Exiles And Communities Teaching In The Patriarchal Wilderness Feminist Theory:

Exiles and Communities Jo Anne Pagano, 1990 Exiles and Communities Jo Anne Pagano, 1990-01-01 This book is a meditation on the profession of teaching from the perspective of a woman whose intellectual identity as teacher and writer is inseparable from her whole life as a woman Pagano brings the methods and insights of feminist psychoanalytic literary criticism to bear on a reading of her own educational practice in order to reach a transformed understanding of the educational enterprise She raises serious questions How are we implicated in what we know What actions are required by our knowledge Responses to these questions are given with probing analyses of practice ethics gender knowledge and curriculum In Exiles and Communities Teaching in the Patriarchal Wilderness Jo Anne Pagano teaches us how to teach as she sustains identity in transformation and relinquishes neither the world nor other people to thought Engendering

Curriculum History Petra Hendry, 2011-05-20 Disrupting dominant notions of history as linear as inevitable progress and as embedded in the individual this book examines how curriculum history can be re envisioned from a feminist poststructuralist perspective The Center of the Web Delese Wear, 1993-01-01 The Center of the Web examines the complexities of how solitude is perceived by women Each contributor describes how solitude is a dimension of her personal and public life how she defines it if and how she seeks it where she finds it and how it influences her life The voices in the book come from varied vantage points illuminating women s perspectives of solitude with regard to class culture race and sexual identity Some essays are grounded in philosophy literature or psychology others are autobiographical and some confront the seeming dichotomy of solitude on one hand and care connection and responsibility on the other With the contemporary focus on women s experiences grounded in context and connection to others this book presents a perspective often overlooked or unexamined Encyclopedia of Curriculum Studies Craig Kridel, 2010-02-16 The study of curriculum beginning in the early 20th century first served the areas of school administration and teaching and was used to design and develop programs of study The field subsequently expanded and drew upon disciplines from the arts humanities and social sciences to examine larger educational forces and their effects upon the individual society and conceptions of knowledge Curriculum studies now embraces an array of academic scholarship in relation to personal and institutional needs and interests while it also focuses upon a diverse and complex dynamic among educational experiences practices settings actions and theories The Encyclopedia of Curriculum Studies provides a comprehensive introduction to the academic field of curriculum studies for the scholar student teacher and administrator This two volume set serves to inform and to introduce terms events documents biographies and concepts to assist the reader in understanding aspects of this rapidly changing expansive and contested field of study Key Features Displays different perspectives by having authors contribute independent essays on the nature and future of curriculum studies Presents a unique and in depth treatment of the Twenty Sixth Yearbook of the National Society for the Study of Education NSSE a 1927 publication that has taken on legendary dimensions for the field of curriculum studies Contains bibliographic entries which feature specific publications by curriculum leaders that helped to define the field Helps readers to learn unfamiliar terms and concepts to become more comfortable with specialized phrases and to understand the many significant and perplexing concepts and questions that characterize the field Key Themes Biography and Prosopography Concepts and Terms Content Descriptions Influences on Curriculum Studies Inquiry and Research Nature of Curriculum Studies Organizations Schools and Projects Publications Theoretical Perspectives Types of Curricula The Encyclopedia of Curriculum Studies offers the careful reader a surprisingly revealing depiction of the conventions mores and accepted research and writing practices of the field of curriculum studies as it continues to expand and change Availability in print and electronic formats provides students with convenient easy access wherever they may be

Curriculum for Utopia William B. Stanley, 1992-01-01 This book examines the relationship between contemporary forms of critical theory and social reconstructionism as they relate and contribute to the construction of a radical theory of education It illustrates many of the persistent issues problems and goals of radical educational reform including the importance of developing a language of possibility utopian thought and the critical competence necessary to reveal and deconstruct forms of oppression Stanley perceptively and clearly reexamines new challenges posed to various forms of critical pedagogy including reconstructionism by the development of postmodern and poststructuralist theory focusing on the connections and continuities between them

Critical Conversations in Philosophy of Education Wendy Kohli, 2013-09-13 Critical Conversations in Philosophy of Education presents a series of conversations expressing many of the multiple voices that currently constitute the field of philosophy of education Philosophy of education as a discipline has undergone several turns the once marginal perspectives of the various feminisms critical Marxism and poststructuralist postmodernist and cultural theory have gained ground alongside those of Anglo analytic and pragmatic thought Just as Western philosophers in general are coming to terms with the end of philosophy pronouncement implicit in postmodernism so too are philosophers of education faced with similar challenges challenges to long held moral political aesthetic and epistemological commitments The contributors take up these challenges through a dialogical structure expressing differing positions without engaging in destructive critique

Pedagogies of Difference Peter Pericles Trifonas, 2003-12-16 Peter Pericles Trifonas has assembled internationally acclaimed theorists and educational practitioners whose essays explore various constructions representations and uses of difference in educational contexts These essays strive to bridge competing discourses of difference for instance feminist or anti racist pedagogical models to create a more inclusive education that adheres to principles of equity and social justice

Explicating Maxine Greene's Notion of Naming and Becoming: "I Am ... Not Yet" Christine Debelak Neider, 2021-09-06 This volume offers a Naming praxis with which teachers might more closely align with their ethical ideals in the midst of their daily practice and relationships with students Framed ontologically in Maxine Greene's existential phenomenological notion of Becoming the author explicates Greene's Naming as a praxis within her own early teaching experiences through the interpretive methods of currere and teacher lore This study evolves in epistolary conversation with Maxine Greene teacher colleagues and new teachers It demonstrates the possibilities of applying critical reflective and discursive dialogue to the tensions of a teacher s life of practice in order to identify the obstacles to and the opportunities of the Becoming of the teacher and the student s in the educational encounter

Kelly, 2014-04-08 Ursula A. Kelly draws on radical theories of literacy culture identity and pedagogy to frame the culture of pedagogy as it relates to human desire Examples from auto biography classroom practices and popular media provide the means by which the author highlights some of the pedagogical dilemmas facing literacy practices which often work to silence the cultural politics of identity and desire The Post-formal Reader Shirley R. Steinberg, Joe L. Kincheloe, Patricia H. Hinchey, 1999 This volume argues that while twentieth century educational psychology has made important advances a time for reassessment has arrived Recent years have seen the rise of neo Vygotskian analysis and situated cognition within the discipline of cognitive psychology The authors of Post Formal Reader have picked up where these theories leave off to more fully develop the specific connections between the social and the psychological dimensions of learning theory and educational psychology

Creating Spaces and Finding Voices Janet L. Miller, 1990-01-01 This book follows the shared journey of five classroom teachers and a university professor as they together examine the possibilities and dilemmas of collaborative inquiry and teacher empowerment Teachers voices in spite of their similarities and differences still are not heard in the clamor for educational reform nor are they recognized on the national agendas for research on teacher education Miller and her colleagues articulate and question the contexts and assumptions that influence and frame teaching practice as they explore the constraints and the possibilities of defining and thus empowering teachers as teacher researchers Here the multiple and changing voices of teachers are clearly heard and Miller shares their experiences their frustrations their hopes and their issues By grounding these concerns within the particularities of their teaching Miller and her colleagues explore concrete situations in which they challenge and support one another Through these stories of collaborative efforts others are invited to join together in the continuous process of creating those spaces in which all teachers voices may be acknowledged and valued
