Keeper N Me:

Keeper'n Me Richard Wagamese, 2018-10-02 When Garnet Raven was three years old he was taken from his home on an Ojibway Indian reserve and placed in a series of foster homes. Having reached his mid teens he escapes at the first available opportunity only to find himself cast adrift on the streets of the big city. Having skirted the urban underbelly once too often by age 20 he finds himself thrown in jail. While there he gets a surprise letter from his long forgotten native family. The sudden communication from his past spurs him to return to the reserve following his release from jail. Deciding to stay awhile his life is changed completely as he comes to discover his sense of place and of self. While on the reserve Garnet is initiated into the ways of the Ojibway both ancient and modern by Keeper a friend of his grandfather and last found of history about his people's ways. By turns funny poignant and mystical Keeper n Me reflects a positive view of Native life and philosophy as well as casting fresh light on the redemptive power of one's community and traditions. Taking Back Our Spirits Jo-Ann Episkew, 2009-05-01 From the earliest settler policies to deal with the Indian problem to contemporary government run programs ostensibly designed to help Indigenous people public policy has played a major role in creating the historical trauma that so greatly impacts the lives of Canada's Aboriginal peoples. Taking Back Our Spirits traces the link between Canadian public policies the injuries they have inflicted on Indigenous people and Indigenous literature's ability to heal individuals and communities. Episkew examines contemporary autobiography fiction and drama to reveal how these texts respond to and critique public policy and how literature functions as medicine to help cure the colonial contagion.

Refereeing Identity Michael Buma, 2012 What national pastime novels tell us about our country American Indian Themes in Young Adult Literature Paulette F. Molin, 2005-04-20 This book analyzes American Indian characters and themes in young adult literature outlining plots and evaluating content from a native perspective. Teachers librarians parents and young adult readers seeking information about American Indian themed literature for young adults will want to consult this resource. It points out works that foster misinformation and stereotypes but examines the growing number of authors that counteract such messages as well. The book also includes a bibliography that will lead audiences to further reading.

Crabtracks, 2021-12-28 The essays in this collection celebrate the signal achievement of Dieter Riemenschneider in helping found and consolidate the study of postcolonial anglophone literatures in Germany and Europe. As well as poems a short story drawings of the Indian scene the first and abiding focus of this scholar's work and letters of reminiscence one quite grave there are revealing contributions of a literary historical nature on the establishment of anglophone especially African literatures as an academic discipline within Germany the UK and Northern Europe generally as well as a group of searching reflections on such topics of postcolonial import as globalization and the applicability of models to the literature of the indigene in Canada and Australia. The largest section is devoted to individual topics each treatment implicitly keyed to approaches to the teaching of New Literatures texts. Writers covered include Anita Desai landscape and memory Salman

Rushdie painting in The Moor's Last Sigh Charlotte Brontë imperial discourse in Jane Eyre Derek Walcott Omeros and cultural cohabitation and Witi Ihimaera his rewriting of Katherine Mansfield Topics dealt with include music and radio in West Africa the African literary hit parade the New Zealand prose poem Canadian and Australian war fiction the Middle Passage in the American and Caribbean novel Paul Theroux's uneasy relations with V S Naipaul and the colonial discourse of illness and recuperation The volume closes with Dieter Riemenschneider's very first and most recent critical essays the one a classic on Mulk Raj Anand the other a challenging and doubtless controversial thesis on postcolonial minority writing A select bibliography of Riemenschneider's work books edited publications journal articles and book contributions reviews and broadcasts rounds off this substantial collection

Canadian Literature and Medicine Shane Neilson, 2023-09-08 Canadian Literature and Medicine breaks new ground by formulating a series of frameworks with which to read and interpret a national literature derived from the very fabric of that literature in this case Canadian Canadian literature is of particular interest because of its consideration of coloniality Indigeneity and coincident development alongside a nascent socialized medical system currently under threat from neoliberalism The first chapters of the book carefully track the development of Canada's socialized medical system as it manifests in the imaginations of the nation's poets and authors who depict care Reciprocal flows are investigated in which these poets and authors are quoted in policy documents The archive based methodology is sustained in subsequent chapters that rely upon a unique interdisciplinary mix of medical history philosophy of medicine medical policy theory inherent to the field of Canadian literature focusing in particular on the garrison mentality as a form of aesthetic protest and the feminist ethics of care and Indigenous ways of knowing

Finding Philosophers in Global Fiction Anway Mukhopadhyay, Saptarshi Mallick, Debashree Dattaray, 2024-09-05 A cross cultural study that explores and redefines what philosophy philosophizing and philosophers are through the lens of literature The academic discipline of philosophy may tell us too rigidly what a philosopher is or should be but fictional narration often upholds the core conundrums of humankind in which philosophy germinates This collection of essays explores whether a study of philosophers at a planetary scale or at least on a broad cross cultural spectrum can decouple philosophy from its academic aspect and lend it a more inclusive domain Contributors to this volume play with three conceptual poles making them interact with each other and get modified through this interaction fiction narrative and philosopher How do these three terms get semantically modified and broadened in scope when we speak of the figures of philosophers in imaginative writing How do these terms assume different connotations in different cultural contexts interacting with the multiplicity of not just thought but also the media and tools of thought Do we always think only rationally Or do we also think with and through emotively powerful images symbols and tropes In the end Finding Philosophers in Global Fiction insists on the need to de-elitize and democratize the concept of a philosopher by reflecting on the possibility of seeing a philosopher as one who sees things clearly from any vantage point

The Century Dictionary, 1914 The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two George Melnyk, 1998 In this the companion to the landmark volume The Literary History of Alberta Volume One From Writing on Stone to World War Two George Melnyk examines Alberta literature in the second half of the twentieth century At last Melnyk argues Alberta writers have found their voice and their accomplishments have been remarkable The contradictory landscape the stereotypes of the Indian the Mountie and the Cowboy and the language of the Other speaking from the margins these elements all left their impressions on the consciousness of early Alberta But writers in the last few decades have turned this inheritance to their advantage to create compelling stories about this place and its people Today Melnyk discovers Alberta writers can appreciate not only this achievement but also its essential source the symbolic communication of Writing on Stone The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two extends the study of Alberta s cultural history to the present day It is a vital text for anyone interested in Alberta s vibrant literary culture Translating Canada Luise von Flotow,Reingard M.

Nischik,2007-10-25 In the last thirty years of the twentieth century Canadian federal governments offered varying degrees of support for literary and other artistic endeavour A corollary of this patronage of culture at home was an effort to make the resulting works available for audiences elsewhere in the world Current developments in the study of translation and its influence as cultural transfer have made possible new assessments of such efforts to project a national image abroad Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers theatres and other culture brokers It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers novelists and poets playwrights and children s authors literary and social critics Above all the book maps for its readers a number of significant though frequently unsuspected roles that translation assumes in the intercultural negotiation of national images and values The chapters in this collection will be of value to students teachers and scholars in a number of fields Informed lay readers too will appreciate the authors insights into the different ways in which translation has contributed to German reception of Canadian books and culture The

Mosionier,2022-02-15 Memories Some memories are elusive fleeting like a butterfly that touches down and is free until it is caught Others are haunting You d rather forget them but they won t be forgotten And some are always there No matter where you are they are there too In this moving story of legacy and reclamation two young sisters are taken from their home and family Powerless in a broken system April and Cheryl are separated and placed in different foster homes Despite the distance they remain close even as their decisions threaten to divide them emotionally culturally and geographically As one sister embraces her M tis identity the other tries to leave it behind Will the sisters bond survive as they struggle to make their way in a society that is often indifferent hostile and violent The first edition of In Search of April Raintree published in 1984 has since touched many generations of readers becoming a Canadian school classic In this edition ten critical essays accompany one of the best known texts by an Indigenous author in Canada Art and Tradition in a Time of Uprisings

Gabriel Levine, 2020-03-24 Examining radical reinventions of traditional practices ranging from a queer reclamation of the Jewish festival of Purim to an Indigenous remixing of musical traditions Supposedly outmoded modes of doing and making from music and religious rituals to crafting and cooking are flourishing both artistically and politically in the digital age In this book Gabriel Levine examines collective projects that reclaim and reinvent tradition in contemporary North America both within and beyond the frames of art Levine argues that in a time of political reaction and mass uprisings the subversion of the traditional is galvanizing artists activists musicians and people in everyday life He shows that this takes place in strikingly different ways for Indigenous and non Indigenous people in settler colonies Paradoxically experimenting with practices that have been abandoned or suppressed can offer powerful resources for creation and struggle in the present Levine shows that in projects that span the discontinuum of tradition strange encounters take place across the lines of class Indigeneity race and generations These encounters spark alliance and appropriation desire and misunderstanding creative mis translation and radical revisionism He describes the yearly Purim Extravaganza which gathers queer leftist and Yiddishist New Yorkers in a profane reappropriation of the springtime Jewish festival the Ottawa based Indigenous DJ collective A Tribe Called Red who combine traditional powwow drumming and singing with electronic dance music and the revival of home fermentation practices considering it from microbiological philosophical aesthetic and political angles Projects that take back the vernacular in this way Levine argues not only develop innovative forms of practice for a time of uprisings they can also work toward collectively reclaiming remaking and repairing a damaged world Travelling

Knowledges Renate Eigenbrod, 2005-05-25 In the context of de colonization the boundary between an Aboriginal text and the analysis by a non Aboriginal outsider poses particular challenges often constructed as unbridgeable Eigenbrod argues that politically correct silence is not the answer but instead does a disservice to the literature that like all literature depends on being read taught and disseminated in various ways In Travelling Knowledges Eigenbrod suggests decolonizing strategies when approaching Aboriginal texts as an outsider and challenges conventional notions of expertise She concludes that literatures of colonized peoples have to be read ethically not only without colonial impositions of labels but also with the responsibility to read beyond the text or in Lee Maracle s words to become the architect of great social transformation Features the works of Jeannette Armstrong Okanagan Louise Halfe Cree Margo Kane Saulteaux Cree Maurice Kenny
