From T Ford To T5:

The Long Short Walk Steve Woodward, 2014 It's something we all dread the knock at the door from a Traffic Cop We instantly fear the worst and for more than 3 000 families every year in Britain that fear sadly becomes a reality The Police officer has come to deliver the news that their loved one has died in a road incident But what happens after they have been told Does the Police officer simply walk away Is the family left to fend for itself Thankfully not A small group of specially trained Police Family Liaison Officers FLO's do what most of us could never do They guide the bereaved family through the entire process from delivering the trauma message in the first place to helping them through the ordeal of identifying their loved one at the mortuary right through to the inquest or court case in 12 months time and everything in between PC Steve Woodward describes the journey the families embark upon as the biggest roller coaster ride of their lives with more highs and lows than you could ever possibly imagine Federal Register, 1945-06 Stand By Ya Beds Steve

Woodward, 2020-10-28 From around the 1950s to the mid 1980s if you wanted to join the Police before the age of 18 19 it was possible to become a Police Cadet from 16 onward It didn't give you any police powers but did provide you with a good insight into the job You got the uniform and went out on patrol with regular officers and undertook attachments to every section within the force to see how each one worked But prior to all the excitement came 12 months of character building at a residential establishment called Cadet Training School This book looks back at those days within Hampshire and to a time where self discipline and physical fitness were key to that character building Today it might be classed as institutional bullying but most of us loved it except for the morning run the constant uniform inspections the walks across Dartmoor punishment press ups bullying boots the food the blisters and making bed packs From T Ford to Steve
