Pevsner,2002-01-01 Exeter Cathedral is but the crowning glory of Devon s wealth of medieval churches replete with sumptuous fittings and monuments The county s peak of prosperity from the late Middle Ages to the seventeenth century is reflected too in its castles its secluded manor houses and its scores of sturdily built farmhouses The delights of Devon s well loved seaside and country towns are explored from the distinctive merchants houses of Totnes and Topsham to the elegant Regency crescents of Teignmouth and Sidmouth The picture is completed by accounts of the creation of the docks at Plymouth industrial relics and the substantial but little known store of Devon s Victorian churches

The Green Man in Medieval England Stephen Miller,2022-05-13 This beautifully illustrated landmark book with more than five dozen specially commissioned original colour photographs compellingly connects the Green Man phenomenon in medieval England to a specific Christian meaning and understanding rather than a mysterious and undefined pagan one The meaning and significance attached to such Green Man depictions would have been apparent to almost all churchgoing medieval folk from the patrons who commissioned them and the stonemasons and woodcarvers who created them to the monks clergy and worshipping community well versed in biblical stories and associated Christian lore and legend that helped to flesh out and illuminate Scripture stories and legends long since forgotten by the majority today The visual narrative contained in the art and craft of medieval churches brought such stories to life in a meaningful way for everyone the literate and illiterate alike Drawing on a wealth of extant examples the book connects Green Man iconography with the Christian legends and hagiographies of Adam the Garden of Eden the Quest of Seth and the various legends of the cross contained in such medieval writings as Jacobus Voragine s The Golden Legend and Honorius of Autun s Imago mundi The author has visited a large sample of medieval cathedrals and parish churches throughout the length and breadth of England in his search of such illustrative evidence and offers a selection of those findings and conclusions here

Art and Religion in Eighteenth-Century Europe Nigel Aston,2009-07-15 Eighteenth century Europe witnessed monumental upheavals in both the Catholic and Protestant faiths and the repercussions rippled down to the churches religious art forms Nigel Aston now chronicles here the intertwining of cultural and institutional turmoil during this pivotal century The sustained popularity of religious art in the face of competition from increasingly prevalent secular artworks lies at the heart of this study Religious art staked out new spaces of display in state institutions palaces and private collections the book shows as well as taking advantage of patronage from monarchs such as Louis XIV and George III who funded religious art in an effort to enhance their monarchical prestige Aston also explores the motivations and exhibition practices of private collectors and analyzes changing Catholic and Protestant attitudes toward art

The book also examines purchases made by corporate patrons such as charity hospitals and religious confraternities and considers what this reveals about the changing religiosity of the era as well. An in depth historical study Art and Religion in Eighteenth Century Europe will be essential for art history and religious studies scholars alike. In Praise of Devon John Lane, 1998 In Praise of Devon is an evocation of the unique character of the county and its people. John Lane eloquently describes Devon's rivers, coastline and moors, its towns, villages and buildings, its beautiful images and objects, traditions and occupations, from Dartmoor to Devonshire dialect, Church Bells to Cream Teas, Honiton Lace to Holy Wells, and gives intimate sketches of the lives and values of twenty Devonians including farmers, a trawlerman, a doctor, a cook, the sculptor Peter Randall Page, potter Clive Bowen and scientist James Lovelock. The text is complemented by 140 colour plates, photographs, engravings and old master paintings of the Devon countryside.

Secret Spaces: Sacred Treasures in England 1066-1320 Lesley Milner, 2024-05-27 The medieval treasure house, consisting of sacristy, vestry and treasure rooms, was the depository for the ecclesiastical treasure belonging to a church: holy vessels, vestments, altar hangings, candlesticks and priceless liturgical books and reliquaries. It was carefully designed to convey the message of its status and function. A book devoted to these medieval museums, which housed such precious materials, is long overdue. Ironically, the interest in the objects that they conserved has often resulted in ecclesiastical treasure being removed to new museums, leaving their former places of protection in need of protection themselves.
