In The Web:

The Archived Web Niels Brügger, 2018-11-27 An original methodological framework for approaching the archived web both as a source and as an object of study in its own right As life continues to move online the web becomes increasingly important as a source for understanding the past But historians have yet to formulate a methodology for approaching the archived web as a source of study How should the history of the present be written In this book Niels Brügger offers an original methodological framework for approaching the web of the past both as a source and as an object of study in its own right While many studies of the web focus solely on its use and users Brügger approaches the archived web as a semiotic textual system in order to offer the first book length treatment of its scholarly use While the various forms of the archived web can challenge researchers interactions with it they also present a range of possibilities for interpretation The Archived Web identifies characteristics of the online web that are significant now for scholars investigates how the online web became the archived web and explores how the particular digitality of the archived web can affect a historian's research process Brügger offers suggestions for how to translate traditional historiographic methods for the study of the archived web focusing on provenance creating an overview of the archived material evaluating versions and citing the material The Archived Web lays the foundations for doing web history in the digital age offering important and timely guidance for today's media scholars and tomorrow's historians

New Literary Hybrids in the Age of Multimedia Expression Marcel Cornis-Pope,2014-11-15 Begun in 2010 as part of the Histories of Literatures in European Languages series sponsored by the International Comparative Literature Association the current project on New Literary Hybrids in the Age of Multimedia Expression recognizes the global shift toward the visual and the virtual in all areas of textuality the printed verbal text is increasingly joined with the visual often electronic text This shift has opened up new domains of human achievement in art and culture The international roster of 24 contributors to this volume pursue a broad range of issues under four sets of questions that allow a larger conversation to emerge both inside the volume s sections and between them The four sections cover 1 Multimedia Productions in Theoretical and Historical Perspective 2 Regional and Intercultural Projects 3 Forms and Genres and 4 Readers and Rewriters in Multimedia Environments The essays included in this volume are examples of the kinds of projects and inquiries that have become possible at the interface between literature and other media new and old They emphasize the extent to which hypertextual multimedia and virtual reality technologies have enhanced the sociality of reading and writing enabling more people to interact than ever before At the same time however they warn that as long as these technologies are used to reinforce old habits of reading writing they will deliver modest results One of the major tasks pursued by the contributors to this volume is to integrate literature in the global informational environment where it can function as an imaginative partner teaching its interpretive competencies to other components of the cultural landscape

Internet Marketing Research: Theory and Practice Lee, Ook, 2000-07-01 Internet marketing has become an important issue for many businesses around the world which have any form of commercial presence on the net It is often perceived that doing business on the Internet mostly requires competency in the technology area However as many dot com companies are failing due to lack of revenue generation which could be induced by the inadequate marketing and marketing research practitioners and scholars of e commerce are keen to obtain a better understanding of the whole phenomenon of Internet marketing To understand what s working as an Internet marketing strategy or tactic one needs to conduct marketing research using rigorous statistical methodology The Oxford Handbook of Internet Studies William H. Dutton, 2013-01-10 Internet Studies has been one of the most dynamic and rapidly expanding interdisciplinary fields to emerge over the last decade The Oxford Handbook of Internet Studies has been designed to provide a valuable resource for academics and students in this area bringing together leading scholarly perspectives on how the Internet has been studied and how the research agenda should be pursued in the future The Handbook aims to focus on Internet Studies as an emerging field each chapter seeking to provide a synthesis and critical assessment of the research in a particular area Topics covered include social perspectives on the technology of the Internet its role in everyday life and work implications for communication power and influence and the governance and regulation of the Internet The Handbook is a landmark in this new interdisciplinary field not only helping to strengthen research on the key questions but also shape research policy and practice across many disciplines that are finding the Internet and its political economic cultural and other societal implications increasingly central to their own key areas of inquiry Methods, Methodologies, and Perspectives in the Humanities and Social Sciences With Particular Reference to Islamic Studies: A Critical Rationalist Interpretation Ali Paya, 2021-01-01 This book presents the first comprehensive introduction to methods and methodologies in the humanities and social sciences in general and Islamic Studies in particular from a critical rationalist point of view The book aims to be a self sufficient theoretical and practical guide to the topics that it introduces It contains a large selection of fully worked out review activities and review questions plus topics for further discussion which are devised to assist readers to better understand the issues which are discussed in the book Last but not least all efforts have been made to make sure that most if not all of the reading materials which are recommended in the book are not only of the highest quality but also freely available on the internet
