The Making of Theatrical Reputations Yael Zarhy-Levo,2008-04-21 Today s successful plays and playwrights achieve their prominence not simply because of their intrinsic merit but because of the work of mediators who influence the whole trajectory of a playwright's or a theatre company's career. Critics and academic writers are primarily considered the makers of reputations but funding organizations and various media agents as well as artistic directors, producers and directors also pursue separate agendas in shaping the reputations of theatrical works. In The Making of Theatrical Reputations Yael Zarhy-Levo demonstrates the processes through which these mediatory practices by key authority figures situate theatrical companies and playwrights within cultural and historical memory. To reveal how these authorizing powers that be promote theatrical events, companies and playwrights, Zarhy-Levo presents four detailed case studies that reflect various angles of the modern London theatre. In the case of the English Stage Company's production of John Osborne's Look Back in Anger, she centers on a specific event. She then focuses on the trajectory of a single company, the Theatre Workshop, particularly through its first decade at the Theatre Royal, Stratford East, London. Next, she explores the career of the dramatist John Arden, especially its first ten years, in part drawing upon an interview with Arden and his wife, actress and playwright Margaretta D'Arcy, before turning to her fourth study, the playwright Harold Pinter's shifting reputation throughout the different phases of his career. Zarhy-Levo's accounts of these theatrical events, companies and playwrights through the prism of mediation bring fresh insights to these landmark productions and their creators.

Paradise Reframed Tobias Gabel, 2016-06-06 In 1677 John Dryden, poet laureate to the restored Charles II, published The State of Innocence. Emphatically advertised on its title page as an opera, Dryden's book was based on Paradise Lost, John Milton's 1667 epic about the fall and eventual restoration of mankind. In the heated political climate of the 1670s, the publication of this libretto suggested the bold and cunning appropriation of an idiosyncratic text, widely viewed even then as a mirror of its author's theological and political opposition to the Restoration establishment. Focusing on the historical background to Dryden's reframing of Paradise Lost, this study recovers the various and often surprising contexts in which both works were written, ranging from Restoration foreign and domestic policy to the contemporary book market and early modern habits of interpretation. As becomes clear, the process of adaptation by which Dryden's Servant to His Majesty reconfigures Paradise Lost as an affirmatively royalist text skillfully defuses the radical and subversive potential of Milton's original while, at the same time, substituting through prefaces and topical allusions a clear political message of Dryden's own. Seen together in their shared cultural-historical context, the intertwined histories of both texts shed light on the deeply politicised nature of Restoration literary culture, offering a fresh view of the early reception history of a disputed and pre-canonical Paradise Lost.

The Musical from the Inside Out Stephen Citron, 1997-10-01 An entertaining and informative new guidebook to the creation of the musical show, filled with anecdotes, practical advice and sparkling commentary from the biggest Broadway insiders.
