Latvian Literature:

Introduction to Modern Latvian Literature Ausma Cimdina, 2001      Latvian Literature Under the Soviets, 1940-1975 Rolfs Ekmanis, 1978      Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, Library of Congress. Subject Cataloging Division, Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 1995      Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2007      Baltic Belles: The Dedalus Book of Latvian Women's Literature Eva Eglaja- Kristone, 2020-01-01 This anthology spans more than a century from the end of the 19th century to the present day. It is a period marked by change, war, occupying regimes and renewed freedom. Much of the early work written by Latvian women writers such as Anna Rumane Kenina, Angelika Gailite, Anna Brigadere, Alija Baumane and Mirdza Bendrupe is realist in nature, depicting an upheaval of mores and relationships forged not through tradition but the pangs of love and passion. The Soviet era brought strict censorship to all forms of the arts, including literature. Despite this, authors like Regina Ezera were able to push their craft deeper into the psychological analysis of their characters. On the other side of the Iron Curtain, US-based Latvian exile writer Ilze Skipsna forged ahead with her own version of the psychological short story. The work of authors such as Andra Neiburga Gundega Repse and Nora Ikstena in the late 80s and early 90s heralded a new era of female writers in a country yearning for its freedom, which it finally achieved. Authors who appeared after the millennium, like Inga Abele and Inga Zolude, who have shaped and continue to shape contemporary Latvian literature, round out this collection.      A New History of Latvian Literature Ryszard Nycz, Benedikts Kalnacs, Pauls Daija, 2022-05-31 In this volume, scholars from diverse research fields—literature, history, art history, and folklore studies—scan the nineteenth-century Latvian literature from various perspectives, taking into account links between literature, oral culture, and visual art, as well as the interactions between social transformations and aesthetic developments.      Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 1990      F-O Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 1990      Library of Congress Subject Headings: F-O Library of Congress. Subject Cataloging Division, 1989      The World Reacts to the Holocaust David S. Wyman, Charles H. Rosenzweig, 1996-09-24 Among the issues examined are the extent of the human destruction, the degree of collaboration, Jewish reactions, and efforts to save the Jews.      History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2007-07-18 The third volume in the History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe focuses on the making and remaking of those institutional structures that engender and regulate the creation, distribution, and reception of literature. The focus here is not so much on shared institutions but rather on such region-wide analogous institutional processes as the national awakening, the modernist opening, and the communist regimentation, the canonization of texts, and censorship of literature. These processes, which took place in all of the region's cultures, were often asynchronous and subjected to different local conditions. The volume's premise is that the national awakening and institutionalization of literature were symbiotically interrelated in East-Central Europe.

Each national awakening involves a language renewal an introduction of the vernacular and its literature in schools and universities the creation of an infrastructure for the publication of books and journals clashes with censorship the founding of national academies libraries and theaters a re construction of national folklore and the writing of histories of the vernacular literature The four parts of this volume are titled 1 Publishing and Censorship 2 Theater as a Literary Institution 3 Forging Primal Pasts The Uses of Folk Poetry and 4 Literary Histories Itineraries of National Self images Polish Countryside in Transition Wioletta Knapik, Tomasz Masłyk, Katarzyna Zajda, Łukasz Trembaczowski, 2025-07-14 Today s quality of life in the Polish countryside is intertwined with residents social capital resources To describe the matter comprehensively and suggest potential trends the authors examine in four chapters critical socioeconomic issues that have shaped selected dimensions of the rural quality of life in Poland In addition to the description of Polish rural areas before and after accession to the European Union 1 the level and standards of living in the countryside identified in the study is presented 2 The social capital of the Polish rural population 3 and the changes in the quality of life in the Polish countryside from the perspective as perceived by local leaders are also described in detail 4 Baltic Peripeties Eckhard Schumacher, Cordelia

Heß, 2025-07-14 In Aristotle s Poetics the well constructed turning point peripeteia makes a story by unfolding its tragic or more broadly literary potential But neither narrative nor historical turning points occur in empty spaces Given the power of the peripety for plot making this volume inquires about its agency in the shaping of specific regions Narration matters for the constitution of events and regions alike space matters as a key element for the construction of plots and their dynamics The Baltic Sea region with its rich literary and cultural traditions and multiple overlapping layers of historical ruptures is a particularly fruitful area for exploring transformation processes from a narratological point of view Introduction to Latvia Gilad James, PhD, Latvia is a small country located in northern Europe bordered by Estonia Russia Belarus and Lithuania After over 50 years of Soviet rule Latvia gained its independence in 1991 and joined the European Union in 2004 The country is known for its picturesque countryside dense forests and stunning beaches along its 500 kilometer coastline Latvia s capital city Riga is a UNESCO World Heritage site famous for its well preserved medieval architecture lively nightlife and cosmopolitan atmosphere The country has a population of around 1.9 million with most people living in urban areas The official language is Latvian a Baltic language spoken by the majority of the population but many people also speak English Russian and German The Latvian economy has undergone significant growth and transformation since independence The country is a member of the eurozone and has a highly skilled workforce making it an attractive destination for foreign investors The economy is based on a mixture of industries with a strong focus on manufacturing agriculture and services The country is also known for its IT sector and Riga is home to a number of international technology companies Latvia has a rich cultural heritage with a history that dates back to the 12th century The country celebrates many festivals and holidays throughout the year including the Latvian Song and Dance Festival which takes place every five years and attracts thousands
