Sourcebook of Rehabilitation and Mental Health Practice David P. Moxley, John R. Finch, 2006-04-11 We live in a day and age in which many fields come together to define new ones and out of these newly defined areas come innovative practices and emergent ways of thinking The Sourcebook on Rehabilitation and Mental Health Practice documents one of these new fields one formed by the coalescence of rehabilitative and mental health services and employment Only recently have human service practitioners policy makers and administrators recognized that there is a growing synergy among these areas once separated by great gulfs of differences in culture perspectives and values and technologies It is not happenstance that rehabilitation mental health and employment are becoming increasingly integrated in contemporary human services There is considerable interest in work in contemporary society although different values and perspectives mediate this interest For people with disabilities an interest in work often comes from deep frustration from not having ready access to work and from not having enough of it to facilitate an acceptable quality of life or independent living Some people find work to be a source of problems that negatively affects their functioning They find the workplace stressful and unsupportive or they feel that work exacts too much from them reducing their quality of life and setting into motion numerous negative personal effects Beck 2000 Working Bodies Sharon-Dale Stone,Valorie A. Crooks,2014-06-01 While significant research has been produced in the field of disability studies little attention has been paid to experiences of chronic illness Working Bodies emphasizes the workplace as an important site for understanding such experiences as employment status has an enormous impact on social and economic standing in Canadian society The essays in this collection examine the perspectives of both workers and employers painting a disturbing picture of the challenges that people with chronic illness face in an already demanding labour market The focus on the Canadian workplace allows for an in depth understanding of this context and for meaningful comparisons between populations and across workplace environments Contributors include scholars and practitioners in disability studies health sciences geography occupational therapy sociology and labour relations their expert knowledge ranging from the imperatives of employers to lived experiences of chronic illness to the application of workplace policy By combining research based chapters with personal reflections on work and chronic illness Working Bodies grounds itself in existing scholarship while opening up new avenues of discussion Contributors include Terri Aversa Andrea Black Keri Cameron McMaster University Nicolette Carlan University of Waterloo Vera Chouinard McMaster University Valorie A Crooks Simon Fraser University Julie Devaney Le Ann Dolan Adam Gilgoff Nancy Hutchinson Queen s University Vicki Kristman Lakehead University Terry Krupa Queen s University Rosemary Lysaght Queen s University Margaret Oldfield University of Toronto Michelle Owen University of Winnipeg Melissa Popiel Wendy Porch William S Shaw University of Massachusetts Corinne Stevens Iffath Syed York University Joan Versnel Dalhousie University and Kelly Williams Whitt University of Lethbridge The AIDS Crisis and the Modern Self S. Rinken,2013-04-17 In industrialized countries HIV AIDS is now increasingly perceived as a chronic condition Yet initially before combination therapy became available this pandemic was widely associated with premature or even imminent death Receiving the diagnosis typically led to a dramatic biographical disruption This highly original book turns this basic feature of life with HIV into the vantage point for a fascinating analysis of Western subjectivity Combining a host of empirical observations with the debate on the modern self the author argues that the self construction of people with HIV highlights the precarious yet indispensable status of the self in contemporary Western society Constructing one s biography in terms of self actualization is in fact a manifestation of nihilism it evokes a standard of certainty which on closer examination cannot be sustained Written in a lucid style this unique book will appeal to scholars and students in the fields of sociology social psychology social anthropology social theory and philosophy as well as anybody interested in the relationship between the self and society or the experience of living with HIV AIDS The Story of Sexual Identity Phillip L. Hammack,Bertram J. Cohler,2009-03-06 This book assembles a diverse group of scholars working within a new pathbreaking paradigm of sexual science fusing perspectives from history sociology and psychology The contributors are united in their commitment to the idea of narrative as central to the study of sexual identity offering an analytic approach to social science inquiry on sexual identity that restores the voices of sexual subjects The result is a rich examination of lives in context with an eye toward multiplicity and meaning across the life course Central to the chapters in this volume is the significance of history generation and narrative in the provision of a workable and meaningful configuration of identity Experimental Practice Dimitris Papadopoulos,2018-07-16 In Experimental Practice Dimitris Papadopoulos explores the potential for building new forms of political and social movements through the reconfiguration of the material conditions of existence Rather than targeting existing institutions in demands for social justice Papadopoulos calls for the creation of alternative ontologies of everyday life that would transform the meanings of politics and justice Inextricably linked to technoscience these alterontologies which Papadopoulos examines in a variety of contexts from AIDS activism and the financialization of life to hacker communities and neuroscience form the basis of ways of life that would embrace the more than social interdependence of the human and nonhuman worlds Speaking to a matrix of concerns about politics and justice social movements matter and ontology everyday practice technoscience the production of knowledge and the human and nonhuman Papadopoulos suggests that the development of alterontologies would create more efficacious political and social organizing

Balancing the Secrets of Private Disclosures Sandra Petronio,1999-12-01 This book joins together disclosure privacy and secrecy to pursue a greater understanding of how people are both public and private in their interactions To be social yet autonomous known yet unknown independent yet dependent on others is essential to the communicative world How do people manage these seemingly incongruous goals This book argues that they actively work at balancing simultaneous needs of being both public and private It highlights many different ways that people balance their public needs with their privacy needs underscoring the multidimensional nature of balance The chapters also show that the opposing needs occur within a variety of contexts from health issues such as HIV AIDS to television talk shows Readers will discover that avoiding disclosure is a dominant theme In this way the authors demonstrate how people balance privacy and secrecy by deemphasizing openness Taken as a whole this volume offers a refreshing new look at age old concerns Same Sex Marriages B.
