Art and Architecture Division,1996 Illusions of Identity Anne-Marie Willis,1993 Illusions of identity the art of nation The Illusion of Cultural Identity Jean-François Bayart,2005 The concept of cultural identity has become for many a convenient explanation for most of the world s political problems In The Illusion of Cultural Identity Jean Fran ois Bayart offers a sustained critique of this rationalization by dispelling the notion that fixed cultural identities do in fact exist In this highly sophisticated book Bayart shows that the very idea of cultural identity prevents us from grasping the cultural dimensions of political action and economic development Identities he argues are fluid never homogeneous and sometimes invented Political repertoires are instead created through imagined highly ambiguous aspects of culture what he calls imaginaires For instance the long beards worn by men in some fundamentalist groups are thought to be key to their core identities and thus assumed to be in conflict with modern values These beards however do not stand in the way of the men s use of technology or their embrace of capitalism an example Bayart uses to demonstrate the equivocality of cultural identity The theoretical implications of Bayart s analysis emerge from a fascinating collection of historical examples that often surprise and always instruct Illusions of Identity Andrew J. Sydik,2000 Under Construction Marie-Anne Kohl,2021-01-14 While currently identitarian ideologies and essentialist notions of identity that tend to simplify and reduce life experience to simple factors are globally regaining massive attention it becomes inevitable to recollect the thorough discussions of identity concepts of the past three decades It also calls for an ever keener awareness of and capacity to deal with the complexity and diversity of the world we live in Artists play a major role in the potential reflection and transformation of perceptions and conceptions of the world musicians dancers choreographers spoken word artists performance artists actors also fine art installation media artists or photographers alike Performing critical identity points to performative practices of artists that bring to the fore a critical self awareness and self positioning concerning identification and belonging Social identities such as gender sexuality race class dis ability age or non religiosity are closely linked to the historical social regional and political dimensions of their formation From this perspective identities are hardly one dimensional but complex and intersectional and are rather to be thought of as a process of identification and belonging than as a consistent essence As different maybe contradictory among themselves as they are the performative works of artists such as Lerato Shadi Liad Hussein Kantorowicz Nora Chipaumire Shu Lea Cheang Zanele Muholi Ohno Kazuo Anohni

Hegarty Neo H lcker We re Muslim Don t Panic or of theatre collectives such as RambaZamba and Thikwa Theater in Berlin or Theater Hora in Zurich to name but a very small quite random selection of artists share a critical approach towards hegemonic norms or stereotyping of identities and their representations and empower diversity This edition puts a specific focus on the performativity of the aesthetic practices and wants to explore different artistic approaches strategies tactics and perspectives of artists when they address identity issues when they target power relations and structures of oppression and inequality when they empower concepts of diversity This Call for Papers invites academic as well as artistic contributions that delve into case studies of artists performing critical identity or into more general theoretical reflections on the subject Contributions can relate to but are not limited to following topics intersectionality subversion self empowerment resistance subalternity exploitation manipulation anti feminism appropriation cultural globalisation transculturality hybrid identities collectives body stage audience de construction of the difference of aesthetic genres and of high popular culture capitalism colonialism re production of exclusion Dr Marie Anne Kohl Editor Illusions of identity Bernadette Charmaine Searle,1995 Daydream Nation Mariam Bakhtiari,2008* Seeing Differently Amelia Jones,2013-06-19 Seeing Differently offers a history and theory of ideas about identity in relation to visual arts discourses and practices in Euro American culture from early modern beliefs that art is an expression of an individual the painted image a world picture expressing a comprehensive and coherent point of view to the rise of identity politics after WWII in the art world and beyond The book is both a history of these ideas for example tracing the dominance of a binary model of self and other from Hegel through classic 1970s identity politics and a political response to the common claim in art and popular political discourse that we are beyond or post identity In challenging this latter claim Seeing Differently critically examines how and why we identify works of art with an expressive subjectivity noting the impossibility of claiming we are post identity given the persistence of beliefs in art discourse and broader visual culture about who the subject is and offers a new theory of how to think this kind of identification in a more thoughtful and self reflexive way Ultimately Seeing Differently offers a mode of thinking identification as a queer feminist durational process that can never be fully resolved but must be accounted for in thinking about art and visual culture Queer feminist durationality is a mode of relational interpretation that affects both art and interpreter potentially making us more aware of how we evaluate and give value to art and other kinds of visual culture Illusion of Identity Sant Suwatcharapinun,2000 Narrating the (trans)nation Krishna Sen,Sudeshnā Cakrabartī,2008 Contributed articles presented under the SAP III scheme of Department of English University of Calcutta Illusions of power Katalin Hausel,2006
