knowledge concerning the antiquity of man Covers a wide variety of time periods and topics from the Renaissance and the 18th century to the engravings photography and virtual realities of today Questions what we can learn from considering the use of images in the past and present that might guide our responsible use of them in the future Available within the prestigious New Interventions in Art History series published in connection with the Association of Art Historians The Fortnightly ,1911 The Self Constantine Sedikides,Steven J. Spencer,2011-02-25 This volume provides a cutting edge exposition to research on the self Sixteen authoritative overviews highlight the role of the self around four themes Throughout the volume the exposition is both scholarly and accessible It also offers critical assessments along with thoughtful discussions of challenges and problems ahead as well as the generation of novel hypotheses As such the book aspires to influence the research agenda for several years to come Viewing Photography in Post-Dictatorship Latin America David Rojinsky,2022-11-30 This book examines the archival aesthetic of mourning and memory developed by Latin American artists and photographers between 1997 2016 Particular attention is paid to how photographs of the assassinated or disappeared political dissident of the 1970s and 1980s as found in family albums and in official archives were not only re imagined as conduits for private mourning but also became allegories of social trauma and the struggle against socio political amnesia Memorials art installations photo essays street projections and documentary films are all considered as media for the reframing of these archival images from the era of the Cold War dictatorships in Argentina Chile Guatemala and Uruguay While the turn of the millennium was supposedly marked by the end of history and with the advent of digital technologies by the end of photography these works served to interrupt and hence belie the dominant narrative on both counts Indeed the book s overarching contention is that the viewer s affective identification with distant suffering when engaging these artworks is equally interrupted instead the viewer is invited to apprehend memorial images as emblems of national and international histories of ideological struggle The Fortnightly Review ,1911 Images of the past Павловский дворец-музей,1992 Seeing the Past with Computers Kevin Kee,Timothy J Compeau,2019-01-24 Recent developments in computer technology are providing historians with new ways to see and seek to hear touch or smell traces of the past Place based augmented reality applications are an increasingly common feature at heritage sites and museums allowing historians to create immersive multifaceted learning experiences Now that computer vision can be directed at the past research involving thousands of images can recreate lost or destroyed objects or environments and discern patterns in vast datasets that could not be perceived by the naked eye Seeing the Past with Computers is a collection of twelve thought pieces on the current and potential uses of augmented reality and computer vision in historical research teaching and presentation The experts gathered here reflect upon their experiences working with new technologies share their ideas for best practices and assess the implications of and imagine future possibilities for new methods of historical study Among the experimental topics they explore are the use of augmented reality that empowers students to challenge the presentation of historical material in their textbooks the application of seeing computers to unlock unusual cultural knowledge such as the secrets of vaudevillian stage magic hacking facial recognition technology to reveal victims of racism in a century old Australian archive and rebuilding the soundscape of an Iron Age village with aural augmented reality This volume is a valuable resource for scholars and students of history and the digital humanities more broadly It will inspire them to apply innovative methods to open new paths for conducting and sharing their own research      Philosophy Bertrand Russell,1927

Empiricisms Barry Allen,2020-11-08 In this sweeping volume of comparative philosophy and intellectual history Barry Allen reassesses the values of experience and experiment in European and world traditions His work traces the history of empirical philosophy from its birth in Greek medicine to its emergence as a philosophy of modern science He surveys medical empiricism Aristotelean and Epicurean empiricism the empiricism of Gassendi and Locke logical empiricism radical empiricism transcendental empiricism and varieties of anti empiricism from Parmenides to Wilfrid Sellars Throughout this extensive intellectual history Allen builds an argument in three parts A richly detailed account of history s empiricisms in Part One establishes a context in Part Two for reconsidering the work of the radical empiricists William James Henri Bergson John Dewey and Gilles Deleuze each treated in a dedicated chapter What is radical about them is their effort to return empiricism from epistemology to the ontology and natural philosophy where it began In Part Three Allen sets empirical philosophy in conversation with Chinese tradition considering technological scientific medical and alchemical sources as well as selected Confucian Daoist and Mohist classics The work shows how philosophical reflection on experience and a profound experimental practice coexist in traditional China with no interaction or even awareness of each other slipping over each other instead of intertwining as they did in European history a difference Allen attributes to a different understanding of the value of knowledge Allen s book recovers empiricism s neglected multi textured contexts and elucidates the enduring value of experience to arrive at an idea of what is living and dead in philosophical empiricism      The Philosophical Review Jacob Gould Schurman,James Edwin Creighton,Frank Thilly,Gustavus Watts Cunningham,1918 An international journal of general philosophy      Adventures in Philosophy John Crauford Wordsworth,1926
