

Excerpts from "Letter from Birmingham Jail"
Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

16 April 1963

My Dear Fellow Clergymen:

While confined here in the Birmingham city jail, I came across your recent statement calling my present activities "unwise and untimely." Seldom do I pause to answer criticism of my work and ideas. If I sought to answer all the criticisms that cross my desk, my secretaries would have little time for anything other than such correspondence in the course of the day, and I would have no time for constructive work. But since I feel that you are men of genuine good will and that your criticisms are sincerely set forth, I want to try to answer your statement in what I hope will be patient and reasonable terms.

I think I should indicate why I am here in Birmingham, since you have been influenced by the view which argues against "outsiders coming in." I have the honor of serving as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, an organization operating in every southern state, with headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. We have some eighty five affiliated organizations across the South, and one of them is the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights. Frequently we share staff, educational and financial resources with our affiliates. Several months ago the affiliate here in Birmingham asked us to be on call to engage in a nonviolent direct action program if such were deemed necessary. We readily consented, and when the hour came we lived up to our promise. So I, along with several members of my staff, am here because I was invited here. I am here because I have organizational ties here.

But more basically, I am in Birmingham because injustice is here. Just as the prophets of the eighth century B.C. left their villages and carried their "thus saith the Lord" far beyond the boundaries of their home towns, and just as the Apostle Paul left his village of Tarsus and carried the gospel of Jesus Christ to the far corners of the Greco Roman world, so am I compelled to carry the gospel of freedom beyond my own home town. Like Paul, I must constantly respond to the Macedonian call for aid.

Moreover, I am cognizant of the interrelatedness of all communities and states. I cannot sit idly by in Atlanta and not be concerned about what happens in Birmingham. Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere. We are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied in a single garment of destiny. Whatever affects one directly, affects all indirectly. Never again can we afford to live with the narrow, provincial "outside agitator" idea. Anyone who lives inside the United States can never be considered an outsider anywhere within its bounds.

You deplore the demonstrations taking place in Birmingham. But your statement, I am sorry to say, fails to express a similar concern for the conditions that brought about the demonstrations. I am sure that none of you would want to rest content with the superficial kind

Extracts of Letters of Major Gen'l Bryan Grimes to his Wife Bryan Grimes,2025-07-11 Reprint of the original first published in 1883 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage A Secret Life Benjamin Weiser,2009-04-24 In August 1972 Ryszard Kuklinski a highly respected colonel in the Polish Army embarked on what would become one of the most extraordinary human intelligence operations of the Cold War Despite the extreme risk to himself and his family he contacted the American Embassy in Bonn and arranged a secret meeting From the very start he made clear that he deplored the Soviet domination of Poland and believed his country was on the wrong side of the Cold War Over the next nine years Kuklinski rose quickly in the Polish defense ministry acting as a liaison to Moscow and helping to prepare for a hot war with the West But he also lived a life of subterfuge of dead drops messages written in invisible ink miniature cameras and secret transmitters In 1981 he gave the CIA the secret plans to crush Solidarity Then about to be discovered he made a dangerous escape with his family to the West He still lives in hiding in America Kuklinski s story is a harrowing personal drama about one man s decision to betray the Communist leadership in order to save the country he loves and the intense debate it spurred over whether he was a traitor or a patriot Through extensive interviews and access to the CIA s secret archive on the case Benjamin Weiser offers an unprecedented and richly detailed look at this secret history of the Cold War

Letters from the peninsula, 1808-1812 William Sir Warre,2025-03-02 In Letters from the Peninsula 1808 1812 William Sir Warre offers readers a compelling collection of personal correspondence that immerses them in the historical context of the Peninsular War Warre s literary style is characterized by its candidness and vivid detail allowing the reader to experience the trials and tribulations faced by soldiers and civilians alike during this tumultuous period His letters convey not only military events but also the emotional landscape of war making them a significant contribution to both historical literature and the genre of epistolary writing which seeks to reveal the intimate thoughts and feelings of those standing at the forefront of history William Sir Warre a British Army officer was keenly aware of the socio political climate in Europe during the early 19th century His first hand experiences in the Iberian Peninsula equipped him with unique insights into the complexities of war nationalism and human resilience The depth of his observations reflects not only his military acumen but also his keen empathy for the individuals involved in the conflict authored under the pressures of adversity and camaraderie This collection is highly recommended for readers interested in military history personal accounts of war or the socio political dynamics of early 19th century Europe Warre s articulate and perceptive letters are invaluable for scholars historians and general readers alike who seek to understand the human condition amidst the chaos of conflict

The Man who Carried the Nation's Grief Carol Rosenhain,2016-11-05 I do feel the loss of my two boys they was my all wrote grieving father Ernest Watts following the death of his two sons Like thousands of Australians during World War I Ernest

Watts received his tragic news through the office known as Base Records This letter was just one in a series of correspondence that lasted the duration of the war and well into the post war period Every letter was answered with patience and courtesy and every response carried the same signature J M Lean The Man who Carried the Nation s Grief describes the extraordinary work of James Lean whose office at times received over 100 letters a day from distressed families The letters selected by author Carol Rosenhain are quoted verbatim in all their rawness the grief anger and disbelief of the writer signifying wounds that would take years to heal while others never would Like those of Ernest Watts the letters often form part of a chain of correspondence that lasted well beyond the Armistice of 1918 For one shattered father the fate of his missing boy would never be resolved his son s final resting place only discovered in Pheasant Wood almost a century after he met his death Given his crucial role as the link between anxious families and the bureaucracy of the AIF James Lean s remarkable work is a surprising omission from the vast body of World War I literature Carol Rosenhain s book rectifies this omission with a portrait of Lean himself and the grim task at which he excelled This is a book that describes the impact of war on families in all its devastating reality
