If you have a slow or inconvenient Internet connection, you might want to view the resources from a CD-ROM or DVD. Details can be found online at: dr-dave-billiards.com.

This is the sixth article in a series based on the "The Video Encyclopedia of Pool Practice \(VEPP\)," a five-disc instructional-DVD series I recently created with fellow BD columnist Bob Jewett. VEPP is an organized and methodical training program and pool workout. It teaches you how to develop, assess, and track progress of skills for all facets of your game. An outline of the entire VEPP series along with video excerpts from each DVD can be viewed online at: dr-dave-billiards.com/vepp. Last month, we looked at useful center-of-table drills from Disc II: "VEPP II – Position Control and English." This month, we'll look at another type of position control drill, also from the second DVD.

Diagram 1 shows the set-up for a line-of-balls drill useful to practice and develop your position play skills. Nine balls (1 through 9) are lined up about a ball apart along the centerline of the table starting a ball off the end cushion. Starting with cue ball (CB) in hand, the goal is to pocket as many balls as you can in rotation (i.e., in numerical order) in any pockets without disturbing any of the remaining balls. There are many position play options for the first ball, but it is easy to start with basic draw (see the yellow path). The goal is to leave a slight angle on the 2 ball, which leads to a similar position play for the 3-ball (see the blue path). If you don't leave enough angle on a ball, you can draw straight back off the cushion for good position on the next ball as shown with the 3-ball shot (see the red path). With position above the line to the pocket, as with the 4 ball, a rolling-CB, natural angle path off the end rail, to the other side of the line of balls, is a fairly easy-to-control option. Several position options for the 5-ball (A through D) are shown in the diagram. You could target A to shoot the 6 in the upper side pocket. Alternatively, you could go longer to C, where you could draw back for the 6, or D, where you have decent draw or follow options (albeit, with a longer shot). You definitely want to avoid position B because it would require a bank shot on the 5 to avoid contact with the 6. As you progress through the line of balls, the drill gets easier because the side pockets begin to offer easy shot and position options, as demonstrated in NV C.8.
