Images Of England Harborne The Second Selection:

Harborne Martin Hampson, 2002-11 For centuries a small rural community Harborne began to grow rapidly in the late nineteenth century following improved transport links with Birmingham After becoming part of the city in 1891 the district saw a steady expansion of commuter housing on both sides of the High Street the most notable development being J S Nettlefold s Moorpool Estate a pioneering model village run on co ownership principles The closeness of Edgbaston helped Harborne to develop a green semi rural character This trend was further encouraged by the early establishment of neighbouring golf courses and cricket grounds the gift of Grove Park to the city and the retention for official use of two adjacent mansions in extensive grounds Harborne House now Bishop s Croft and Harborne Hall Harborne has close associations with several nationally known figures including the artist David Cox the parliamentary reformer Thomas Attwood and the poet W H Auden Its name was for long known nationally as the home of the Chad Valley Toy Company Well known as an educational centre Harborne also has a number of long established cultural sporting and social organizations Its High Street has long been valued for its shopping and catering facilities remaining a focal point for a wide area It is the aim of this book the second selection of over 200 old Harborne photographs from Birmingham Library Services archives to complement its predecessor in capturing something of the character of the area in the recent and more distant past

Played in Birmingham Steve Beauchampe, Simon Inglis, 2006 Played in Birmingham is the fifth book in a groundbreaking English Heritage series celebrating Britain s rich and diverse sporting heritage Lavishly illustrated and adopting a completely new approach to the study of sporting and urban history Played in Birmingham leads readers along a trail of fascinating locations and little known buildings landscapes and waterscapes in all corners of the city and its surrounds Birmingham is a city founded upon hard work enterprise and civic pride Its stock of historic public baths includes three of the oldest operational swimming pools in Britain In 1888 a Birmingham draper was responsible for setting up the Football League the first in the world Birmingham also has a proud record at grassroots level Following on from the pioneering example set at Bournville by the Quaker brothers George and Richard Cadbury during the early 20th century Birmingham industrialists invested in a network of sports facilities for their employees that gave rise to the largest works football association ever known Birmingham was the cradle of lawn tennis in the 1860s and the setting for the world s first snooker championships in 1927 Its numerous workshops have also been responsible for supplying medals cups and trophies for generations of international competitions plus no fewer than 200 million Acme Thunderer whistles the first choice of referees around the world since 1884 For those who do not know the city or perhaps dismiss it as a mere concrete jungle Played in Birmingham also reveals a wealth of green space parks golf courses cricket grounds and bowling greens several barely more than a mile or so from the Bull Ring Perhaps even more surprising Birmingham s topography is interlaced with rivers brooks lanks and pools with Edgbaston Reservoir forming one of the great waterscapes of urban Britain a magnet for anglers and sailors alike This is a book full of delightful surprises and quirky details many of which are little known even within the Birmingham area There has never been a history of the city quite like it Farming in Miniature 1 Robert Newson,2019-02-28 Farming in Miniature is an essential guide for collectors of British toy models interested in farm tractors farm horses and associated agricultural equipment The manufacturers brands are arranged alphabetically Each manufacturer has its own chapter introduced by an account of its history These introductions cross refer to the captioned photographs that follow and which make up the bulk of the chapters In their general introduction the authors say that they have attempted to illustrate all significant variations of colour and packaging particularly of rare or unusual models so as to make the book as comprehensive as possible The three authors all leading authorities have drawn on their extensive past experience coupled with another five years to research write and prepare photographs Transactions and Proceedings Birmingham and Warwickshire Archaeological Society,2005 Ottley's Bibliography of British Railway History.
