A Long, Dark Shadow Allyn Walker, 2021-06-22 Challenging widespread assumptions that persons who are preferentially attracted to minors often referred to as pedophiles are necessarily also predators and sex offenders this book takes readers into the lives of non offending minor attracted persons MAPs There is little research into non offending MAPs a group whose experiences offer valuable insights into the prevention of child abuse Navigating guilt shame and fear this universally maligned group demonstrates remarkable resilience and commitment to living without offending and to supporting and educating others Using data from interview based research A Long Dark Shadow offers a crucial account of the lived experiences of this hidden population

The Long Shadow of Default David James Gill, 2022-01-01 Rethinking the causes and consequences of Britain s default on its First World War debts to the United States of America The Long Shadow of Default focuses on an important but neglected example of sovereign default between two of the wealthiest and most powerful democracies in modern history The United Kingdom accrued considerable financial debts to the United States during and immediately after the First World War In 1934 the British government unilaterally suspended payment on these debts This book examines why the United Kingdom was one of the last major powers to default on its war debts to the United States and how these outstanding obligations affected political and economic relations between both governments The British government s unpaid debts cast a surprisingly long shadow over policymaking on both sides of the Atlantic Memories of British default would limit transatlantic cooperation before and after the Second World War inform Congressional debates about the economic difficulties of the 1970s and generate legal challenges for both governments up until the 1990s More than a century later the United Kingdom s war debts to the United States remain unpaid and outstanding David James Gill provides one of the most detailed historical analyses of any sovereign default He brings attention to an often neglected episode in international history to inform refine and sometimes challenge the wider study of sovereign default The Long Shadow of Temperament Jerome Kagan, Nancy Snidman, 2009-06-15 Kagan and Snidman summarize the results of this unique inquiry into human temperaments one of the best known longitudinal studies in developmental psychology These results reveal how deeply certain fundamental temperamental biases can be preserved over development Gangsters and Other Statesmen Danilo Mandić, 2020-12-01 How global organized crime shapes the politics of borders in modern conflicts Separatism has been on the rise across the world since the end of the Cold War dividing countries through political strife ethnic conflict and civil war and redrawing the political map Gangsters and Other Statesmen examines the role transnational mafias play in the success and failure of separatist movements challenging conventional wisdom about the interrelation of organized crime with peacebuilding nationalism and state making Danilo Mandić conducted fieldwork in the disputed territories of Kosovo and South Ossetia talking to mobsters separatists and policymakers in war zones and along major smuggling routes In this timely and provocative book he demonstrates how globalized mafias shape the politics of borders in torn states shedding critical light on an autonomous nonstate actor that has been largely sidelined by considerations of geopolitics state centered agency and ethnonationalism Blending extensive archival sleuthing and original ethnographic data with insights from sociology and other disciplines Mandić argues that organized crime can be a fateful determinant of state capacity separatist success and ethnic conflict Putting mafias at the center of global processes of separatism and territorial consolidation Gangsters and Other Statesmen raises vital questions and urges reconsideration of a host of separatist cases in West Africa the Middle East and East Europe Victims of Crime Robert C. Davis, Arthur J. Lurigio, Susan Herman, 2013 This edition includes newly contributed and updated articles utilizing the latest research and studies in the areas of violence abuse and victims rights from experts in the field It has a stronger focus on emerging issues and policies in the field of victimology than other comparable texts It utilizes the latest research and studies in the areas of violence abuse and victims rights It focuses on the emerging issues and policies in the fields of victim rights and crime prevention New 3 Part organization with the more common victimizing crimes first followed by responses to victimizations and then newer issues and types of victimizations in Part 3 There is a new chapters on human trafficking and cyber crime There is a major expansion of the human services response and school victimizations It is updated throughout with new data and research Assessment Reform in Science Benny B.H.W Yung, 2006-02-03 Fairness and Fear I was startled at the subtitle of the book when I first heard it Our series has some imaginative titles but none so evocative as this one But fear and fairness capture much of teacher thinking about assessment Indeed teachers struggle to be fair with students certainly concerned and often fearful of failures to be fair and repercussions that teachers can face as a result Then there is the fearful enterprise of imposed assessment regimes that many teachers face Dr Yung's book allows us to hear from the teachers on these concerns this is no top down policy statement His account is readable and highly instructive and I hope that copies will find their way to the desks of many school administrators and policy personnel We are indeed pleased to release this volume William W Cobern Book Series Editor 2000 2005 Foreword by Peter Fensham Two things are very clear to me about formal educational systems What is assessed in these systems determines what teachers and students recognize as knowledge of worth Teachers in general are conscientious in doing their best to ensure that their students will learn this knowledge of worth well Science has now been widely acknowledged to be a core or key subject in the overall curriculum of schooling at all levels

Philosophy, Science, Education and Culture Robert Nola, Gürol Irzik, 2006-02-22 Currents such as epistemological and social constructivism postmodernism and certain forms of multiculturalism that had become fashionable within science education circles in the last decades lost sight of critical inquiry as the core aim of education In this book we develop an account of education that places critical inquiry at the core of education in general and science education in particular Since science constitutes the paradigm example of critical inquiry we explain the nature of science paying particular attention to scientific methodology and scientific modeling and at the same time showing their relevance in the science classroom We defend a universalist rationalist and objectivist account of science against epistemological and social constructivist views postmodernist approaches and epistemic multiculturalist accounts Weaving Narrative Nets to Capture Classrooms D. Geelan, 2007-09-29 If you're the kind of reader who usually skips the Preface I am you can certainly do that It's probably valuable though for me to spend a little time describing the structure of this book to orient you to the way the argument unfolds My intention was to try to find the best possible blend of theory and practice I believe there are plenty of excellent books describing the theoretical underpinnings of qualitative research in education Denzin Eisner 1998 Guba Lincoln Harold 2000 Wolcott 1973 There are fewer books that focus on describing in detail how to conduct these studies Anderson Kerr Van Manen 1990 Wolcott 1990 for an audience that is not already familiar with both the methods and the philosophical commitments that underpin qualitative research This book is intended to do all of these things to some extent or to refer you to other authors who I think do them well but its original contribution is in using as a concrete example a particular research study that I completed This allows me to reflect on the processes and practices and particularly the choices involved in qualitative classroom research and to illustrate those reflections in a very practical way Critical Graphicacy Wolff-Michael Roth, Lilian Pozzer-Ardenghi, Jae Young Han, 2005-11-10 This book explores reading and interpretation practices related to visual materials here referred to as inscriptions that accompany texts Guiding questions include What practices are required for reading inscriptions and Do textbooks allow students to develop graphicacy skill required to critically read scientific texts The book reveals what it takes to interpret read and understand visual materials and what it takes to engage inscriptions in a critical way Becoming an Urban Physics and Math Teacher Beth A. Wassell, Ian Stith, 2007-06-13 This book explores what happens as beginning urban teachers transition through their first few years in the classroom It captures one teacher's journey through the first three years of teaching science and mathematics in a large urban district in the US Combining narrative with critical analysis the authors focus on Ian's agency as a beginning teacher and explore his success in working with diverse students

Review of Scottish Culture ,2002 Shadow Libraries Joe Karaganis,2018-05-04 How students get the materials they need as opportunities for higher education expand but funding shrinks From the top down Shadow Libraries explores the institutions that shape the provision of educational materials from the formal sector of universities and publishers to the broadly informal ones organized by faculty copy shops student unions and students themselves It looks at the history of policy battles over access to education in the post World War II era and at the narrower versions that have played out in relation to research and textbooks from library policies to book subsidies to more recently the several open publication models that have emerged in the higher education sector From the bottom up Shadow Libraries explores how simply students get the materials they need It maps the ubiquitous practice of photocopying and what are in many cases the more marginal ones of buying books visiting libraries and downloading from unauthorized sources It looks at the informal networks that emerge in many contexts to share materials from face to face student networks to Facebook groups and at the processes that lead to the consolidation of some of those efforts into more organized archives that circulate offline and sometimes online the shadow libraries of the title If Alexandra Elbakyan s Sci Hub is the largest of these efforts to date the more characteristic part of her story is the prologue the personal struggle to participate in global scientific and educational communities and the recourse to a wide array of ad hoc strategies and networks when formal authorized means are lacking If Elbakyan s story has struck a chord it is in part because it brings this contradiction in the academic project into sharp relief universalist in principle and unequal in practice Shadow Libraries is a study of that tension in the digital era Contributors Balzs Bod Laura Czerniewicz Mirosław Filiciak Mariana Fossatti Jorge Gernetto Eve Gray Evelin Heidel Joe Karaganis Lawrence Liang Pedro Mizukami Jhessica Reia Alek Tarkowski
