Surgical Patient Care Juan A. Sanchez, Paul Barach, Julie K. Johnson, Jeffrey P. Jacobs, 2017-05-29. This book focuses exclusively on the surgical patient and on the perioperative environment with its unique socio-technical and cultural issues. It covers preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative processes and decision making and explores both sharp end and latent factors contributing to harm and poor quality outcomes. It is intended to be a resource for all healthcare practitioners that interact with the surgical patient. This book provides a framework for understanding and addressing many of the organizational, technical, and cultural aspects of care to one of the most vulnerable patients in the system: the surgical patient. The first section presents foundational principles of safety science and related social science. The second exposes barriers to achieving optimal surgical outcomes and details the various errors and events that occur in the perioperative environment. The third section contains prescriptive and proactive tools and ways to eliminate errors and harm. The final section focuses on developing continuous quality improvement programs with an emphasis on safety and reliability.

Geriatrics Models of Care Michael L. Malone, Marie Boltz, Jonny Macias Tejada, Heidi White, 2024-05-30. Following the success of the previous edition, the second edition of Geriatrics Models of Care is the definitive resource for systems-based practice improvement for the care of older adults. Several new models of care have been published in the last eight years; new outcomes have emerged to better understand the impact of existing models and with the rise of the Age Friendly Health Systems movement promoting organized efforts to prepare our health care settings for older individuals is of more importance than ever. The second edition is organized based on the practice setting along a continuum of care: hospital transitions from hospital to home, outpatient settings and the emergency department. This book also highlights long term care models which is an important part of the continuum of care for older Americans. Further, this edition features models that address the needs of vulnerable populations. This new section will describe a spectrum of programs for older adults who have Alzheimer's disease or Parkinson's disease. Other models describe best practices for older adults undergoing surgery or those who want to remain functioning independently in their home. A defining feature of this book is that each chapter follows a standard template: 1 the challenge which led to the model, 2 the patient population served, 3 core components of the intervention, 4 the role of interdisciplinary health professionals, 5 evidence to support the intervention, 6 lessons learned in the implementation and dissemination of the model, 7 implications for family caregivers and communities, particularly underserved and diverse communities, and 8 how each model will provide care across the continuum during an entire episode of care. In addition, each chapter features a call out box with practical tips for implementing the model.

Leading Evidence Informed Value Improvement in Healthcare John Ovretveit, 2009-10-04

Improvement in healthcare has not delivered on its promise outside of a few examples. This is because it has not sufficiently been linked to resources; thus, argues this book, Value improvement focuses on changes which raise quality and lower costs. This is effective because it unites professions, patients, payers and purchasers in a common cause and uses tested solutions and methods. Value improvement works with the realities of resources and politics and with knowledge of what is effective in different situations. The purpose of healthcare is to reduce avoidable suffering. This includes the suffering unknowingly caused by a service when we do not use an effective treatment or make an error. These events are also waste and they have a financial cost. The good news is that we now have more knowledge about these adverse or sub-optimal events and about effective solutions. We now know these organisational events are not inevitable and we can prevent them. We are also beginning to discover that many if prevented will reduce the costs of healthcare. Improving diagnosis and prescribing reduces both avoidable suffering and higher costs, as do hygiene strategies and changes to ensure professionals pass on correct information about patients to the next caregiver. We are entering an exciting time in healthcare equivalent to earlier periods of medical discoveries. The discoveries of improvement and implementation science in organisations are now being linked to the discoveries about the costs and savings of quality and safety changes. This knowledge is beginning to be used by clinicians, management and purchasers and alliances are forming to bring in a new era of quality and safety improvement. The aim of this book is to show how ordinary leaders can combine improvement knowledge with resource knowledge to reduce suffering and the costs of healthcare. It does not assume good information technology or special resources to help improvement. It recognises that our colleagues may not want to spend time on this work and often do not do what they are asked to do It recognises some improvements are not value improvements they do not add value for patients and reduce costs Where improvements do both we may find that the financing system penalises the provider for making the change or we cannot convert the saved resources into lower costs or higher income Thus it is also about both short A term and long A term value improvements It is about how managers and other leaders find and awaken energy in themselves to make improvement and bring this energy to life in the people they work with How we channel this energy in effective ways and enable others to make improvement It is about tomorrow and next week and about where the real innovation creativity and inspiration happens in the routine but changing short A staffed semiA chaos of most health services We are not powerless and can choose not to accept failings of the health system as being outside of our influence A few others have shown what can be achieved when we join in a common cause and use these effective methods The challenge is for us is to do this in our local service and to connect our services Research
