Daloz, 1986-09-30 In the humanist tradition of such well known practitioners in adult education as Malcolm Knowles Daloz affirms the act of teaching as more an art than a science Through the use of literary analogies and vignettes from student interviews he builds a strong case for mentoring saying that it is the partnership of teacher and student that finally determines the value of education Describing the mentor s task as supporting challenging and providing vision for the adult learner Daloz shows how complex this task can be taking into account the individual personalities of mentor and student and the pressures of the environment ISBN 1 555 42001 X 21 95 Learning to Mentor-as-Praxis Lily Orland-Barak, 2010-03-10 Lily Orland Barak offers us a breathtaking work of science ction Or perhaps I should say science and ction The science side of the equation employs sophisticated technique for observing and describing interpersonal and intrapersonal dynamics among professionals in education Both dramatic and seemingly ordinary episodes in the lives of teachers in relational tension with one another are analyzed with scienti c care precision and insight The scienti c study of mentoring is like the scienti c study of soap bubbles their formation growth and sudden exit from the visible world with a nearly soundless pop Scienti c and intellectual tools can be used to describe and predict the behavior of soap bubbles to study their colors shapes surface tension and tiny mass The same is true of the study of mentoring But in both cases the greatest care must be taken to avoid popping the almost m ically elegant form to avoid destroying the delicate relationship by rushing in by heavy attempts at control or by premature dissection or even by paying attention too intensely to a private personal relationship Mentoring is best studied by being still by listening with authentic interest and by using our peripheral vision The science and the scientist have done their best work here The ction side of this ne book gives life to telling examples of mentoring in action Mentoring Teachers Ann Lieberman, Susan Hanson, Janet Gless, 2011-11-03 A useful guide for teacher mentors as they face new and difficult challenges in their work New teachers often struggle to apply their knowledge in real world settings and the idea of mentoring these teachers during their first years in the classroom has captured the imagination of schools all over the world Drawn from the experiences over the last twenty years of the New Teacher Center the book illuminates the subtleties and struggles of becoming an excellent effective mentor The book discusses the five big tensions of mentoring developing a new identity developing trusting relationships accelerating teacher growth mentoring in challenging contexts and learning leadership skills Describes in depth the most common challenges of the mentor role A wonderful guide for both new and veteran mentors Includes engaging firsthand narratives written by mentors working in a variety of settings This book is from the New Teacher Center an organization whose highly respected mentor training model has served over 50 000 teachers nationwide The New Teacher Center is dedicated to improving student learning by accelerating the effectiveness of teachers and school leaders through comprehensive mentoring and professional development programs

The First Years Matter: Becoming an Effective Teacher Carol Pelletier Radford, 2016-06-23 Use this updated resource to prepare for your journey into teaching This newly revised and updated 2nd edition of The First Years Matter provides key actions steps and a flexible twelve month curriculum including July for reflection and planning to help you proactively prepare for your first few years in the classroom Maximize your effectiveness in the classroom as you Apply mentoring lessons to differentiate instruction Integrate student voice Prepare for teacher observations and standardized testing Gather evidence to document your progress This updated version includes a robust companion website featuring videos downloadable forms and a journal for reflection Use with Mentoring in Action the companion guide for mentors
