Imaginary Australian:

Australia's Empire Deryck Marshall Schreuder, Stuart Ward, 2008-02-07 Australia's Empire is the first collaborative evaluation of Australia's imperial experience in more than a generation. Bringing together political, cultural, and aboriginal understandings of the past, it argues that the legacies of empire continue to influence the fabric of modern Australian society.

Home and Away Stephen Burns, Clive Pearson, 2013-01-11 Home and Away is a cluster of exercises in contextual theology in different but related modes. Preface

The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re-reading of women's writing that has gone on in the last twenty-five years. This is an opportunity for stock-taking, a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered, reclaimed, and republished. There are entries on writers, on individual texts, and on general terms, genres, and movements, all printed in a single alphabetical sequence. The earliest written documents in medieval English, the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe, are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day. The book reflects the spread of literacy, the history of colonisation, and the development of post-colonial cultures, using and changing the English language. The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered. The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality, wealth, and diversity of women's writing.

Being-Here Annika Lems, 2018-05-24 Exploring the lifeworlds of Halima Omar and Mohamed, three middle-aged Somalis living in Melbourne, Australia, the author discusses the interrelated meanings of emplacement and displacement as experienced in people's everyday lives. Through their experiences of displacement and placemaking, Being Here examines the figure of the refugee as a metaphor for societal alienation and estrangement and moves anthropological theory towards a new understanding of the crucial existential links between Sein, Being, and Da. Here

Gender, Madness, and Colonial Paranoia in Australian Literature Laura Deane, 2017-05-31 This book offers an original and compelling analysis of women's madness, gender, and the Australian family. Taking up Anne McClintock's call for critical works that psychoanalyze colonialism, this radical re-assessment of novels by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville provides a sustained account of women's madness and masculine colonial psychosis from a feminist postcolonial perspective. This book rethinks women's madness in the context of Australian colonialism. Taking novels of madness by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville as its point of critical departure, it applies a post-Reconciliation lens to the study of Australia's gender and racial codes to place Australian sexism and misogyny in their proper colonial context. Employing madness as a frame to rethink postcolonial theorizing in Australia, Gender, Madness, and Colonial Paranoia in Australian Literature psychoanalyses colonialism to argue that Australia suffers from a cultural pathology based in the strategic forgetting of colonial violence. This pathology takes the form of colonial paranoia about race and gender, producing distorted gender codes and ways of being Australian. This book maps the contours of Australian colonial paranoia, weaving feminist literary theory, psychoanalysis, and postcolonial theory with poststructuralist approaches.

to reassess the traditional canon of critical madness scholarship and the place of women's writing within it. This provocative work marks a radical departure from much recent feminist cultural and postcolonial criticism and will be essential reading for students of Australian literature, cultural studies and gender studies wanting a new insight into how the Australian psyche is shaped by settler colonialism.

Television Toby Miller, 2003. Bringing together the most important writings on television in theoretical, historical, empirical and political terms from the USA and Europe with significant coverage of other international works, this collection demonstrates television's global significance as a field of study to disciplines across both the humanities and social sciences.

Approaching Transnationalisms Brenda Yeoh, Michael W. Charney, Tong Chee Kiong, 2011-06-28. The term transnationalism has gained considerable academic and popular currency despite a lack of clear definitions in part because its overall form changes as its influence incorporates additional spheres of daily life on a variety of scales and contexts. The purpose of this volume is to bring together different perspectives on this phenomenon using case studies that represent some of the most current thinking on transnationalism in a wide range of disciplines. Central themes which this book explores include legal and economic reactions to transnational migration, the re-negotiation of identities in the context of changing national social and cultural identities and the emergence of new imaginings of home and social space in transnational communities. Approaching Transnationalisms: Studies on Transnational Societies, Multicultural Contacts and Imaginings of Home foregrounds powerful transnational forces crossing the boundaries of nation states and at the same time gives attention to the continued significance of the nation state and the diversity of localized reactions to transnational challenges.

Locating Asian Australian Cultures Tseen Khoo, 2013-10-18. Locating Asian Australian Cultures is a timely and challenging interdisciplinary compilation that sets a contemporary benchmark for Asian Australian studies and its future directions. In the dynamic field of diasporic Asian studies, Asian Australian studies is an emerging and contentious area. While cognisant of issues and critical developments in North America, Europe and Asia, Asian Australian studies forges its own specific engagements with questions of identity, racialization and nationalisms in a world of globalized cultures and movements. This book deliberately engages with international perspectives on Asian Australian studies that offer contingent connections and address crucial questions for fields that are rapidly de-nationalizing. The volume focuses on Asian Australian cultural production and identity, presenting work that interrogates notions of belonging and citizenship, representational politics and disciplinarity in the academy. The broad-ranging essays examine the politics of Asian Australian art and literature as well as the area's significant interventions in disciplinary formations nationally and internationally. Other essays discuss the Vietnamese War memorial in Cabramatta, notions of the sacrificial Asian in contemporary films and Chinatown sites in Australia. This book will be essential reading not only for researchers in Asian Australian studies but also for those with an interest in Asian diaspora and Australian studies.

Global Forces and Local Life-Worlds Ulrike Schuerkens, 2004-03-06. How are global forces impacting on local lifestyles? Where does the personal stand in relation to globalization? Global Forces and Local Life Worlds explores these questions using a mixture of sociological and anthropological analysis and case study methods Demonstrating the tensions between retaining cultural integrity in the face of the levelling processes associated with modernity this book locates the problems of globalization and localization in the appropriate anthropological and sociological dimensions examines the relationship between culture and identity and explores the varieties of modernity

Australia, the Recreational Society David Mosler, 2002-01-30 From its very inception Australia has been a derivative society First as part of the British Empire and then soon after World War II what Mosler considers the American Empire and the new end of century Americanized global culture This has meant that Australia has struggled to attain its own identity Mosler explores that struggle for national independence a struggle that seems to be doomed to failure According to Mosler the reasons for this failure lie in Australia's propensity to remain a recreational culture a culture more attuned to pleasure and dependence than regimented hard work and the concomitant collective pattern of national assertiveness The Australian economy defense arrangements culture and psychology have been dominated by other nations and transnational forces The prospects for the nation in the future appear to be somewhat grim unless this historical pattern of dependence and lack of respect indeed almost contempt for national institutions is reversed A provocative analysis that will be of interest to scholars students researchers and anyone interested in Australian history and contemporary life and culture

A Critical Companion to Jane Campion Elsa Colombani, Eurydice Da Silva, 2024-11-25 A Critical Companion to Jane Campion offers a thorough and detailed study of the works of Jane Campion This edited volume seeks a modern approach by blurring the frontiers between film and television film theater releases and platforms and treats the entirety of Campion's her body of work as a meaningful whole The chapters explore recurring themes and connections across Campion's oeuvre including her complex feminine characters exploration of New Zealand landscapes love for literature constant dialogue between media and the influence of the Gothic Contributors draw on a variety of scholarly approaches methodologies and perspectives to provide innovative readings of Campion's work that are sure to spark new discussions

Representing Race John D H Downing, Charles Husband, 2005-02-16 Well informed thoughtful and transnational in its perspectives Downing and Husband's work is likely to become the key text in the field The book is essential reading for anyone interested in the politics of race and representation Professor Daya K Thussu University of Westminster The media play a diverse and significant role in the practical expression of racism and in the everyday politics of ethnicity Written by two veterans of research on media and race this book offers a fresh comparative analyses of the issues and sets out the key agendas for future study Representing Race Racisms Ethnicities and Media Provides a conceptual framework for understanding the role of the media Addresses a number of pressing political concerns including racial justice and the drift to the Right Includes a wide range of examples from Britain the USA Europe and Australia Analyzes the growth of indigenous people's media Assesses current strategies for reforming professional media practice in this sphere Drawing on years of research this book provides both a major intervention in the debate as well as a comprehensive introduction to the area It will be required reading for anyone interested in race representation and the media

The Australian People James Jupp, 2001-10 Australia is one of the most ethnically diverse societies in the world today From its ancient indigenous origins to British colonisation followed by waves of European then international migration in the twentieth century the island continent is home to people from all over the globe Each new wave of settlers has had a profound impact on Australian society and culture The Australian People documents the dramatic history of Australian settlement and describes the rich ethnic and cultural inheritance of the nation through the contributions of its people It is one of the largest reference works of its kind with approximately 250 expert contributors and almost one million words Illustrated in colour and black and white the book is both a comprehensive encyclopedia and a survey of the controversial debates about citizenship and multiculturalism now that Australia has attained the centenary of its federation

Representing Aboriginal Childhood Joanne Faulkner, 2023-02-28 This book critically investigates the ways in which Aboriginal children and childhood figure in Australia's cultural life to mediate Australians' ambivalence about the colonial origins of the nation as well as its possible post colonial futures Engaging with representations in literature film governmental discourse and news and infotainment media it shows how ways of representing Aboriginal children and childhood serve a national project of representing settler Australian values through the forgetting of colonial violence Analysing the ways in which certain negative aspects of Australian nationhood are concealed rendered invisible and repressed through practices of representing Aboriginal children and childhood it challenges accepted shared understandings regarding Australian-ness and settler colonial sovereignty Through an innovative interdisciplinary approach that engages critical theory post colonial theory literary studies history psychoanalysis and philosophy Representing Aboriginal Childhood responds to urgent questions that pivot on the role of the Indigenous child within settler nation state formations As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and social geography collective memory politics and cultural studies

Well-being, Personal Wholeness and the Social Fabric Doru Costache, Darren Cronshaw, 2017-05-11 Well being is a familiar term in academic literature and public discourse It captures the imagination by addressing issues related to the social good and the quest for personal happiness It embraces a wide variety of concerns age gender sexuality ethnicity self esteem health class education institution and ecosystems among many issues Well being studies focus on the welfare of the world and its inhabitants bringing holistic and transformative perspectives to bear The Christian faith has been a powerful contributor to this tradition over the centuries Human beings made in the image of God are called to live transformed lives through the Spirit of Christ in communities of grace and reconciliation for the benefit of others caring for our planet in the expectation of God's new creation What difference does the study of well being from a Christian perspective make

Engaging Curriculum Bill Green, 2017-09-18 Explicitly linking curriculum inquiry to English education via recurring themes of representation democracy and knowledge this book is a call for both researchers and practitioners to engage with curriculum explicitly and deliberatively as both a concept and a question The approach is broadly conceptual and constitutes an exercise in theoretical and philosophical inquiry While deeply informed by North American debates and developments this book offers a distinctive counterpoint and a strategically ex centric perspective being equally informed by the curriculum scene in Australia as well as the UK and elsewhere Divided into two sections this book first addresses matters of general curriculum inquiry while the second turns more specifically to English teaching and to associated questions of language literacy and literature in L1 education Green brings the two together through a critical examination of the Australian national curriculum especially in its implications and challenges for English teaching and with due regard for the project of transnational curriculum inquiry

Nation and Commemoration Lyn Spillman, 1997-01-28 What do people think when they imagine themselves as part of a nation Nation and Commemoration answers this question in an exploration of the creation and recreation of national identities through commemorative activities Extending recent work in cultural sociology and history Lyn Spillman compares centennial and bicentennial celebrations in the United States and Australia to show how national identities can emerge from processes of cultural production She systematically analyses the symbols and meanings of national identity in these two new nations identifying changes and continuities similarities and differences in how visions of history place in the world politics land and diversity have been used to express nationhood The result is a deeper understanding not only of American and Australian national identities but also of the global process of nation formation Bordered Bodies, Bothered Voices Jione Havea, 2022-04-29 Theologies are constructed in and from lived contexts and contexts are shaped by borders While borders are barriers they are also steppingstones for crossing over and invitations for moving further This book offers theological and cultural reflections from the intersections of borders real and imagined bodies physical cultural religious ideological political and voices that endorse as well as talk back With and in the interests of natives and migrants the authors of this book embrace bordered bodies and stir bothered voices The essays are divided into four overlapping clusters that express the shared drives between the authors Noble borders some borders are not experienced as constricting because they are seen as noble Negotiating bodies bodies constantly negotiate and relocate borders Troubling voices bothered voices cannot be muted or silenced Riotous bodies embracing the wisdom in and of rejected and wounded bodies is a riot that this book invites The authors engage their subjects out of their experiences as migrants and natives This book is thus a step toward and an invitation for more work on migrant and native theologies Baptist Identities Ian M. Randall, Toivo Pilli, Anthony R. Cross, 2006-08-01 The authors of the papers published here come from a dozen different countries and represent different expressions of Baptist life The papers were delivered at the third International Conference on Baptist Studies held at the International Baptist Theological Seminary in Prague in July 2003 with the theme Baptist Identities Those who gave presentations explored what factors have contributed to the nature of Baptist distinctiveness in different countries and at different times In some cases the authors have written about their own contexts using specific case studies that relate to particular periods whereas in other cases they range more widely covering several countries and or longer periods of time Topics examined in this volume include theological education women in leadership issues of ethnicity Baptist identity and national consciousness and creeds The regional scope of the Baptist stories that are analyzed includes Africa Asia Australia Eastern and Western Europe and North America At a time when there is considerable discussion throughout the world Baptist community about the nature of Baptist identity this collection of papers by significant historians of Baptist life is an important contribution
