Framing Dropouts:

Framing Dropouts Michelle Fine, 1991-03-05 I think this is the most important work I have read in over a decade on the sociology and politics of school dropouts Fine combines a narrative structure with a rigorous theoretical discourse that allows the reader to both hear the voices of those involved in the dropout situation as well as to have the opportunity to reflect critically on the ideological and material forces that structure the dropout issue as a social problem I am convinced that it will be a major influence in the field and will establish a new theoretical standard for inquiry into the area of school dropouts Henry A Giroux Professor and Renown Scholar in Residence Department of Educational Leadership Miami University As a critical ethnography this manuscript is thoughtful compassionate and compelling Fine is able to document the braiding of race class gender in sophisticated ways and this is one of the text s greatest strengths The link between those who drop out and the restriction of critique is powerfully achieved Fine has successfully re presented the complexities of urban education She should be applauded for her integration of black and feminist theorists I believe this text is pioneering It opens the literature on adolescents placed at risk to include contexts previously ignored This should be required reading for all school personnel future teachers and those associated with educational contexts Deborah P Britzman Department of Education State University of New York Binghamton What Fine does is show us in depth the reality of the situation we often wish would just go away We are forced to confront what pain is engendered by our public institutions and consider how we might take up the challenge to do something about it Roger I Simon Ontario Institute for Studies in Education

Just Research in Contentious Times Michelle Fine, 2018 In this intensely powerful and personal new text Michelle Fine widens the methodological imagination for students educators scholars and researchers interested in crafting research with communities Fine shares her struggles over the course of 30 years to translate research into policy and practice that can enhance the human condition and create a more just world Animated by the presence of W E B DuBois Gloria Anzald a Maxine Greene and Audre Lorde the book examines a wide array of critical participatory action research PAR projects involving school pushouts Muslim American youth queer youth of color women in prison and children navigating under resourced schools Throughout Fine assists readers as they consider sensitive decisions about epistemology ethics politics and methods critical approaches to analysis and interpretation and participatory strategies for policy development and organizing Just Research in Contentious Times is an invaluable guide for creating successful participatory action research projects in times of inequity and uncertainty Book Features Reviews the theoretical and historical foundations of critical participatory research Addresses why how with whom and for whom research is designed Offers case studies of critical PAR projects with youth of color Muslim American youth indigenous and refugee activists and LGBTQ youth of color Integrates critical race feminist postcolonial and queer studies

Codes and Contradictions Jeanne Drysdale Weiler, 2012-02-01 This book examines the variations in the constitution of female gender in a group of young working class women of African American Latina U S

Puerto Rican and white European backgrounds who are enrolled in an alternative high school for students at risk of academic failure It then analyzes the school processes that impact on the shaping of the young women s gender identities and provides evidence that female gender identity among various racial or ethnic backgrounds can be very dissimilar It also illustrates the enormous power of schools to re orient young women who have previous experiences of academic failure to view education as crucial to attaining their future goals

Altenbaugh, David E. Engel, Don T. Martin, 2013-07-23 The official school drop out figure in the US in recent years has been 25 per cent of the cohort Estimates from large cities are often double these rates and in some areas 60 per cent or worse This text focuses on this problem in US schools but from an unusual perspective It is a study gained from in depth interviews of 100 stop outs that is those who dropped out but then decided to return to school Four basic questions are posed by this text who drops out why did they drop out what caused them to return and what intervention policies can be formulated to prevent students dropping out in the first place The answers provided by this text for the last question are intended to make it of particular interest to school administrators Changing Politics of Education Michael Fabricant, Michelle Fine, 2015-11-17 The authors persuasively argue that the present cascade of reforms to public education is a consequence of a larger intention to shrink government The startling result is that more of public education's assets and resources are moving to the private sector and to the prison industrial complex Drawing on various forms of evidence structural economic narrative and youth generated participatory research the authors reveal new structures and circuits of dispossession and privilege that amount to a clear failure of present policy Policymaking is at war with the interests of the vast majority of citizens and especially with urban youth of color In the final chapter the authors explore democratic principles and offer examples essential to mobilizing in solidarity with educators youth communities labor and allied social movements the kind of power necessary to contest the present direction of public education reform
