Kauri Past And Present:

Forest Giants of the World, Past and Present A. C. Carder, 1995 Ever since the forest primeval men and women have walked among the trees and admired their beauty and wondered at their size How big are these magnificent things anyway We moderns are wont to measure categorize and document and so a book like this is born which is world wide in scope and not only embraces space but also time As the author Al Carder shows us in his study of forest giants the past is as important as the present Many many of our great trees have fallen and disappeared some through fire and storm but more through the ravages of our own kind Dr Carder has not only traveled the world in search of the living giants he has consulted the histories and records to identify those great trees that have been and gone and his book is therefore an authoritative record of the world s super trees past and present Height is only one quality of greatness Some trees are awesome in their ultimate form their bole their spread of canopy their age All these features are ardently noted by the author who describes more than 140 species Forest Giants of the World will appeal to those who wonder about the location and the measurement of the Great Trees as well as to the specialist who requires more technical details about them The Story of New Zealand : Past and Present - Savage and Civilized Arthur S. Thomson, 1859 Ancient Trees Anna Lewington, 2030-01-01 Among all the varied productions with which Nature has adorned the surfaces of the earth none awakens our sympathies or interests our imagination so powerfully as those venerable trees which seem to have stood the lapse of ages John Muir 1868 A fascinating celebration of the some of the oldest living organisms on the planet from the grand Oaks of Europe and mighty Redwoods of California to Africa s upside down Baobab tree and from the Ginkgos of China and Korea to the Olive tree the worldwide symbol of peace Ancient Trees covers those species of tree that have lived for more than a thousand years the Redwood Bristlecone pine Montezuma Cypress the Monkey Puzzle Amazonian Ancients Yew Oak Sweet Chestnut Lime Olive Welwitschia the Baobab Kauri Totara Antarctic Beech the Fig Cedar and Ginkgo Anna Lewington the well known writer on all things botanical and leading wildlife photographer Edward Parker provide an illuminating and visually striking history of each tree species including where the long living species can still be found the tree s botanical details and its mythical associations Journal of the Royal Society of New Zealand , 1991-03 Elderflora Jared Farmer, 2022-10-18 The epic story of the planet s oldest trees and the making of the modern world Humans have always revered long lived trees But as historian Jared Farmer reveals in Elderflora our veneration took a modern turn in the eighteenth century when naturalists embarked on a quest to locate and precisely date the oldest living things on earth The new science of tree time prompted travelers to visit ancient specimens and conservationists to protect sacred groves Exploitation accompanied sanctification as old growth forests succumbed to imperial expansion and the industrial revolution Taking us from Lebanon to New Zealand to California Farmer surveys the complex history of the world s oldest trees including voices of Indigenous peoples religious figures and contemporary scientists who study elderflora in crisis In a changing climate a long future is still possible Farmer

Pacific Ports, 1919 Subjects of Intergenerational Justice Christine J. Winter, 2021-09-05 This book challenges mainstream Western IEJ intergenerational environmental justice in a manner that privileges indigenous philosophies and highlights the value these philosophies have for solving global environmental problems Divided into three parts the book begins by examining the framing of Western liberal environmental intergenerational and indigenous justice theory and reviews decolonial theory Using contemporary case studies drawn from the courts film biography and protests actions the second part explores contemporary M ori and Aboriginal experiences of values conflict in encounters with politics and law It demonstrates the deep ontological rifts between the philosophies that inform M ori and Aboriginal intergenerational justice IJ and those of the West that underpin the politics and law of these two settler states Existing Western IEJ theories across distributional communitarian human rights based and the capabilities approach to IJ are tested against obligations and duties of specific M ori and Aboriginal iwi and clans Finally in the third part it explores the ways we relate to time and across generations to create regenerative IJ Challenging the previous understanding of the conceptualization of time it posits that it is in how we relate human to human human to nonhuman nonhuman to human that robust conceptualization of IEJ emerges This volume presents an imagining of IEJ which accounts for indigenous norms on indigenous terms and explores how this might be applied in national and international responses to climate change and environmental degradation Demonstrating how assumptions in mainstream justice theory continue to colonise indigenous people and render indigenous knowledge invisible this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of environmental and intergenerational philosophy political theory indigenous studies and decolonial studies and environmental humanities more broadly American
