Original The Amateur Executioner Dan Andriacco, 2016-12-07 London 1920 Boston bred Enoch Hale working as a reporter for the Central News Syndicate arrives on the scene shortly after a music hall escape artist is found hanging from the ceiling in his dressing room What at first appears to be a suicide turns out to be murder the first of several using the same modus operandi What's the connecting factor among all the victims Or isn't there one That's what the dogged journalist Hale aims to find out Covering the Hangman Murders brings him into contact with a diverse cast of witnesses and interview subjects that include Winston Churchill William Butler Yeats George Bernard Shaw Alfred Hitchcock and Ezra Pound Hale whose best friend in London is the chain smoking poet and banker T S Tom Eliot even makes a pilgrimage to the Sussex Downs to get an opinion on the case from the great detective Sherlock Holmes The trip is in vain but he eventually does meet Holmes in a most surprising encounter Through it all there is another mystery which perhaps goes to the mystery of the human heart What is the lovely music hall singer Sadie Briggs concealing from Hale just her past or also her present

The Executioners John Creasey, 2015-05-01 Roger West of Scotland Yard gets involved in the callous brutality of the underworld Chayter is released from prison but some believe he should have served longer whilst others are convinced of his innocence West has to battle with those who want Chayter dead and also fight off any notion that bygones should now be bygones

Unwilling Executioner Andrew Pepper, 2016 Unwilling Executioner is the first book to examine the deep rooted relationship between the development of crime fiction as a genre and the consolidation of the modern state It offers a far reaching and wide ranging perspective on this unfolding relationship over a three hundred year period but is not a straightforward and conventional narrative history of the genre It is part of a new and exciting critical move to read crime fiction as a transnational phenomenon and to examine crime novelists in an innovative comparative context taking them out of their discreet national traditions Considers Anglo American crime writing as well as works published in France Italy Germany Ireland Japan South Africa and elsewhere it addresses the related questions of why crime fiction is political and how particular examples of the genre engage with the complicated issue of political commitment

The Executioner Chris Carter, 2010-07-08 FROM THE AUTHOR OF THE SUNDAY TIMES NUMBER ONE BESTSELLER THE CALLER Inside a Los Angeles church on the altar steps lies the blood soaked body of a priest Later the forensic team discover that on the victim's chest the figure 3 has been scrawled in blood At first Detective Robert Hunter believes that this is a ritualistic killing But as more bodies surface he is forced to reassess All the victims died in the way they feared the most Their worst nightmares have literally come true But how could the killer have known And what links these apparently random victims Hunter finds himself on the trail of an elusive and sadistic killer someone who apparently has the power to read his victims minds Someone who can sense what scares his victims the most Someone who will stop at nothing to achieve his twisted aim PRAISE FOR CHRIS CARTER Gripping Not for the squeamish Heat A page turner Express AB Bookman's Weekly ,1999 Huxford's Old Book Value Guide Bob Huxford, Sharon Huxford, 1992 This totally new fourth edition is intended to be a companion volume Over 25 000 listings are included with current values More than just a price guide you ll also find scores of buyers listed by the type of subject matter they are looking for so it s a selling guide as well Law Books Published ,1996 Law Books in Print: Title index Glanville Publishers, Incorporated, 1997 The Broadview Anthology of Expository Prose - Third Canadian Edition Laura Buzzard, Don LePan, Nora Ruddock, Alexandria Stuart, 2017-08-08 The third Canadian edition of this anthology has been substantially revised and updated for a contemporary audience a selection of classic essays from earlier eras has been retained but the emphasis is very much on twenty first century expository writing There is also a focus on issues of great importance in twenty first century Canada such as climate change the Truth and Reconciliation Commission the Jian Ghomeshi trial Facebook police discrimination trans rights and postsecondary education in the humanities Works of different lengths and levels of difficulty are represented as are narrative descriptive and persuasive essays and new to this edition lyric essays For the new edition there are also considerably more short pieces than ever before a number of op ed pieces are included as are pieces from blogs and from online news sources The representation of academic writing from several disciplines has been increased and in some cases the anthology also includes news reports presenting the results of academic research to a general audience Also new to this edition are essays from a wide range of the most celebrated prose writers of the modern era from Susan Sontag Eula Biss and Michel Foucault to Anne Carson and Ta Nehisi Coates The anthology also offers increased diversity of representation including for example a larger proportion of First Nations writers and women writers than previous Canadian editions Unobtrusive explanatory notes appear at the bottom of the page and each selection is preceded by a headnote that provides students with information regarding the context in which the piece was written Each reading is also followed by questions for discussion A unique feature is the inclusion of a set of additional notes on the anthology s companion website notes designed to be of particular help to EAL students and or students who have little familiarity with Canadian culture The anthology is accompanied by two companion websites The student website features additional readings and interactive writing exercises as well as the additional notes The instructor website provides additional discussion questions and for a number of the anthology selections background information that may be of interest

Can We Be Great Again? Jeremy Hunt, 2025-06-05 A masterly analysis of why Britain has much more global influence than it thinks Eric Schmidt former CEO Google Enthralling Daily Mail Since the global financial crisis Britain has been through a difficult period leading many to conclude the country is doomed to inevitable decline Jeremy Hunt was at the top of government as both Foreign Secretary and Chancellor In Can We Be Great Again he persuasively rebuts those who think

Britain is no longer capable of shaping the world we live in With the election of President Trump a world that was already becoming more dangerous has also become more unpredictable But when it comes to the big challenges facing the world whether on European security the future of democracy migration trade or climate the UK remains one of the most influential countries Hunt does not shy away from our weaknesses but argues that they should be considered in perspective and without underestimating our many strengths If we want a world that remains safe and free now is the time for countries with influence to use it wisely

Hybrid Tribunals Aaron Fichtelberg, 2015-06-09 This book examines hybrid tribunals created in Sierra Leone Kosovo Cambodia East Timor and Lebanon in terms of their origins the political and social forces that led to their creation the legal regimes that they used their various institutional structures and the challenges that they faced during their operations Through this study the author looks at both their successes and their shortcomings and presents recommendations for the formation of future hybrid tribunals Hybrid tribunals are a form of the international justice where the judicial responsibility is shared between the international community and the local state where they function These tribunals represent an important bridge between traditional international courts like the International Criminal Court ICC the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia ICTY the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda ICTR and various local justice systems Because hybrid tribunals are developed in response to large scale atrocities these courts are properly considered part of the international criminal justice system This feature gives hybrid tribunals the accountability and legitimacy often lost in local justice systems however by including regional courtroom procedures and personnel they are integrated into the local justice system in a way that allows a society to deal with its criminals on its own terms at least in part This unique volume combines historical and legal analyses of these hybrid tribunals placing them within a larger historical political and legal context It will be of interest to researchers in Criminal Justice International Studies International Law and related fields

Britain's Most Notorious Hangmen Stephen Wade,2009-07-16 A breathtaking history of Britain s executioners from the seventeenth court of King Charles II to the UK s last official hangman of the twentieth century In 1663 Jack Ketch delighted in his profession and gained notoriety not only because of those he executed dukes and lords but for how often he botched the job Centuries later in 1965 after nearly six hundred trips to the gallows Albert Pierrepoint retired as Britain s longest running executioner Between them are three hundred years in a fascinating history of crime and the turn off men who handled the penalties many of them criminals themselves doing the grim work to save their own necks Britain s Most Notorious Hangmen tells the stories of the men who plied their deadly trade at Tyburn tree or at the scaffolds in the prison yards across the country including such notable neck stretchers as Throttlor Smith and the celebrated James Billington But true crime historian Stephen Wade explores the lives and crimes of many of the infamous killers that were hanged as well He also sheds light on the changing social norms of the country and the moral dilemmas that arose for hangmen tasked with performing what was once considered the most crowd pleasing free entertainment ever offered to the public Treat or Trick? Halloween in a Globalising World Malcolm Foley,Hugh O'Donnell,2008-12-18 In 1999 the French bishops condemned the celebration of Halloween in France In 2003 the Moscow Department of Education recommended the banning of Halloween celebrations in all educational institutions under its control In 2008 a group of Catalan intellectuals launched an internet petition against the Halloween celebrations organised by the Port Aventura theme park arguing that they were detrimental to long standing Catalan traditions associated with 31 October In the meantime children and young people all over Europe and increasingly adults are energetically adopting and adapting the American version of Halloween as a source of fun community building and general revelry So are we all being tricked by rampant cultural imperialism or responding creatively to the arrival of Halloween as a welcome onset of winter treat This book which arose out of the first ever conference on the topic of Halloween held in Glasgow Scotland on 31 October 2006 brings together a series of studies examining the phenomenon of Halloween from a wide range of perspectives its origins the ways in which it is now and has been in the past celebrated in the British Isles its spectacular arrival in both Eastern and Western Europe over the last two decades its links with tourism and its multifaceted presence in the media What emerges is a phenomenon of astonishing complexity characterised by multiple meanings and intense battles over ownership
