Concept and Controversy W. W. Rostow, 2010-01-01 The noted economist and former National Security Advisor shares lessons learned from decades of national policymaking in this insightful memoir A trusted advisor to Presidents Eisenhower Kennedy and Johnson and one of America's leading professors of economic history W W Rostow helped shape the intellectual debate and governmental policies on major economic political and military issues from World War II to the dawn of the twenty first century In this thought provoking memoir Rostow discusses his analysis of and involvement with eleven key policy problems In the process he demonstrates how ideas flow into concrete action and how actions taken or not taken in the short term actually determine the long run that we call the future Rostow examines such varied issues as using airpower in 1940s Europe early attempts to end the Cold War the economic revival of Korea attempts to control inflation in the 1960s the Vietnam War and the challenges posed by declining population in the twenty first century In discussing these and other issues Rostow builds a compelling case for including long term forces in the making of current policy He concludes his memoir with provocative reflections on the twentieth and twenty first centuries and on how individual actors shape history

Politics and Jobs Margaret Weir, 2021-03-09 Americans claim a strong attachment to the work ethic and regularly profess support for government policies to promote employment Why then have employment policies gained only a tenuous foothold in the United States To answer this question Margaret Weir highlights two related elements the power of ideas in policymaking and

Sheilagh Ogilvie,2025-02-18 How human institutions markets states communities religions guilds and families have helped both to control and to exacerbate epidemics throughout history How do societies tackle epidemic disease In Controlling Contagion Sheilagh Ogilvie answers this question by exploring seven centuries of pandemics from the Black Death to Covid 19 For most of history infectious diseases have killed many more people than famine or war and in 2019 they still caused one death in four Today we deal with epidemics more successfully than our ancestors managed plague smallpox cholera or influenza But we use many of the same approaches Long before scientific medicine human societies coordinated and innovated in response to biological shocks sometimes well sometimes badly Ogilvie uses historical epidemics to analyse how human societies deal with externalities situations where my action creates costs or benefits for others beyond those that I myself incur Social institutions markets states communities religions guilds and families help us manage the negative externalities of contagion and the positive externalities of social distancing sanitation and immunization Ogilvie shows how each institution enables us to coordinate innovate and inspire each other to limit contagion But each institution also has weaknesses that can make things worse Markets shut down voluntarily during every epidemic in history but they also brought people together spreading contagion States mandated quarantines sanitation and immunization but they also waged war and censored information exacerbating epidemics Religions admonished us to avoid infecting our neighbours but they also preached against science and medical innovations What decided the outcome Ogilvie argues was a temperate state an adaptable market and a strong civil society where a diversity of institutions played to their own strengths and checked each other s flaws
