Imagination in Religion LIT Verlag,2021-01-07 Religion would be impossible without imagination Imagination provides content that otherwise escapes discourse and perception Thus it opens up a productive realm for creative involvement that keeps religion from sinking into trivialities or abstractions The contributions in the present volume explore in various ways potentialities and problems linked to imagination s role in the context of religion The book challenges readers to think again and think differently about imagination in religion which in itself involves the power of imagination The book opens up fresh perspectives on the interactive dynamics between imagination and various faculties or dimensions of life Imagination might be involved in thinking perceiving contemplation and in practices The contributors to the volume are all members of the Nordic Society for the Philosophy of Religion Espen Dahl Professor of Systematic Theology The Arctic University of Norway Troms Jan Olav Henriksen Professor of Philosophy of Religion MF Norwegian School of Theology Religion and Society Oslo Marius T Mjaaland Professor of Philosophy of Religion Faculty of Theology University of Oslo Norway Francis of Assisi as Artist of the Spiritual Life Andrew T. McCarthy,2010-08-13 Francis of Assisi as Artist of the Spiritual Life applies modern psychological understanding to a historical person While most such studies have sought a comprehensive personality profile this work focuses on one aspect Francis imagination and seeks greater insight into the imaginatively inspired spiritual vision of St Francis An analysis of Francis writings builds on a survey of modern views of the imagination and the approach of ORT or Object Relations Theory ORT with its contention that the imaginative creation of an infant s world develops out of the earliest interactions with the maternal caregiver highlights the way Francis formed his way of visualizing the reality around him While any study of a person 800 years in the grave is more dependent on what is plausible than on what is determinable this study finds numerous examples where Francis writings display an adept use of imagination and even encourages others in that use in a manner that corresponds to an ORT perspective on tutoring the imagination Becoming Apostolic Catherine Sexton,2024-07-01 This book explores the experience and understanding of Roman Catholic sisters of their vocation to the apostolic form of religious life as they age Based on interviews with twelve religious women it draws on the practice of Lectio Divina to explore how these women describe their call to service and activity at a time in life when these might be curtailed by physical diminishment and increasingly reduced social interaction and influence As the very institutions of religious life are themselves under threat the book identifies new emerging forms of ministry through presence to each other and to their carers University of Illinois Studies in Language and Literature ,1927 AquaChurch

Prophetic Witnesses to Joy Juliet Mousseau, 2021-11-08 A life of consecration prefigures what Christians hope for by calling into question the value of power sexuality and material possessions Religious life challenges the idea that these things alone bring happiness and shows that we can be more fulfilled happier and more whole without being attached to them Furthermore detaching ourselves from these desires allows others to live with more dignity and greater ease as well Consecrated life then is a prophetic witness to the joy of the eschatological call of Christianity In the words of Pope Francis to religious men and women leading up to the Year of Consecrated Religious Wake up the world Be witnesses of a different way of doing things of acting of living The Religious Imagination of American Women Mary Farrell Bednarowski, 1999-10-22 Explores five ideas that animate the theological imagination of women in religious communities throughout America ambivalence toward tradition the immanence or indwelling of the divine the sacredness of the ordinary and the ordinariness of the sacred the vision of the universe as a web of relationships and healing as a central function of religion back cover Reseeding Religious Life Through Global Sisterhood Susan Rose Francois, Juliet Mousseau, 2024-11-15 In Reseeding Religious Life through Global Sisterhood sisters from around the world reflect on a synodal vision and engage in a contemplative dialogue on the emerging future of religious life Testing the Boundaries Patricia 'Iolana, Samuel Tongue, 2011-01-18 As individuals we have the ability although not always the opportunity to create our own paradigmatic image of the Divine moreover as a society we can alter transform or even replace those paradigms Progressive movements exist in nearly every faith tradition moving towards the future of our world and our belief systems these movements include both radical and reformist thinkers and they are challenging the lenses that we employ to image worship connect with and understand the Divine With so many possible interpretations and paradigms competing for social acceptance and support the choice must be made carefully and wisely bearing in mind the inevitability of change whilst remaining open to pluralities of thought and practice This is especially important when it comes to the future of theology and religious studies in particular to the relations between the various global faith traditions In Testing the Boundaries ten scholars explore the praxis of faith including our image of Self in relation to the Divine our relation to the religious Other our struggle for religious identity in new locales the limits of language and translations in sacred texts our responsibility to nature our nomadic and transitory tendencies traditions in the academy and our interreligious relationships They test the boundaries of traditional theology and their interdisciplinary fields dancing in the liminal space where possibilities gather

Carriere, 2018-05-08 It is a commonly held assumption among cultural social and political psychologists that imagining the future of societies we live in has the potential to change how we think and act in the world However little research has been devoted to whether this effect exists in collective imaginations of social groups communities and nations for instance This book explores the part that imagination and creativity play in the construction of collective futures and the diversity of outlets in which these are presented from fiction and cultural symbols to science and technology The authors discuss this effect in social phenomena such as in intergroup conflict and social change and focus on several cases studies to illustrate how the imagination of collective futures can guide social and political action This book brings together theoretical and empirical contributions from cultural social and political psychology to offer insight into our constant re imagination of the societies in which we live Formation and the Person Alessandro Manenti, Stefano Guarinelli, Hans Zollner, 2007 This book gathers the foundational concepts which characterise the approach to the person as human and as Christian which has been developed at the Institute of Psychology of the Pontifical Gregorian University during its more than 35 years of activity The book directs these concepts towards further paths for investigation and puts them in dialogue with sister schools of depth psychology and with other areas of scholarship in particular philosophy and theology which are equally interested in exploring the human mystery Hence the variety of authors psychologists philosophers and theologians brought together by a common interest in understanding and forming the human person in better ways The reflections contained in this book gain concrete expression in an educative therapeutic practice and they review the nodal points which are part of every journey of growth and of psychotherapy personal identity interaction with the external world and the attainment of personal truth inner imagination desires and affections conflicts Instruments are offered to enable the formator and the psychotherapist to make the best possible use of the great energies which are made available by their application how to identify the real problem where to concentrate one's attention what to listen to how to handle the relationship on what element to act in order to promote improvement cure what kind of change to propose While accompaniment and psychotherapy are different procedures they nevertheless have many similarities and points of contact The dynamic relations and the factors involved in growth which this book describes are valid for both modalities of intervention and will be of interest to anyone who wishes to help others in a more enlightened educative dialogue The Quiver ,1886 Bible Student and Religious Outlook ,1926 The Homiletic Review ,1919
