Estrangement Alienation And Exploitation A Sociological Approach To Historical Materialism:

Estrangement, Alienation, and Exploitation John Torrance, 1977-01-01 Estrangement, Alienation and Exploitation: A Sociological Approach to Historical Materialism Faculty Lecturer in Politics and Fellow John Torrance, John Torrance, 2013-12-31 Reader's Guide to the History of Science Arne Hessenbruch, 2013-12-16 The Reader's Guide to the History of Science looks at the literature of science in some 550 entries on individuals Einstein institutions and disciplines Mathematics general themes Romantic Science and central concepts Paradigm and Fact The history of science is construed widely to include the history of medicine and technology as is reflected in the range of disciplines from which the international team of 200 contributors are drawn A Philosophical History of German Sociology Frédéric Vandenberghe, 2008-09-25 A Philosophical History of German Sociology presents a systematic reconstruction of critical theory from the founding fathers of sociology Marx Simmel Weber via Lukács to the Frankfurt School Horkheimer Adorno Habermas Through an in depth analysis of the theories of alienation rationalisation and reification it investigates the metatheoretical presuppositions of a critical theory of the present that not only highlights the reality of domination but is also able to highlight the possibilities of emancipation Although not written as a textbook its clear and cogent introduction to some of the main theories of sociology make this book a valuable resource for undergraduates and postgraduates alike The following in depth investigation of theories of alienation and reification offer essential material for any critique of the dehumanizing tendencies of today's global world Recently translated into English from the original French for the first time this text showcases Vandenberghe's mastery of the German French and English schools of sociology study The result is an important and challenging text that is essential reading for sociology students of all levels Frédéric Vandenberghe is a Sociology professor and researcher at IUPERJ Instituto Universitário de Pesquisas do Rio de Janeiro Rio de Janeiro Brazil His writings on a broad range of sociological topics have been published as books and articles around the world Postmodern Marx Terrell Carver, 2010-11-01 Marx has changed What we read how we read and why we read Marx have all altered dramatically This book explores these multiple new Marxes In ten thematic chapters Carver examines unfamiliar texts and new aspects of Marx's writings ranging from vampires in Capital to his vision of communism in recently re edited manuscripts Marx's career in democratic politics is re evaluated and his relationship to the gender politics of his day and ours is explored Most importantly Carver re assesses the strengths and weaknesses of Marx as a theorist and critic of capitalist society This book will appeal to anyone who wants a fresh perspective on Marx arising from a reconciliation of historical scholarship with the de-centredness of postmodern writing Gao Xingjian and Transcultural Chinese Theater Sy Ren Quah, 2004-04-30 A reclusive painter living in exile in Paris Gao Xingjian found himself instantly famous when he became the first Chinese language writer to receive the Nobel Prize for Literature 2000 The author of the novel Soul Mountain Gao is best known in his native country not as a visual artist or novelist but as a playwright and theater director

This important yet rarely studied figure is the focus of Sy Ren Quah's rich account appraising his contributions to contemporary Chinese and World Theater over the past two decades. A playwright himself, Quah provides an in-depth analysis of the literary, dramatic, intellectual, and technical aspects of Gao's plays and theatrical concepts, treating Gao's theater not only as an art form but with Gao himself as a significant cultural phenomenon. The Bus Stop, Wild Man, and other early works are examined in the context of 1980s China, influenced by Stanislavsky, Brecht, and Beckett, as well as traditional Chinese theater arts and philosophies. Gao refused to conform to the dominant realist conventions of the time and made a conscious effort to renovate Chinese theater. The young playwright sought to create a Modern Eastern Theater that was neither a vague generalization nor a nationalistic declaration but a challenge to orthodox ideologies. After fleeing China, Gao was free to experiment openly with theatrical forms. Quah examines his post-exile plays in a context of performance theory and philosophical concerns such as the real versus the unreal and the Self versus the Other. The image conveyed of Gao is not of an activist but of an intellectual committed to maintaining his artistic independence who continues to voice his opinion on political matters.

The Vitality of Critical Theory Harry F. Dahms, 2011-05-19 States that the critical theory of the Frankfurt School is as important today if not more so as it was at its inception during the 1930s. This title looks at the distinguishing features of this tradition and how it is critical yet also complementary of other approaches in the social sciences, especially in sociology. Humboldt Journal of Social Relations, 1979. Critical Practices in International Theory

James Der Derian, 2009-01-13 Critical Practices in International Theory brings together for the first time the essays of the leading IR theorist James Der Derian. The essays cover a variety of issues central to Der Derian's work, including diplomacy, alienation, terrorism, intelligence, national security, new forms of warfare, the role of information technology in international relations, poststructuralist theory, and the military entertainment media matrix. The book includes a framing introduction written for this volume in which Der Derian provides historical and theoretical context for a diverse body of work. Discussing his own influences and reflecting upon the development of international theory, he advocates a critical pluralist approach to the most pressing problems of world politics. Written in the eloquent style that marks out Der Derian as one of the most provocative and innovative thinkers in international relations, this collection is essential reading for scholars and students interested in the past, present, and future of international relations. James Der Derian is a Watson Institute research professor of international studies at Brown University where he directs the Global Security Program and the Global Media Project. He is the author of many articles and books, including the highly acclaimed Virtuous War (2001, 2009).

Theories of the Stranger Vince Marotta, 2016-09-13 In our global, multicultural world, how we understand and relate to those who are different from us has become central to the politics of immigration in western societies. Who we are and how we perceive ourselves is closely associated with those who are different and strange. This book explores the pivotal role played by the stranger in social theory, examining the different conceptualisations of the stranger found in the social sciences and shedding light on the ways in which these discourses can contribute to an analysis of cross cultural interaction and cultural hybridity Engaging with the work of Simmel Park and Bauman and arguing for the need for greater theoretical clarity Theories of the Stranger connects conceptual questions with debates surrounding identity politics multiculturalism online ethnicities and cross cultural dialogue As such this rigorous conceptual re examination of the stranger will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in social theory and the theoretical foundations of discourses relating to migration cosmopolitanism globalisation and multiculturalism
