Strategies for Growing and Enhancing

University-Level Japanese Programs Fumie Kato,2020-01-24 Strategies for Growing and Enhancing University Level Japanese

Programs offers foreign language program managers and directors as well as teachers of less commonly taught languages the insights and proven practical actions they can take to enhance and grow their language programs Using the Japanese program at UNC Charlotte as the primary case study author Fumie Kato provides step by step instructions on how she grew the Japanese program there from 133 students per semester in 2002 to 515 students per semester in 2017 from a program with just one full time professor and one part time faculty member to a faculty of seven full time and three part time members While Japanese is the example used in the book the principles can be applied by anyone managing foreign language less commonly taught language programs who wishes to expand their program and raise their students success rates The book is therefore of interest to instructors coordinators and directors of foreign language education programs throughout the world

A Transdisciplinary Approach to International Teaching Assistants

Stephen Daniel Looney,Shereen Bhalla,2019-09-26 North American universities depend on international teaching assistants ITAs as a substantial part of the teaching labor force which has led to the idea of an ITA problem a deficiency model which is framed as a divergence between ITAs linguistic competence and undergraduates and their parents expectations This outdated positioning of ITAs as deficient diminishes the invaluable role they play within the academy This book argues instead for an approach to ITA which recognizes them as multilingual skilled migrant professionals who participate in and are discursively constructed through various participant frameworks modalities and activities The chapters in this volume offer state of the art research into ITA using a variety of methods and approaches and as such constitute a transdisciplinary perspective which argues for the importance of dialogue between research and practice
