fathers and Their Monastic Theology Thomas Merton, 2016. These conferences presented by Thomas Merton to the novices at the Abbey of Gethsemani in 1963-1964 focus mainly on the life and writings of his great Cistercian predecessor St. Bernard of Clairvaux (1090-1153). Guiding his students through Bernard's Marian sermons, his treatise On the Love of God, his controversy with Peter Abelard, and above all his great series of sermons on the Song of Songs, Merton reveals why Bernard was the major religious and cultural figure in Europe during the first half of the twelfth century and why he has remained one of the most influential spiritual theologians of Western Christianity from his own day until the present. As James Finley writes in his preface to this volume, Merton is teaching us in these notes how to be grateful and amazed that the ancient wisdom that shimmers and shines in the eloquent and beautiful things that mystics say is now flowing in our sincere desire to learn from God how to find our way to God. The Hans Andersen Library Hans Christian Andersen, 1870. Child Welfare, 1928. The P.T.A. Magazine, 1929.
